"SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

"This Act may be cited as the 'Crime Victims With Disabilities Awareness Act'.

"SEC. 2. FINDINGS; PURPOSES.

"(a) FINDINGS.-Congress finds that-

"(1) although research conducted abroad demonstrates that individuals with developmental disabilities are at a 4 to 10 times higher risk of becoming crime victims than those without disabilities, there have been no significant studies on this subject conducted in the United States;

"(2) in fact, the National Crime Victim's Survey, conducted annually by the Bureau of Justice Statistics of the Department of Justice, does not specifically collect data relating to crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities;

"(3) studies in Canada, Australia, and Great Britain consistently show that victims with developmental disabilities suffer repeated victimization because so few of the crimes against them are reported, and even when they are, there is sometimes a reluctance by police, prosecutors, and judges to rely on the testimony of a disabled individual, making individuals with developmental disabilities a target for criminal predators;

"(4) research in the United States needs to be done to-

"(A) understand the nature and extent of crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities;

"(B) describe the manner in which the justice system responds to crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities; and

"(C) identify programs, policies, or laws that hold promises for making the justice system more responsive to crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities; and

"(5) the National Academy of Science Committee on Law and Justice of the National Research Council is a premier research institution with unique experience in developing seminal, multidisciplinary studies to establish a strong research base from which to make public policy.

"(b) PURPOSES.-The purposes of this Act are-

"(1) to increase public awareness of the plight of victims of crime who are individuals with developmental disabilities;

"(2) to collect data to measure the extent of the problem of crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities; and

"(3) to develop a basis to find new strategies to address the safety and justice needs of victims of crime who are individuals with developmental disabilities.

"SEC. 3. DEFINITION OF DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITY.

"In this Act, the term 'developmental disability' has the meaning given the term in section 102 of the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000 [42 U.S.C. 15002].

"SEC. 4. STUDY.

"(a) IN GENERAL.-The Attorney General shall conduct a study to increase knowledge and information about crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities that will be useful in developing new strategies to reduce the incidence of crimes against those individuals.

"(b) ISSUES ADDRESSED.-The study conducted under this section shall address such issues as- "(1) the nature and extent of crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities;

"(2) the risk factors associated with victimization of individuals with developmental disabilities; "(3) the manner in which the justice system responds to crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities; and

"(4) the means by which States may establish and maintain a centralized computer database on the incidence of crimes against individuals with disabilities within a State.

"(c) NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES.-In carrying out this section, the Attorney General shall consider contracting with the Committee on Law and Justice of the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences to provide research for the study conducted under this section.

"(d) REPORT.-Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act [Oct. 27, 1998], the Attorney General shall submit to the Committees on the Judiciary of the Senate and the House of Representatives a report describing the results of the study conducted under this section.

"SEC. 5. NATIONAL CRIME VICTIM'S SURVEY.

"Not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this Act, as part of each National Crime Victim's Survey, the Attorney General shall include statistics relating to-

"(1) the nature of crimes against individuals with developmental disabilities;

1. National Pretrial Reporting Program Overview

The goal of the Bureau of Justice Statistics' (BJS) National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP) is to collect information on persons charged with felony cases in state courts, and to collect contextual data on those persons from case filing to case disposition and sentencing. The NPRP will collect case-level information on pretrial release and detention, financial and other conditions associated with pretrial release, and any failures to appear, technical violations, or new arrests that occur during pretrial release.

The project will be completed in several phases by RTI International, with support from project partners the National Center for State Courts (NCSC), the National Association of Pretrial Services Agencies (NAPSA), Applied Research Services (ARS), and Pragmatica, Inc. The first phase collected information from states and counties about the systems that may collect and store these data. Such systems included courts, local jails, and pretrial services agencies. Data capacity surveys were conducted with each agency in the largest 200 counties in the U.S. The surveys allowed RTI and BJS to identify the data providers, understand their systems capabilities, and identify variables that potentially could be used to link the data across agencies.

