

Cira, Mishka (NIH/NCI) [E]

Subject: 10th Annual Symposium on Global Cancer Research - Registration is open

Dear Colleagues,

The National Cancer Institute Center for Global Health, in partnership with the Consortium of Universities for Global Health; USC Norris Comprehensive Cancer Center; UCLA Jonsson Comprehensive Cancer Center; City of Hope Comprehensive Cancer Center; University Teaching Hospital, Ministry of Health-Republic of Zambia; Partners in Hope, Lilongwe-Malawi; Fundación Instituto Leloir-CONICET, Buenos Aires-Argentina; American Society of Clinical Oncology; and American Association for Cancer Research, invite you to register (free of charge) for the 10th Annual Symposium on Global Cancer Research (ASGCR2022) to be held virtually on March 23-24, 2022, preceding the 12th Annual Consortium of Universities for Global Health Conference.

The ASGCR2022 theme is New Models for Global Cancer Research, Training, and Control. The Symposium will bring together leaders in cancer research and cancer control from academic institutions, non-profit organizations, and government agencies around the world to participate in panel discussions, break-out sessions, and poster presentations highlighting unique research and programs that address the global burden of cancer. Because the Symposium is virtual, registration is open through March 24th. Visit the ASGCR2022 event website for more information about registration and the latest on the Symposium agenda, speakers, scientific abstracts, and the 7th Annual Rachel Pearline Award.

NCI Center for Global Health