Subject: Feedback Opportunity: FDA would like your opinion on the CORE Outbreak Investigation Table

Greetings,

FDA's Coordinated Outbreak Response and Evaluation (CORE) would like your feedback on its newly released CORE Outbreak Investigation Table (CIT) currently available here on the FDA website. The CIT, located about halfway down the webpage, is a list of outbreak investigations being managed by FDA's CORE Response Teams. The CIT was developed to publicly share current outbreaks earlier on in the investigation process, even if there isn't actionable advice for the public yet.

Your feedback is completely voluntary and your responses will be kept secure to the extent allowed by law. You received this survey invitation because you have previously shown interest in foodborne outbreaks and may be actively using the CIT. Your feedback is crucial for helping us determine what improvements could be made to ensure that the table is informative, easy to understand, and effective tool for the public. Please click the link below to take the 10-minute survey about the CIT. Your survey response is requested by XX date.
