This appendix provides the full-scale survey facsimile for the 2020/22 Beginning Postsecondary Students Longitudinal Study (BPS:20/22).

The goal of the BPS:20/22 full-scale survey is to follow up with students whose first postsecondary enrollment after high school occurred during the 2019-2020 academic year. The BPS:20/22 full-scale survey represents the first follow-up three years after students first started their postsecondary education. In the survey, respondents will provide an update of their enrollment and employment history, as well as financial aid, income and expenses, and demographic information, during the 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 academic years. Given the differences in data collection timing between the full-scale and field test survey, the full-scale survey will collect two years of education and employment experiences, rather than the one year of interest in the field test. The time frame references are updated in the full-scale survey wording and are not indicated as substantive revisions to survey content in the table below.

Most question wording for the BPS:20/22 full-scale survey remains unchanged from how it was administered in the field test. However, some modifications of wording were based on results from BPS:20/22 Field Test Survey (OMB #1850-0631 v.18) or recommendations from the Technical Review Panel, noted in table 1. Revisions to the survey are intended to reflect current research goals and improve data quality.

Table 1 lists all forms in the instrument and provides a summary of specific changes. The "Change" column indicates whether BPS:20/22 full-scale survey forms have changed from the field test survey. Revised forms ("R"), in purple font, have been modified from their previous version. Added forms ("A"), in green font, are new to the NPSAS suite of postsecondary studies, and will be fielded for the first time in the BPS:20/22 full-scale survey. Dropped forms ("D"), in red font, are forms administered in the field test that are removed from BPS:20/22 full-scale survey. The "Rationale" column explains how and why specific content changed.

The last column in table 1 identifies forms that will be included in the BPS:20/22 full-scale abbreviated survey ("Abbreviated form" column). A notation of "(ABBREV)" has been added next to these forms in the facsimile.

Any added or revised forms and forms to be included in the abbreviated survey are listed in the hyperlinked table of contents on page E-11.

Degrees:
An associate's degree normally requires at least 2, but less than 4 years, of full-time equivalent college work.
A bachelor's degree is usually awarded by a 4-year college or university and usually requires at least 4 years of full-time, college level work.
A master's degree usually requires at least 2 years of full-time graduate level work and may require a thesis or a practicum.
A doctoral degree - research/scholarship is a PhD or other doctoral degree that requires advanced work beyond the master's level, including the preparation and defense of a dissertation based on original research, or the planning and execution of an original project demonstrating substantial artistic or scholarly achievement. Some examples of this type of degree may include EdD, DMA, DBA, DSc, DA, or DM, and others, as designated by the awarding institution.
A doctoral degree - professional practice is a doctoral degree that is conferred upon completion of a program providing the knowledge and skills for the recognition, credential, or license required for professional practice. The degree is awarded after a period of study such that the total time to the degree, including both pre-professional and professional preparation, equals at least 6 full-time equivalent academic years. Some of these degrees include: chiropractic (DC or DCM); dentistry (DDS or DMD); law (LLB or JD); medicine (MD); optometry (OD), osteopathic medicine (DO); pharmacy (PharmD); podiatry (DPM, PodD, DP); or veterinary medicine (DVM), and others, as designated by the awarding institution.
A doctoral degree - other is a doctoral degree that does not meet the definition of a doctoral degree-research/scholarship or a doctoral degree-professional practice.
Certificates and diplomas:
Undergraduate certificates or diplomas usually take less than 2 years to complete and are usually designed to equip people with the skills needed for direct entry to employment or to earn a license such as a cosmetology license. Other examples include certificates in administrative support, computer programming, and medical records.
A post-baccalaureate certificate provides students who already hold a bachelor's degree with new or additional training in an area of specialization. Certificates typically require fewer course hours than do master's or doctoral degrees, and do not require a thesis or dissertation. Examples of this include certificates in accounting, computer science, and human resource management.

A post-master's certificate usually requires completion of 24 semester credit hours beyond the master's degree but does not meet the requirements of academic degrees at the doctoral level.
Not enrolled for a degree or certificate:
Undergraduate level classes means taking courses at the undergraduate level but not formally enrolling in a degree or certificate program of any sort.
Graduate level classes are for students who already hold an undergraduate degree or certificate and who are enrolled in graduate level courses beyond a bachelor's degree, but who are not formally enrolled in a graduate degree program.