The remaining phases involve a staged data collection from the 75 largest counties, and a sample of 50 of the remaining 125 counties. RTI and BJS have developed a sampling plan to maximize responsiveness and data representativeness and minimize respondent burden and project costs.

2. Data Preparation Instructions

This section outlines how to prepare and submit your NPRP data extract submission.

2.1 Identifying Eligible Cases

Courts. Your submission should define a case as all charges involved in a single incident filed into your system in calendar year 2019. At least one of the charges must be a felony offense. If a case may include multiple defendants involved in a single incident, please note this in your documentation and contact the NPRP staff listed in Section . If your case management system defines a case in some other way, please contact the NPRP personnel listed in Section .

2.2 File Structure

BJS is interested in a person-case and following that person-case from arrest and booking into jail, through pretrial processing to court case outcomes. This is an individual- and case-level data collection. You can provide data in any format that is convenient for you, but we ask that you please provide supporting documentation, if available.

2.3 File Format

There is no required format for the data you submit; use whatever is most convenient for you. All file formats will be accepted. Some common file formats include:

- Text files (fixed width, delimited)
- Excel or .csv files
- Access database extracts
- SQL server database
- Data analysis software files (e.g., SAS, STATA, SPSS, or R data files)

The suggested coding classifications and value labels were developed to be as consistent as possible with the National Open Court Data Standards (NODS) and are provided in Appendix A. You are not asked to recode or manipulate your data prior to submission. If you have questions about any of the data elements requested, please contact the persons listed on the cover of this guide. We recognize that systems vary in terms of the ability to store, extract, and share data, and we are prepared to assist you.

Data from your jurisdiction will ultimately be combined with data from up to 75 other counties to gain a robust perspective on pretrial case processing in the U.S. During the data standardization process, RTI and NCSC may be in contact with jurisdiction personnel to request clarification on data fields and meanings to ensure that all submitted data are processed correctly.

2.4 Supporting Documentation

If possible, we ask that you provide supporting documentation with your submission.

3. Data Submission Instructions

RTI will create a private, password-protected user account for each Data Point of Contact (Data POC) to upload data to Amazon Web Services (AWS) Simple Storage Service (S3). This AWS S3 storage location will only be accessible from designated network subnets. The Data POC will need to provide their subnet range or specific IP address from which they will be accessing AWS S3 so the access control rules may be updated to grant access to the Data POC from their network. A free and easy way to discover your IP address is to go to <https://www.iplocation.net/> Once data access has been set up, the Data POC will log into their private account to transfer the requested data to a secure central data storage system on AWS S3.

Data security note: All data are encrypted in transit to AWS and at rest within AWS (SSL in transit and AES 256-encryption at rest), complying with the FIPS 140-2 standard. The secure AWS S3 repository will hold all raw data files received from the courts, jails, and pretrial services agencies until they are processed, linked, de-identified, and subsequently deleted by RTI data analysts. RTI controls access to the data storage system; all access to data resources will be logged, and the entire infrastructure will be reviewed and regularly scanned for vulnerabilities. The data storage system will be configured to deny public access by default, and we will use Amazon's Macie service to regularly scan and evaluate the security status of the storage. All RTI and NCSC staff granted access to data files (identified and deidentified files) will be required to sign a Staff Data Security Agreement. This pledge outlines staff responsibilities for protecting the confidentiality of all information identifiable to a private person that is collected during the project. The RTI Principal Investigator is responsible for maintaining up-to-date record of signed pledges.

3.1 Will the data be secure and kept confidential?

Consistent with its statutory obligations (34 U.S.C. § 10134), BJS only uses information collected under its authority for statistical or research purposes. Further, BJS is required by law to protect the confidentiality of all personally identifiable information (PII) it collects or acquires in conjunction with BJS-funded projects (34 U.S.C. § 10231), and must maintain the appropriate administrative, physical, and technical safeguards to protect the identifiable information against improper use or unauthorized disclosure. BJS will not use or reveal data identifiable to a private person, except as authorized under 28 CFR § 22.21 and § 22.22. The BJS Data Protection Guidelines summarize the federal laws, regulations, and other authorities that govern information acquired under BJS's authority, and are published on the BJS website: https://www.bjs.gov/content/pub/pdf/BJS_Data_Protection_Guidelines.pdf. RTI and NCSC are required to adhere to these same requirements as a condition of funding.

