Department of Defense Education Activity Research Study Request

OMB Control Number 0704-0457

1. Need for the Information Collection

The Department of Defense Education Activity (DoDEA) is a Department of Defense (DoD) field activity operating under the direction, authority, and control of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness. The DoDEA operates 160 schools in 8 districts located in 11 countries, seven states, Guam, and Puerto Rico.

DoDEA receives requests from researchers both internal to DoDEA as well as outside the Federal government or DoD, to conduct research studies in DoDEA schools and districts. This information collection is needed to aid in the systematic and consistent collection of information on proposed research in accordance with guidelines established in DoDEA Administrative Instruction 1304.01, "Research Request Program."

The information gathered is also necessary to ensure that the proposed research provides adequate protection to human subjects as outlined in DoD Directive 3216.2, "Protection of Human Subjects and Adherence to Ethical Standards in DoD-Supported Research."

2. Use of the Information

DoDEA receives requests from members of the public to conduct research involving DoDEA schools, teachers, principals, students, and parents. These members of the public include but are not limited to: Students and faculty at institutions of higher learning, independent researchers, researchers at profit and non-profit organizations, and private individuals. To aid in the systematic and consistent collection of information on the proposed research, DoDEA developed and is renewing DoDEA 1304.01-F1, "Research Study Request" in DoDEA Administrative Instruction 1304.01.

The information gathered from individuals through this proposed form includes contact information, school or organizational affiliation (if applicable), summary of the proposed research, an explanation of how the research study is aligned with the DoDEA Community Strategic Plan, how the proposed study will impact the researcher's field of study, the major hypothesis(es) or question(s) to be tested, the population and/or sample to be studied, a description and copy of all proposed instruments, data collection activities, the timetable for the study, Institutional Review Board (IRB) approval for the study, and the statistical or other analytic techniques to be used during the study.

Each requestor receives a "decision letter" which indicates whether the research has been approved. If the request is turned down, specific reasons for the disapproval are provided and the individual is invited to address the cited concerns and resubmit the request.

Detailed information regarding the proposed research is necessary to enable DoDEA to properly evaluate the research proposal to ensure that the proposed research is of sound technical quality, does not unduly interfere with the classroom instructional process or the regular operations of the school, district, and/or areas, and adheres to all Federal laws. The information gathered is also necessary to ensure that the proposed research provides adequate human subjects protection to individuals selected for the proposed research. Information such as name, address, email address, and phone number are necessary for DoDEA to correspond with individuals regarding their research request and to distribute approval documents.