The following descriptions use examples of standard full-time course loads which may vary by school.

Students who are enrolled as a full-time student typically carry at least the following:

- 12 semester or quarter hours per term
- 24 semester hours or 36 quarter hours per academic year for an educational program using credit hours for a program of less than one academic year; or
- 24 clock hours per week for an educational program using clock hours

Students who are enrolled as a part-time student typically carry the following:

- Less than 12 semester or quarter hours per term
- Less than 24 semester hours or less than 36 quarter hours per academic year for an educational program using credit hours for a program of less than one academic year; or
- Less than 24 clock hours per week for an educational program using clock hours

Select mix of full-time and part-time only if your full-time or part-time status differed across the semester(s) or term(s) within the academic year. For example, if you were full-time for fall 2020, but were part-time for spring 2021, you would be a mix of full-time and part-time student.

Help Text:
Undergraduate level classes means taking courses at the undergraduate level but not formally enrolling in a degree or certificate program of any sort.
Undergraduate certificates or diplomas usually take less than 2 years to complete and are usually designed to equip people with the skills needed for direct entry to employment or to earn a license such as a cosmetology license. Other examples include certificates in administrative support, computer programming, and medical records.
An associate's degree normally requires at least 2, but less than 4 years, of full-time equivalent college work.

A bachelor's degree is usually awarded by a 4-year college or university and usually requires at least 4 years of full-time, college level work.
Graduate level classes are for students who already hold an undergraduate degree or certificate and who are enrolled in graduate level courses beyond a bachelor's degree, but who are not formally enrolled in a graduate degree program.
A post-baccalaureate certificate provides students who already hold a bachelor's degree with new or additional training in an area of specialization. Certificates typically require fewer course hours than do master's or doctoral degrees, and do not require a thesis or dissertation. Examples of this include certificates in accounting, computer science, and human resource management.
A master's degree usually requires at least 2 years of full-time graduate level work and may require a thesis or a practicum.
A post-master's certificate usually requires completion of 24 semester credit hours beyond the master's degree but does not meet the requirements of academic degrees at the doctoral level.

A doctoral degree - research/scholarship is a PhD or other doctoral degree that requires advanced work beyond the master's level, including the preparation and defense of a dissertation based on original research, or the planning and execution of an original project demonstrating substantial artistic or scholarly achievement. Some examples of this type of degree may include EdD, DMA, DBA, DSc, DA, or DM, and others, as designated by the awarding institution.

A doctoral degree - professional practice is a doctoral degree that is conferred upon completion of a program providing the knowledge and skills for the recognition, credential, or license required for professional practice. The degree is awarded after a period of study such that the total time to the degree, including both pre-professional and professional preparation, equals at least 6 full-time equivalent academic years. Some of these degrees include: chiropractic (DC or DCM); dentistry (DDS or DMD); law (LLB or JD); medicine (MD); optometry (OD), osteopathic medicine (DO); pharmacy (PharmD); podiatry (DPM, PodD, DP); or veterinary medicine (DVM), and others, as designated by the awarding institution.

A doctoral degree - other is a doctoral degree that does not meet the definition of a doctoral degree-research/scholarship or a doctoral degree-professional practice.

The following descriptions use examples of standard full-time course loads which may vary by school.
Students who are enrolled as a full-time student typically carry at least the following:

- 12 semester or quarter hours per term
- 24 semester hours or 36 quarter hours per academic year for an educational program using credit hours for a program of less than one academic year; or
- 24 clock hours per week for an educational program using clock hours

Students who are enrolled as a part-time student typically carry the following:

○ Undergraduate level courses, no undergraduate degree or certificate expected

○ Undergraduate certificate or diploma (usually less than 2 years), including certificates leading to a license (example: cosmetology)

○ Associate's degree (usually a 2-year degree)

○ Bachelor's degree (usually a 4-year degree)

○ Graduate level courses, no graduate degree or certificate expected

○ Post-baccalaureate certificate

○ Master's degree

○ Post-master's certificate

○ Professional doctoral degree (including: chiropractic, dentistry, law, medicine, etc.)