3.1.1 Data Transmission

RTI and NCSC project staff will receive data sets in a secure manner via an encrypted AWS GovCloud S3 server, appropriate for files with PII. RTI will create a private, password-protected user account that relies on an email address and IP address for each agency to upload data to the AWS S3 storage location. This AWS S3 storage location will only be accessible for the email and IP address granted access to the server. Any data set(s) electronically transmitted to BJS will be over the DOJ's Office of Justice Programs (OJP) secure transfer site.

3.1.2 Data Storage and Access

The secure AWS S3 repository will hold all raw data files received from the agencies until they are processed, linked, and subsequently deleted by RTI. Once received and linked with other available records, raw data files will be stripped of PII and replaced with an anonymous identifier. RTI will retain a PII-anonymous identifier crosswalk in case a revised file is submitted later. This file will be encrypted, password protected, and stored on a secure RTI server in the event the AWS S3 storage location is breached. Access to the S3 instance will be restricted to individuals with an identified business need. RTI controls access to the data storage system; all access to data resources will be logged, and the entire infrastructure will be reviewed and regularly scanned for vulnerabilities. PII is encrypted while in transit, and access to the data will be limited to those employees who have a need for such data and have signed a confidentiality pledge. The pledge includes an agreement to comply with all data security and human subjects' protection requirements.

3.1.1 Data Publication

BJS only publishes de-identified data at the aggregate level in its project findings, reports, data files, and other statistical products. BJS archives its published data and related data documentation (e.g., user guides) at the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data (NACJD), located at the University of Michigan. To the extent practical, BJS removes, masks, or collapses direct and indirect identifiers prior to sending data to NACJD to protect confidentiality. NACJD takes additional precautions to protect confidentiality, including conducting a comprehensive disclosure risk review to determine the appropriate level of security that should be applied to the data. For more information on data requiring additional security protections, please see: <https://www.icpsr.umich.edu/icpsrweb/content/NACJD/restricted.html>.

We understand that your agency may have preexisting policies in place around data sharing, and we will work with your agency to meet any data transfer or agreement requirements you may have. While each of the identified data elements was selected to help fully understand the processing of case data, we recognize that not all data elements may be collected or readily available electronically for public use. Please notify us if you limit the amount or type of data you can release.

3.2 When is the submission due?

We ask that all participating agencies provide their data by ###/###/####. However, please reach out to the staff identified in Section 3.5 if you need additional time to submit your data.

3.3 What if I am unable to provide all the requested data?

We do not expect that any one organization has all of the data elements requested in Appendix A. Please provide those data elements that are available. If your agency does not collect any of the information in Appendix A, or if it would be too burdensome to provide the data, please contact the staff in section 3.5.

3.4 What happens after we submit the data?

RTI or NCSC will review the contents of the data files and conduct a series of checks to the data elements requested in the Appendix A. This should be completed within 2-4 weeks of submission. RTI or NCSC will then contact the Data POC to review and confirm the findings from the review. We may also have questions about variable values or labels, and will take all steps to understand your data submission.

3.5 Whom do I contact if I have questions?

Please reach out to Cynthia Lee (NCSC) at clee@ncsc.org or 757-259-1583 for questions or support in submitting your data to the AWS S3 server.

1. National Pretrial Reporting Program Overview

The goal of the Bureau of Justice Statistics' (BJS) National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP) is to collect information on persons charged with felony cases in state courts, and to collect contextual data on those persons from case filing to case disposition and sentencing. The NPRP will collect case-level information on pretrial release and detention, financial and other conditions associated with pretrial release, and any failures to appear, technical violations, or new arrests that occur during pretrial release.

