Agreement to Extend Counseling to Participate in Mediation

This is an agreement, by the participants signing below, to participate voluntarily in mediation under the EEO Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) process, which automatically extends the process an additional 60 calendar days, not to exceed a total of 90 days. The allegations raised in the Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) pre-complaint process will be, unless specifically excluded in writing, those submitted for attempted resolution by mediation. All parties understand that nothing said or done during attempts to resolve the matter through mediation can be made the subject of an EEO complaint or any proceeding.

Release of Information

The EEO Counseling Report will be given to the mediator or co-mediators, if requested and available.

Participation is Voluntary

The participants understand that participation is voluntary and any participant may terminate the mediation at any time.

Mediator has No Decision Authority

The participants further understand that the mediator or co-mediators have no authority to make decisions on issues raised nor act as an advocate or representative for either party. The aggrieved may consult with a designated representative. If resolution occurs as a result of mediation, the resolution agreement will be prepared in conformance with the established procedures.

Mediator is Not a Witness

Each participant agrees not to subpoena or request as a witness any mediator or request to use as evidence any materials prepared by the mediator for use during mediation with the exception of any signed resolution agreement. In no event will the mediator voluntarily serve as a witness or testify in any proceeding.

End of Mediation

The mediation will be concluded when:

- a. a resolution agreement is signed by the management and resolution officials and the aggrieved and his/her representative;
- b. the aggrieved withdraws the EEO pre-complaint in writing;
- c. it is determined that the participants are unable to resolve the issues at hand and mediation is terminated; or
- d. the mediation can be canceled by the mediator for any reason during the mediation session.

Unresolved Issues

At the end of the mediation period, if no resolution has been achieved, the aggrieved will be given the Notice of Right to File a Formal EEO Complaint. The notice of right to file a formal complaint will be issued to the aggrieved by the EEO Counselor, who will review the statutory requirement to proceed with the filing of the formal complaint.

Confidentiality

The participants understand and stipulate that the mediation sessions are confidential and no participant shall disclose any of the discussions except for the limited purpose of implementation and enforcement of the agreement. In addition, nothing said or done during attempts to resolve the matter through mediation can be made the subject of an EEO complaint.

If the participants reach a resolution, the agreement shall be reduced to writing and, when signed, shall be binding upon all participants to the agreement.