○ Doctoral degree, research/scholarship (including: PhD, EdD, etc.)

Help Text:
Indicate the highest level of education that you ever expect to complete at any school. If you do not plan to pursue any education beyond what you are currently working on, indicate your current degree, certificate, or classes. Undergraduate level classes means taking courses at the undergraduate level but not formally enrolling in a degree or certificate program of any sort. Undergraduate certificates or diplomas usually take less than 2 years to complete and are usually designed to equip people with the skills needed for direct entry to employment or to earn a license such as a cosmetology license. Other examples include certificates in administrative support, computer programming, and medical records.

An associate's degree normally requires at least 2, but less than 4 years, of full-time equivalent college work.

A bachelor's degree is usually awarded by a 4-year college or university and usually requires at least 4 years of full-time, college level work.
Graduate level classes are for students who already hold an undergraduate degree or certificate and who are enrolled in graduate level courses beyond a bachelor's degree, but who are not formally enrolled in a graduate degree program.
A post-baccalaureate certificate provides students who already hold a bachelor's degree with new or additional training in an area of specialization. Certificates typically require fewer course hours than do master's or doctoral degrees, and do not require a thesis or dissertation. Examples of this include certificates in accounting, computer science, and human resource management.
A master's degree usually requires at least 2 years of full-time graduate level work and may require a thesis or a practicum.
A post-master's certificate usually requires completion of 24 semester credit hours beyond the master's degree but does not meet the requirements of academic degrees at the doctoral level.

A doctoral degree - research/scholarship is a PhD or other doctoral degree that requires advanced work beyond the master's level, including the preparation and defense of a dissertation based on original research, or the planning and execution of an original project demonstrating substantial artistic or scholarly achievement. Some examples of this type of degree may include EdD, DMA, DBA, DSc, DA, or DM, and others, as designated by the awarding institution.

A doctoral degree - professional practice is a doctoral degree that is conferred upon completion of a program providing the knowledge and skills for the recognition, credential, or license required for professional practice. The degree is awarded after a period of study such that the total time to the degree, including both pre-professional and professional preparation, equals at least 6 full-time equivalent academic years. Some of these degrees include: chiropractic (DC or DCM); dentistry (DDS or DMD); law (LLB or JD); medicine (MD); optometry (OD), osteopathic medicine (DO); pharmacy (PharmD); podiatry (DPM, PodD, DP); or veterinary medicine (DVM), and others, as designated by the awarding institution.

A doctoral degree - other is a doctoral degree that does not meet the definition of a doctoral degree-research/scholarship or a doctoral degree-professional practice.

The next few questions will ask about any student loans you have taken out for your education since high school. There are two main types of loans we are interested in:

Federal student loans, such as subsidized and unsubsidized Direct Loans (also known as Stafford Loans), are from the federal government.

Private student loans are borrowed from a private lender, such as a bank or sometimes a state, usually require a co-signer, and have market interest rates based on credit history.

If you are currently repaying any private student loans, even if you are still in your deferment period, please answer Yes.

- Deferred or delayed loan payments are put off until a later date.
- Deferment of private loans is on a loan-by-loan basis and often varies among lenders.
- In order to defer private loan payments, generally, the borrower must apply online on the lender's website, over the telephone, via fax or through postal mail.
- The application may also require supporting documentation, such as a copy of your paycheck stub, unemployment compensation statement, disability award letter or a certified letter from your school verifying your enrollment status.

Help Text:
Answer Yes if you or anyone in your family household received any of the following benefits at any time during 2019 or 2020:

Medicaid provides health coverage to eligible low-income adults, children, pregnant women, elderly adults, and people with disabilities. Medicaid is administered by states according to federal requirements and is funded jointly by states and the federal government.

The Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program pays benefits to disabled adults and children who have limited income and resources. It is designed to help aged, blind, and disabled people who have little or no income and provides cash to meet basic needs for food, clothing, and shelter.

The federal Food Stamp Program was renamed Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). Some state program names may vary. States typically issue SNAP benefits through electronic benefit transfer (EBT) cards that are used to purchase eligible food in authorized retail food stores, farmers' markets, etc. EBT cards work like debit cards.

TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families) payments provide financial assistance to families with limited resources. The assistance is time-limited (typically a maximum of 60 months). TANF may have a different name in your parents' state.