The project will be completed in several phases by RTI International, with support from project partners National Center for State Courts (NCSC), National Association of Pretrial Services Agencies (NAPSA), Applied Research Services (ARS), and Pragmatica, Inc. The first phase collected information from states and counties about the systems that may collect and store these data. Such systems included courts, local jails, and pretrial services agencies. Data capacity surveys were conducted with each agency in the largest 200 counties in the U.S. The surveys allowed RTI and BJS to identify the data providers, understand their systems capabilities, and identify variables that potentially could be used to link the data across agencies.

The remaining phases involve a staged data collection from the 75 largest counties, and a sample of 50 of the remaining 125 counties. RTI and BJS have developed a sampling plan to maximize responsiveness and data representativeness and minimize respondent burden and project costs.

2. Data Preparation Instructions

This section outlines how to prepare and submit your NPRP data extract submission.

2.1 Identifying Eligible Cases

Jails. Please include one record for each admission of an offender arrested for and booked into the jail for at least one felony charge in calendar year 2019. If the offender appears in a later admission with a felony charge, please include that as a separate admission. If your jail management system organizes bookings in some other way, please contact the NPRP staff listed in Section .

Pretrial services agencies. Please include one record for each defendant with at least one new felony charge filed in your system as a new case in calendar year 2019, even if that person was already a client. If you are unable to determine whether the charges included a felony at the opening of the case, please contact the NPRP staff listed in Section .

2.2 File Structure

BJS is interested in a person-case and following that person-case from arrest and booking into jail, through pretrial processing to court case outcomes. This is an individual- and case-level data collection. You can provide data in any format that is convenient for you, but we ask that you please provide supporting documentation, if available.

2.3 File Format

There is no required format for the data you submit; use whatever is most convenient for you. All file formats will be accepted. Some common file formats include:

- Text files (fixed width, delimited)
- Excel or .csv files
- Access database extracts
- SQL server database
- Data analysis software files (e.g., SAS, STATA, SPSS, or R data files)

The suggested coding classifications and value labels are provided in Appendix A. You are not asked to recode or manipulate your data prior to submission. If you have questions about any of the data elements requested, please contact the persons listed in Section 3.5. We recognize that systems vary in terms of the ability to store, extract, and share data, and we are prepared to assist you.

Appendix A is a guide as to how we expect to recode and standardize the data you submit so that jail, pretrial services, and court data all have similar formats. Additionally, data from your jurisdiction will be combined with data from up to 75 other counties to get a robust perspective of pretrial case processing in the U.S. During the data standardization process, RTI and NCSC may be in contact with jurisdiction personnel to request clarification on data fields and meanings to ensure that all submitted data are processed correctly.

2.4 Supporting Documentation

If possible, we ask that you provide supporting documentation with your submission. Specifically, we request:

- Date range of the data (e.g., 01/01/2019 through 12/31/2019)
- Date that the data extract was pulled
- Data point of contact (POC) (i.e., name, organization, address, telephone, and email address)
- File format of the data extract
- Known data limitations or quality issues
 - o Missing data:

- System-missing (requested data element is not available in the system)
 - Unit-missing (requested data element is available, but mostly blank or missing)
- o Other common data issues include
 - Misspellings
 - Redundancy or duplication (e.g., two date fields for one event)
- Data formatting information
 - o Data dictionaries, including variable/column names, variable description, expected variable values
 - o Any known discrepancies in the names of data elements in Appendix A and how your system labels the data elements

3. Data Submission Instructions

RTI will create a private, password-protected user account for each Data POC to upload data to Amazon Web Services (AWS) Simple Storage Service (S3). This AWS S3 storage location will only be accessible from designated network subnets. The Data POC will need to provide their subnet range or specific IP address from which they will be accessing AWS S3 from so the access control rules may be updated to grant access to the Data POC from their network. A free and easy way to discover your IP address is to go to <https://www.iplocation.net/>. Once data access has been set up, the Data POC will log into their private account to transfer the requested data to a secure central data storage system on AWS S3.

