Item 22: Detail of Sales, Shipments, Receipts, or Revenue - Continued Additional Information

ITEM 22: DETAIL OF SALES, SHIPMENTS, RECEIPTS, OR REVENUE

Of the $,000.00 of Sales, Shipments, Receipts, or Revenue reported in Item 5, what was the value for each product or service?

General – Please do not combine product lines. If the information is not directly available from your records, reasonable estimates are acceptable.

Below are the products and services associated with the construction projects you previously selected. If you have revenue from sources not listed, describe and report them in the "All other sales, shipments, receipts, or revenue from this establishment" section at the end of this question.

At-risk construction project management revenue should be reported with the specific constructions or construction services associated with those management services. For example, if at-risk construction project management is for entire office building constructions, then include the management revenue with the new constructions for office buildings. However, at-fee project management services should be reported in the specific product lines for construction project management services.

New Constructions and Construction Services – Report only the main activities including the type of buildings, structures, or facilities contracted to construct or work on by this establishment in the reporting year in which this establishment received receipts only. If you worked on more than one type of building or structure in a multipurpose complex, report separately for each building or type of structure. However, if you worked on a building that had more than one purpose, i.e. office, residential, or commercial, classify this building by its major purpose.

- New constructions include all components of the entire original building or structure. Land development work on the site and demolition of existing structures are included with new constructions.
- Construction services for new building or structures include separate components of the original building or structure, such as electric work, painting, plumbing, etc.
- Construction services for additions, renovations, and alterations to buildings or structures include construction work which adds to the value of useful life of an existing building or structure, or which adapts a building or structure to a new or different use. Included are "major replacements" of building systems such as the installation of a new roof or heating system, and the resurfacing of streets or highways. Exclude activities such as the repair of a hole in a roof or the routine patching of highways and streets, which are classified as "maintenance and repair work".
- Construction services for maintenance and repair of buildings or structures include incidental construction work that keeps a property in ordinary working condition. Exclude trash and snow removal, lawn maintenance, and janitorial services.

Item 22: Detail of Sales, Shipments, Receipts, or Revenue - Continued Additional Information

ITEM 22: DETAIL OF SALES, SHIPMENTS, RECEIPTS, OR REVENUE

Of the $,000.00 of Sales, Shipments, Receipts, or Revenue reported in Item 5, what was the value for each product or service?

General – Please do not combine product lines. If the information is not directly available from your records, reasonable estimates are acceptable.

Below are the products and services associated with the construction projects you previously selected. If you have revenue from sources not listed, describe and report them in the "All other sales, shipments, receipts, or revenue from this establishment" section at the end of this question.

At-risk construction project management revenue should be reported with the specific constructions or construction services associated with those management services. For example, if at-risk construction project management is for entire office building constructions, then include the management revenue with the new constructions for office buildings. However, at-fee project management services should be reported in the specific product lines for construction project management services.

New Constructions and Construction Services – Report only the main activities including the type of buildings, structures, or facilities contracted to construct or work on by this establishment in the reporting year in which this establishment received receipts only. If you worked on more than one type of building or structure in a multipurpose complex, report separately for each building or type of structure. However, if you worked on a building that had more than one purpose, i.e. office, residential, or commercial, classify this building by its major purpose.

- New constructions include all components of the entire original building or structure. Land development work on the site and demolition of existing structures are included with new constructions.
- Construction services for new building or structures include separate components of the original building or structure, such as electric work, painting, plumbing, etc.
- Construction services for additions, renovations, and alterations to buildings or structures include construction work which adds to the value of useful life of an existing building or structure, or which adapts a building or structure to a new or different use. Included are "major replacements" of building systems such as the installation of a new roof or heating system, and the resurfacing of streets or highways. Exclude activities such as the repair of a hole in a roof or the routine patching of highways and streets, which are classified as "maintenance and repair work".
- Construction services for maintenance and repair of buildings or structures include incidental construction work that keeps a property in ordinary working condition. Exclude trash and snow removal, lawn maintenance, and janitorial services.