A Free and Reduced Price School Lunch program, also known as the National School Lunch Program (NSLP), is a federally assisted meal program operating in public and nonprofit private schools and residential child care institutions. It provides nutritionally balanced, low-cost or free lunches to children each school day. Household size and family income are used to determine eligibility for free or reduced price school lunch programs.

WIC (the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children) is an assistance program for low-income pregnant women or new mothers, infants, and children up to age 5 who are at nutritional risk. WIC provides nutrition education, supplemental foods, health screenings, and health care referrals.

Help Text:
This question will help us better understand the experiences of people of all gender identities.

Gender includes gender identity and gender expression. Gender identity means one's inner sense of one's own gender, which may or may not match the sex assigned at birth. Different people choose to express their gender identity differently. For some, gender may be expressed through, for example, dress, grooming, mannerisms, speech patterns, and social interactions. Gender expression usually ranges between masculine and feminine, and some transgender people express their gender consistent with how they identify internally, rather than in accordance with the sex they were assigned at birth.

Transgender: When a person's birth sex and gender do not match, they might think of themselves as transgender.

Gender queer or gender nonconforming: These are terms used to identify people whose gender may not conform to the sex they were assigned at birth. Often these terms may be used by people who identify their gender as something other than "male" or "female." Their gender may fall somewhere between male and female or may fall outside the traditional male/female gender distinctions.

Títulos:
Un grado asociado generalmente requiere al menos 2 años pero menos de 4 años de estudios universitarios equivalentes a tiempo completo.

Un título de bachillerato usualmente lo otorga una universidad o college de 4 años y generalmente requiere por lo menos 4 años de estudios a tiempo completo a nivel universitario.

Una maestría requiere usualmente por lo menos 2 años de estudios graduados a tiempo completo y puede requerir una tesis o una práctica.

Un doctorado - investigación/erudición es un PhD u otro título de doctorado que requiere trabajo avanzado después del nivel de maestría, incluyendo la preparación y defensa de una tesis doctoral basada en un trabajo de investigación original o el planeamiento y ejecución de un proyecto original que demuestra un logro artístico o académico considerable. Algunos ejemplos de este tipo de título pueden incluir EdD, DMA, DBA, DSc,

DA o DM, y otros, como sea que los designe la institución que los otorga.

Un doctorado en práctica profesional es un doctorado que se da al completarse un programa que proporciona el conocimiento y las destrezas para el reconocimiento, la credencial o la licencia requerida para la práctica profesional. El título se otorga después de un periodo de estudio de tal manera que el tiempo total para conseguir el título, incluyendo tanto la preparación pre-profesional así como la profesional, es igual a un equivalente de por lo menos 6 años académicos a tiempo completo. Algunos de estos títulos incluyen: quiropráctica (DC o DCM), odontología (DDS o DMD), Leyes (LLB o JD), medicina (MD), optometría (OD), medicina osteopática (DO), farmacia (PharmD), podiatría (DPM, PodD, DP) o medicina veterinaria (DVM), y otros, como sea que los designe la institución que los otorga.

Un doctorado - otro es un título de doctor que no reúne los criterios de la definición de doctorado-investigación/erudición ni doctorado en práctica profesional.

Certificados y Diplomas:
Los certificados o diplomas subgraduados generalmente toman menos de dos años en completarse y usualmente están diseñados para equipar a las personas con las destrezas necesarias para ingresar directamente a empleos o para obtener una licencia, como por ejemplo de cosmetología. Otros ejemplos incluyen certificados en asistencia administrativa, programación en computación y técnico de registros médicos.

Un certificado de post bachillerato provee un entrenamiento nuevo y adicional en un área de especialización a los estudiantes que ya tienen un bachillerato. Los certificados requieren normalmente menos horas de cursos que los títulos de maestría o doctorado y no requieren una tesis o disertación. Ejemplos de esto incluyen los certificados en contabilidad, ciencias de computadoras y administración de recursos humanos.

No matriculado(a) para un título o certificado:
Clases a nivel subgraduado significa tomar cursos a nivel de estudios subgraduados pero sin estar formalmente matriculado(a) en un programa que otorga título o certificado de cualquier tipo.