Data security note: All data are encrypted in transit to AWS and at rest within AWS (SSL in transit and AES 256-encryption at rest), complying with the FIPS 140-2 standard. The secure AWS S3 repository will hold all raw data files received from the courts, jails, and pretrial services agencies until they are processed, linked, de-identified, and subsequently deleted by RTI data analysts. RTI controls access to the data storage system; all access to data resources will be logged, and the entire infrastructure will be reviewed and regularly scanned for vulnerabilities. The data storage system will be configured to deny public access by default, and we will use Amazon's Macie service to regularly scan and evaluate the security status of the storage. All RTI and NCSC staff granted access to data files (identified and deidentified files) will be required to sign a Staff Data Security Agreement. This pledge outlines staff responsibilities for protecting the confidentiality of all information identifiable to a private person that is collected during the project. The RTI Principal Investigator is responsible for maintaining up-to-date record of signed pledges.

3.1 Will the data be secure and kept confidential?

Consistent with its statutory obligations (34 U.S.C. § 10134), BJS only uses information collected under its authority for statistical or research purposes. Further, BJS is required by law to protect the confidentiality of all personally identifiable information (PII) it collects or acquires in conjunction with BJS-funded projects (34 U.S.C. § 10231), and must maintain the appropriate administrative, physical, and technical safeguards to protect the identifiable information against improper use or unauthorized disclosure. BJS will not use or reveal data identifiable to a private person, except as authorized under 28 CFR § 22.21 and § 22.22. The BJS Data Protection Guidelines summarize the federal laws, regulations, and other authorities that govern information acquired under BJS's authority, and are published on the BJS website: https://www.bjs.gov/content/pub/pdf/BJS_Data_Protection_Guidelines.pdf. RTI and NCSC are required to adhere to these same requirements as a condition of funding.

3.1.1 Data Transmission

RTI and NCSC project staff will receive data sets in a secure manner via an encrypted AWS GovCloud S3 server, appropriate for files with PII. RTI will create a private, password-protected user account that relies on an email address and IP address for each agency to upload data to the AWS S3 storage location. This AWS S3 storage location will only be accessible for the email and IP address granted access to the server. Any data set(s) electronically transmitted to BJS will be over the DOJ's Office of Justice Programs (OJP) secure transfer site.

3.1.2 Data Storage and Access

The secure AWS S3 repository will hold all raw data files received from the agencies until they are processed, linked, and subsequently deleted by RTI. Once received and linked with other available records, raw data files will be stripped of PII and replaced with an anonymous identifier. RTI will retain a PII-anonymous identifier crosswalk in case a revised file is submitted later. This file will be encrypted, password protected, and stored on a secure RTI server in the event the AWS S3 storage location is breached. Access to the S3 instance will be restricted to individuals with an identified business need. RTI controls access to the data storage system; all access to data resources will be logged, and the entire infrastructure will be reviewed and regularly scanned for vulnerabilities. PII is encrypted while in transit, and access to the data will be limited to those employees who have a need for such data and have signed a confidentiality pledge. The pledge includes an agreement to comply with all data security and human subjects' protection requirements.

3.1.3 Data Publication

BJS only publishes de-identified data at the aggregate level in its project findings, reports, data files, and other statistical products. BJS archives its published data and related data documentation (e.g., user guides) at the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data (NACJD), located at the University of Michigan. To the extent practical, BJS removes, masks, or collapses direct and indirect identifiers prior to sending data to NACJD to protect confidentiality. NACJD takes additional precautions to protect confidentiality, including conducting a comprehensive disclosure risk review to determine the appropriate level of security that should be applied to the data. For more information on data requiring additional security protections, please see:

<https://www.icpsr.umich.edu/icpsrweb/content/NACJD/restricted.html>.