Item 22: Detail of Sales, Shipments, Receipts, or Revenue - Continued Additional Information

ITEM 22: DETAIL OF SALES, SHIPMENTS, RECEIPTS, OR REVENUE

Of the $,000.00 of Sales, Shipments, Receipts, or Revenue reported in Item 5, what was the value for each product or service?

General – Please do not combine product lines. If the information is not directly available from your records, reasonable estimates are acceptable.

Below are the products and services associated with the construction projects you previously selected. If you have revenue from sources not listed, describe and report them in the "All other sales, shipments, receipts, or revenue from this establishment" section at the end of this question.

At-risk construction project management revenue should be reported with the specific constructions or construction services associated with those management services. For example, if at-risk construction project management is for entire office building constructions, then include the management revenue with the new constructions for office buildings. However, at-fee project management services should be reported in the specific product lines for construction project management services.

New Constructions and Construction Services – Report only the main activities including the type of buildings, structures, or facilities contracted to construct or work on by this establishment in the reporting year in which this establishment received receipts only. If you worked on more than one type of building or structure in a multipurpose complex, report separately for each building or type of structure. However, if you worked on a building that had more than one purpose, i.e. office, residential, or commercial, classify this building by its major purpose.

- New constructions include all components of the entire original building or structure. Land development work on the site and demolition of existing structures are included with new constructions.
- Construction services for new building or structures include separate components of the original building or structure, such as electric work, painting, plumbing, etc.
- Construction services for additions, renovations, and alterations to buildings or structures include construction work which adds to the value of useful life of an existing building or structure, or which adapts a building or structure to a new or different use. Included are "major replacements" of building systems such as the installation of a new roof or heating system, and the resurfacing of streets or highways. Exclude activities such as the repair of a hole in a roof or the routine patching of highways and streets, which are classified as "maintenance and repair work".
- Construction services for maintenance and repair of buildings or structures include incidental construction work that keeps a property in ordinary working condition. Exclude trash and snow removal, lawn maintenance, and janitorial services.

Item 22: Detail of Sales, Shipments, Receipts, or Revenue - Continued Additional Information

ITEM 22: DETAIL OF SALES, SHIPMENTS, RECEIPTS, OR REVENUE

Of the $,000.00 of Sales, Shipments, Receipts, or Revenue reported in Item 5, what was the value for each product or service?

General – Please do not combine product lines. If the information is not directly available from your records, reasonable estimates are acceptable.

Below are the products and services associated with the construction projects you previously selected. If you have revenue from sources not listed, describe and report them in the "All other sales, shipments, receipts, or revenue from this establishment" section at the end of this question.

At-risk construction project management revenue should be reported with the specific constructions or construction services associated with those management services. For example, if at-risk construction project management is for entire office building constructions, then include the management revenue with the new constructions for office buildings. However, at-fee project management services should be reported in the specific product lines for construction project management services.

New Constructions and Construction Services – Report only the main activities including the type of buildings, structures, or facilities contracted to construct or work on by this establishment in the reporting year in which this establishment received receipts only. If you worked on more than one type of building or structure in a multipurpose complex, report separately for each building or type of structure. However, if you worked on a building that had more than one purpose, i.e. office, residential, or commercial, classify this building by its major purpose.

- New constructions include all components of the entire original building or structure. Land development work on the site and demolition of existing structures are included with new constructions.
- Construction services for new building or structures include separate components of the original building or structure, such as electric work, painting, plumbing, etc.
- Construction services for additions, renovations, and alterations to buildings or structures include construction work which adds to the value of useful life of an existing building or structure, or which adapts a building or structure to a new or different use. Included are "major replacements" of building systems such as the installation of a new roof or heating system, and the resurfacing of streets or highways. Exclude activities such as the repair of a hole in a roof or the routine patching of highways and streets, which are classified as "maintenance and repair work".
- Construction services for maintenance and repair of buildings or structures include incidental construction work that keeps a property in ordinary working condition. Exclude trash and snow removal, lawn maintenance, and janitorial services.