Clases a nivel graduado son para los estudiantes que ya tienen un título o certificado subgraduado y que están matriculados en cursos a nivel graduado más allá de un bachillerato, pero que no están formalmente matriculados en un programa graduado.

Un diploma de escuela superior se otorga a los estudiantes después de que éstos completan exitosamente los cursos requeridos por una escuela superior. Esta categoría también incluye los diplomas de escuela superior para adultos.

Help Text:
Clases a nivel subgraduado significa tomar cursos a nivel de estudios subgraduados, pero sin estar formalmente matriculado(a) en un programa que otorga título o certificado de cualquier tipo.

Los certificados o diplomas subgraduados generalmente toman menos de 2 años en completarse y usualmente están diseñados para equipar a las personas con las destrezas necesarias para ingresar directamente a empleos o para obtener una licencia, como por ejemplo de cosmetología. Otros ejemplos incluyen certificados en asistencia administrativa, programación en computación y técnico de registros médicos.

Un grado asociado generalmente requiere al menos 2 años, pero menos de 4 años de estudios universitarios equivalentes a tiempo completo.

Un título de bachillerato usualmente lo otorga una universidad o college de 4 años y generalmente requiere por lo menos 4 años de estudios a tiempo completo a nivel universitario.

Clases a nivel graduado son para los estudiantes que ya tienen un título o certificado subgraduado y que están matriculados en cursos a nivel graduado más allá de un bachillerato, pero que no están formalmente matriculados en un programa graduado.

Un certificado de post-bachillerato provee un entrenamiento nuevo y adicional en un área de especialización a los estudiantes que ya tienen un bachillerato. Los certificados requieren normalmente menos horas de cursos que los títulos de maestría o doctorado y no requieren una tesis o disertación. Ejemplos de esto incluyen los certificados en contabilidad, ciencias de computadoras y administración de recursos humanos.

Una Título de maestría requiere usualmente por lo menos 2 años de estudios graduados a tiempo completo y puede requerir una tesis o una práctica.

Un doctorado - investigación/erudición es un PhD u otro título de doctorado que requiere trabajo avanzado después del nivel de maestría, incluyendo la preparación y defensa de una tesis doctoral basada en un trabajo de investigación original o el planeamiento y ejecución de un proyecto original que demuestra un logro artístico o académico considerable. Algunos ejemplos de este tipo de título pueden incluir EdD, DMA, DBA, DSc, DA o DM, y otros, como sea que los designe la institución que los otorga.

Un doctorado en práctica profesional es un doctorado que se da al completarse un programa que proporciona el conocimiento y las destrezas para el reconocimiento, la credencial o la licencia requerida para la práctica profesional. El título se otorga después de un periodo de estudio de tal manera que el tiempo total para conseguir el título, incluyendo tanto la preparación pre-profesional así como la profesional, es igual a un equivalente de por lo menos 6 años académicos a tiempo completo. Algunos de estos títulos incluyen: quiropráctica (DC o DCM), odontología (DDS o DMD), Leyes (LLB o JD), medicina (MD), optometría (OD), medicina osteopática (DO), farmacia (PharmD), podiatría (DPM, PodD, DP) o medicina veterinaria (DVM), y otros, como sea que los designe la institución que los otorga.

Un doctorado - otro es un título de doctor que no reúne los criterios de la definición de doctorado-investigación/erudición ni doctorado en práctica profesional.

○ Título de doctorado – investigación/erudición (por ejemplo, PhD, EdD, etc.)

Help Text:
Indica el nivel más alto de educación que esperas completar en cualquier institución educativa. Si no planeas seguir tus estudios más allá de lo que estás estudiando actualmente, provee el título o certificado para el que estás estudiando o los cursos que estás tomando actualmente.

Cursos a nivel subgraduado quiere decir que se están tomando cursos a nivel subgraduado, pero sin matricularse formalmente en un programa de título o certificado de ningún tipo.

Los certificados o diplomas subgraduados generalmente toman menos de 2 años en completarse y usualmente están diseñados para equipar a las personas con las destrezas necesarias para ingresar directamente a empleos o para obtener una licencia, como por ejemplo de cosmetología. Otros ejemplos incluyen certificados en asistencia administrativa, programación en computación y técnico de registros médicos.