We understand that your agency may have preexisting policies in place around data sharing, and we will work with your agency to meet any data transfer or agreement requirements you may have. While each of the identified data elements was selected to help fully understand the processing of case data, we recognize that not all data elements may be collected or readily available electronically for public use. Please notify us if you limit the amount or type of data you can release.

3.2 When is the submission due?

We ask that all participating agencies provide their data by ##/##/####. However, please reach out to the staff identified in Section 3.5 if you need additional time to submit your data.

3.3 What if I am unable to provide all the requested data?

The data extract guide is intended for use by pretrial services agencies and jails. We do not expect that any one organization has all of the data elements requested in Appendix A. If your agency does not collect any of the information in Appendix A, or it would be too burdensome to provide the data, please contact the staff in section 3.5.

3.4 What happens after we submit the data?

RTI or NCSC will review the contents of the data files and conduct a series of checks to the data elements requested in the Appendix A. This should be completed within 2-4 weeks of submission. RTI or NCSC will then contact the Data POC to review and confirm the findings from the review. We may also have questions about variable values or labels and will take all steps to understand your data submission.

3.5 Who do I contact if I have questions?

You may reach out to any of the following RTI staff members for questions or support in submitting your data:

New collection: National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP)

AGENCY: Bureau of Justice Statistics, Department of Justice

ACTION: 60-day Notice.

SUMMARY: The Department of Justice (DOJ), Office of Justice Programs, Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS), will be submitting the following information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for review and approval in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995.

DATES: Comments are encouraged and will be accepted for 60 days until [INSERT DATE 60 DAYS AFTER DATE OF PUBLICATION IN THE FEDERAL REGISTER].

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

If you have additional comments especially on the estimated public burden or associated response time, suggestions, or need a copy of the proposed information collection instrument with instructions or additional information, please contact Erica Grasmick, Statistician, Prosecution and Judicial Statistics Unit, Bureau of Justice Statistics, 810 Seventh Street NW, Washington, DC 20531 (email: Erica.Grasmick@usdoj.gov; telephone: 202-307-1402).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Written comments and suggestions from the public and affected agencies concerning the proposed collection of information are encouraged. Your comments should address one or more of the following four points:

- Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Bureau of Justice Statistics, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- Evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- Evaluate whether and if so how the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected can be enhanced; and
- Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

Overview of this information collection:

- 1) Type of Information Collection: New collection.
- 2) The Title of the Form/Collection: The National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP).
- 3) The agency form number, if any, and the applicable component of the Department sponsoring the collection: The Data Extraction Guide is NPRP-1. The applicable component within the Department of Justice is the Bureau of Justice Statistics, in the Office of Justice Programs.

4) Affected public who will be asked or required to respond, as well as a brief abstract:

Respondents will be local general jurisdiction courts, jails and pretrial services agencies or their information technology (IT) staff. Among other responsibilities, the Bureau of Justice Statistics is charged with collecting data regarding the prosecution of crimes by state and federal offices. The NPRP will focus on the pretrial phase of felony case processing in large counties. This effort will collect information from jails, pretrial services agencies and general jurisdiction courts by requesting data extracts associated with felony filings from case management systems. A total of 125 of the largest 200 counties in the U.S. will be sampled with the top 75 counties sampled with certainty.

BJS will request complete case-level records from the 125 sampled counties and connect data files within jurisdictions through defendant identifiers. The files will then be linked to defendant criminal histories for a comprehensive data file on pretrial release and detention. BJS is requesting that the extracts include all felony cases filed in 2019. BJS is also requesting that the extracts include arrest charges, defendant demographics, pretrial release decisions, pretrial misconduct, case disposition and sentencing. Local jails, pretrial services agencies and courts can provide the data extracts in any format.

5) An estimate of the total number of respondents and the amount of time estimated for an average respondent to respond: BJS will send a data extraction guide to a total of 375 agencies within 125 jurisdictions (one court, one jail, and one pretrial service agency for each county). The expected burden placed on each agency is about 16 hours per agency for data extraction and 10 hours to explain any data inconsistencies or to answer questions of the data collection team.

