1.1	jean publieee	Comment ID USCIS-2008-0014-0559 the cap on h1bs should be set at zero. we have american workers fluent in computer work and yet the lousy foreigners who have set up shop here keep asking to bring in more foreigners to take american jobs., this is just slimy as can be. such americans are not americans at all but opportunists who will kill us at a moments notice. shut down the h1b program and all of the programs that bring in foreigners to take american jobs. this is slimy corrupt work going on here to satisfy those who want to pay less and hurt american workers. they are slimy individuals who dont pay taxes either all part of the lousy silicon valley crowd.	Thank you for your opinion. The H-1B nonimmigrant classification, and the annual numerical limitations on H-1B nonimmigrants, is set by Congress in the Immigration and Nationality Act. Therefore, USCIS is not making any changes to the information collection as a result of this comment.
2.1	Joseph Ouy	Comment ID USCIS-2008-0014-0563 H1B visa is essential for corporations and non-profit organizations to hire the best talents from around the world and to make sure US is the world leader when it comes to acquiring and retaining top talents. Changing the H1B selection process from the current lottery system to a wage based system would negatively impact recent graduates from top US universities and their ability to stay and contribute to the US economy. As such this proposed rule should not come into effect and the current lottery system (while not perfect by any means) should continue as it is.	Thank you for your comment. The Modification of Registration Requirement for Petitioners Seeking To File Cap-Subject H-1B Petitions final rule, 86 Fed. Reg. 1676 (Jan. 8, 2021), was vacated by court order and subsequently withdrawn from the Federal Register. See Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America et al. v. United States Department of Homeland Security, et al., No. 4:20-cv-07331 (N.D.CA 2021); Modification of Registration Requirement for Petitioners Seeking To File Cap-Subject H-1B Petitions, Implementation of Vacatur rule, 86 Fed. Reg. 72516 (Dec. 22, 2021). As a result, the current H-1B cap-selection process as set forth at 8 CFR 214.2(h)(8) remains the controlling rule.

		provided people with an almost no punishment chance to cheat. We keep seeing people who got fake jobs from consultancies share multiple registration being selected and more ridiculously, they don't get any punishment but go away with stolen H1B visas. USCIS has unparalleled authority in determining whom to become next immigrants to build United States and make it great again. However, with such lottery system, those who cheat with fake resume and fake job offers are taking away opportunities from real talents employed by top US companies and sending them to other countries. We strongly urge USCIS to change current registration based lottery system to individual based. This is a simple mechanism but a very effective one in keeping fair chances among all applicants so that the real talents can have a chance to build the great US.
4.1	He Zhu	Comment ID USCIS-2008-0014-0562 I strongly propose that the current H-1B registration tool to be based on aliens with number limitation, in order to prevent H-1B abuses.	Thank you for your comment. 6.1	Justin Yang	Comment ID USCIS-2008-0014-0561 Why one individual could file multiple applications? This is very likely and currently proven to cause fraud and should stop!	Thank you for your comment. USCIS is engaging in this revision action to strengthen the attestation language to which registrants must agree, under penalty of perjury, before submitting their registration(s).
7.1	Jay Ge	Comment ID USCIS-2008-0014-0564 The system should penalize the winning rate for people submitting multiple registration via multiple employers. The chance of getting selected should not be linearly correlated with number of registration submitted.  Also the system should have a mechanism to investigate the multiple filing personal to eliminate fraud especially h1b by consulting company and contractors. The current system is too easy to be taken advantage of.	Thank you for your comment. USCIS is engaging in this revision action to strengthen the attestation language to which registrants must agree, under penalty of perjury, before submitting their registration(s).
8.1	Anonymous	Comment ID USCIS-2008-0014-0566 It is so * that one person can register for multiple registrations for lottery. This is simply abusing the system. Why don't you just address this issue before moving on to others?	Thank you for your comment. USCIS is engaging in this revision action to strengthen the attestation language to which registrants must agree, under penalty of perjury, before submitting their registration(s).
9.1	Nathaniel Greensides Jackson and Hertogs LLP San Francisco, CA	The below four points will contribute to the ability of USCIS to "(4) Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses."  H1B Registration Comments/Suggestions: 1.Offer the ability to import lottery candidates using an excel sheet or csv file	Thank you for providing suggestions for enhancements to the H-1B registration user interface. USCIS may take these suggestions into consideration during a future revision action.