Un grado asociado generalmente requiere al menos 2 años, pero menos de 4 años de estudios universitarios equivalentes a tiempo completo.

Un título de bachillerato usualmente lo otorga una universidad o college de 4 años y generalmente requiere por lo menos 4 años de estudios a tiempo completo a nivel universitario.

Cursos a nivel graduado son para estudiantes que ya tienen un título o certificado subgraduado y que están matriculados en cursos a nivel graduado más allá de un bachillerato, pero que no están matriculados formalmente en un programa para un título graduado.

Un certificado de post bachillerato provee un entrenamiento nuevo o adicional en un área de especialización a los estudiantes que ya tienen un bachillerato. Los certificados requieren normalmente menos horas de cursos que los títulos de maestría o doctorado y no requieren una tesis o disertación. Ejemplos de esto incluyen los certificados en contabilidad, ciencias de computadoras y administración de recursos humanos.

Una maestría requiere usualmente por lo menos 2 años de estudios graduados a tiempo completo y puede requerir una tesis o una práctica.

Un certificado de post maestría usualmente requiere completar 24 horas de crédito semestral después de la maestría, pero no reúne los requisitos de los títulos académicos a un nivel de doctorado.

Un doctorado – investigación/erudición es un PhD u otro título de doctorado que requiere trabajo avanzado después del nivel de maestría, incluyendo la preparación y defensa de una tesis doctoral basada en un trabajo de investigación original o el planeamiento y ejecución de un proyecto original que demuestra un logro artístico o académico considerable. Algunos ejemplos de este tipo de título pueden incluir EdD, DMA, DBA, DSc, DA o DM, y otros, como sea que los designe la institución que los otorga.

Un doctorado en práctica profesional es un doctorado que se da al completarse un programa que proporciona el conocimiento y las destrezas para el reconocimiento, la credencial o la licencia requerida para la práctica profesional. El título se otorga después de un periodo de estudio de tal manera que el tiempo total para conseguir el título, incluyendo tanto la preparación pre-profesional así como la profesional, es igual a un equivalente de por lo menos 6 años académicos de tiempo completo. Algunos de estos títulos incluyen: quiropráctica (DC o DCM), odontología (DDS o DMD), Leyes (LLB o JD), medicina (MD), optometría (OD), medicina osteopática (DO), farmacia (PharmD), podiatría (DPM, PodD, DP) o medicine veterinaria (DVM), y otros, como sea que los designe la institución que los otorga.

Un doctorado – otro es un título de doctor que no reúne los criterios de la definición de doctorado-investigación/erudición ni doctorado en práctica profesional.

Los empleos federales de estudio-y-trabajo se ofrecen a estudiantes con necesidades económicas, permitiéndoles trabajar a tiempo parcial para ganar dinero que les ayuda a pagar sus gastos de educación. Los estudiantes deben presentar una solicitud FAFSA (Solicitud gratuita de ayuda federal para estudiantes) para ser considerados por el Programa de Trabajo-Estudio Federal (FWS, por sus siglas en inglés). Help Text:
Esta pregunta nos ayudará a entender mejor las experiencias de personas con todo tipo de identidad de género.

Género incluye identidad de género y expresión de género. Identidad de género quiere decir el sentido interno que uno tiene de su propio género, el cual puede o no corresponder al sexo que le asignaron al nacer. Distintas personas deciden expresar su identidad de género de maneras diferentes. Para algunos, el género se puede expresar por ejemplo a través de la vestimenta, de cómo se arreglan, de sus gestos, de sus patrones de habla y de sus interacciones sociales. La expresión de género usualmente va entre masculino y femenino, y algunas transgénero personas expresan su género de manera que concuerda con cómo se identifican internamente, más que de acuerdo al sexo que les asignaron al nacer.

Transgénero: Cuando el sexo al nacer y el género no concuerdan, la persona puede considerarse transgénero.

Gender queer o gender nonconforming: Estos son términos que se usan para identificar personas cuyos géneros quizás no se ajustan al sexo que se les asignó al nacer. A menudo, estos términos pueden ser usados por personas que identifican su género como algo que no es ni masculino ni femenino. El género de estas personas puede caer entre masculino y femenino, o puede caer fuera de la tradicional definición de género masculino/femenino.