- 6) *An estimate of the total public burden (in hours) associated with the collection: The total respondent burden is approximately 9,750 burden hours for the 375 agencies.**

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

[OMB Number 1121-NEW]

Agency Information Collection Activities; Proposed Collection Comments Requested;

New collection: National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP)

AGENCY: Bureau of Justice Statistics, Department of Justice

ACTION: 30-day Notice.

SUMMARY: The Department of Justice (DOJ), Office of Justice Programs, Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS), will be submitting the following information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for review and approval in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. The proposed information collection was previously published in the Federal Register Volume 87, Number 31, page 8607, on Tuesday, February 15, 2022, allowing a 60-day comment period. Following publication of the 60-day notice, BJS received three comments. The first comment recommended use of a specific technology as a means to ease the burden on data providers. The second comment recommended the inclusion of people charged with misdemeanors. BJS did not make these changes; BJS has technology suitable to this data collection and misdemeanors would expand the scope of this data collection beyond what BJS feels can be achieved in this iteration. The third comment suggested a focus on electronic monitoring as a condition of release, which BJS feels the current data collection adequately addresses.

DATES: Comments are encouraged and will be accepted for 30 days until [INSERT DATE 60 DAYS AFTER DATE OF PUBLICATION IN THE FEDERAL REGISTER].

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Written comments and recommendations for the proposed information collection should be sent within 30 days of publication of this notice to www.reginfo.gov/public/do/PRAMain. Find this particular information collection by selecting "Currently under 30-day Review - Open for Public Comments" or by using the search function.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Written comments and suggestions from the public and affected agencies concerning the proposed collection of information are encouraged. Your comments should address one or more of the following four points:

Dear (NAME),

I am writing to request your participation in the National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP) collection, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Justice's Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS). BJS administers NPRP to collect case-level data about pretrial processes associated with felony filings in 125 of the largest 200 counties.

NPRP will report aggregate pretrial information on defendants charged with felony offenses in state criminal courts by collecting data on all aspects of case processing from filing through case disposition. To do so, BJS will request data on defendants and their cases, including contextual information about the defendants and their cases, such as their criminal histories, new arrests while on pretrial release, failures to appear in court, and any other violations committed while on release.

In approximately one week, you will receive an invitation to participate in this data collection from BJS's NPRP data collection agent, RTI International (RTI). This request will include a data extract guide. BJS will request data extracts for all felonies filed between January 1, 2019 and December 31, 2019 in courts of general jurisdiction, pretrial services agencies, and jails. There are several ways to provide data, including an extract that follows our formatting request, an unformatted extract, or a complete extract of your data system. The data collected from agencies will be linked with data from other agencies within your jurisdiction and combined with data from other jurisdictions to provide a national picture of the pretrial processes and conduct, types of cases, demographics of defendants, and outcomes of cases.

BJS is authorized to conduct this data collection under 34 U.S.C. § 10132. By law, BJS employees and its data collection agents may only use your agency's information for statistical or research purposes and must protect the confidentiality of information identifiable to a private person (34 U.S.C. § 10231). BJS is not permitted to publicly release your agency's responses in a way that could reasonably identify a specific person.

Answers to frequently asked questions are attached to this email. If you have technical questions regarding NPRP data collection or need assistance with the data extract, please contact the RTI project team at nprp@rti.org or (919) 541-6922. If you have general comments about BJS or NPRP, please contact Erica Grasmick, BJS project manager at Erica.Grasmick@usdoj.gov or (202) 307-1402.

BJS appreciates your generous cooperation and partnership in supporting this important effort.

Sincerely,

Doris J. James Acting Director

Frequently Asked Questions

National Pretrial Reporting Program

APRIL 2022

What is the National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP)?

The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) administers the NPRP to collect and report information on the pretrial case processing of defendants charged with felony offenses in state criminal courts, from case filing through disposition. BJS will collect data on defendant demographics, arrest, offense, and sentencing characteristics, pretrial release and detention status, failures to appear and other violations, and nature of dispositions of cases.

Why should my agency participate?

The NPRP provides important information to policymakers, practitioners, researchers, and the American public about the criminal case processing system in the United States. Your agency's participation is critical to ensure BJS captures accurate information.

How was my agency selected for this project?

All agencies in the largest 75 counties in the United States are requested to participate to promote statistical precision in computed estimates. An additional 50 jurisdictions were chosen via a stratified random sample drawn from the remaining 125 of the largest 200 counties in the United States. As this is a scientific study, your agency's participation will represent your agency while supporting BJS's efforts to generate estimates representative of the nation's 200 most populous counties.

How will BJS protect my agency's data?

BJS will protect the privacy and confidentiality of the data your agency provides to the fullest extent under federal law (34 U.S.C. § 10231 and 28 C.F.R.

Part 22). Any person who violates these provisions may be punished by a fine of up to $10,000, plus other penalties. Per the Federal Cybersecurity Enhancement Act of 2015, your data are further protected from cybersecurity risks through screening of the systems that transmit BJS data. More information about the various authorities that govern BJS data is available in the BJS Data Protection Guidelines on the BJS website.

How will BJS use my agency's data?

By law, BJS may only use the data your agency provides for statistical or research purposes (34 U.S.C. § 10134). BJS is not permitted to publicly release your agency's responses in a way that could reasonably identify a specific private person. This collection provides key information on many topics related to criminal case processing and contextual information about defendants. BJS will publish aggregate-level NPRP data in statistical reports, tables, and charts. Examples of BJS statistical products are available at bjs.ojp.gov.

Consistent with its statistical mission, BJS will make NPRP data available for secondary analysis purposes, subject to strong confidentiality protections and applicable federal law. BJS archives its published data at its official criminal justice data archive, currently the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data (NACJD), to facilitate and encourage criminal justice research. BJS and its archive operate strict controls and apply robust safeguards to protect respondent confidentiality and mitigate potential privacy risks. More information about BJS's archive is available on the NACJD website at <https://www.icpsr.umich.edu/web/pages/NACJD/index.html>.

Does my agency have to participate?

Your agency's participation is completely voluntary. There is no penalty if you choose not to participate, or you may omit any data fields you do not wish to provide. This collection has been approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB #: 1121-XXXX; Exp. Date: XX/XX/20XX).

Who will collect my agency's data?

BJS is authorized by law to conduct this data collection (34 U.S.C. § 10132). BJS awarded funds to the RTI Research Triangle (RTI) to operate as BJS's data collection agent and administer the NPRP survey under BJS's direction. As a condition of funding, RTI is required to comply with all applicable federal laws related to data use, confidentiality, and security.

6c. Data Transfer Protocol

National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP):

Data Transfer Protocol

This data transfer protocol describes data transmission procedures to be followed by RTI International (RTI) Project Director, Suzanne Strong, and Data Manager, Milton Cahoon, for the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS)'s National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP). The protocol also describes data storage and preparation procedures (e.g., deidentification) that RTI will follow. These procedures align with BJS's Data Protection Guidelines.

Research Data

The data to be obtained and analyzed are records related to individuals with cases filed in court with at least one felony charge at case filing:

- For courts, please provide criminal cases filed with at least one felony charge between January 1, 2019 and December 31, 2019. If possible, we would like to follow those cases through to the final disposition or outcome of the case.
- For jails, please provide booking information for all persons booked into jail for an arrest with at least one felony charge between January 1, 2019 and December 31, 2019. We can accept all bookings during that timeframe and select the cases that match our data definitions.
- For pretrial services agencies, please provide referral information for all persons referred to your office for supervision with at least one felony charge between January 1, 2019 and December 31, 2019. We can accept all referrals to your agency during that timeframe and select the cases that match our data definitions.

The data requested for jails, courts, and pretrial services agencies are outlined in a separate data extraction guide. If you do not yet have a copy of the data extract guide, please email nprp@rti.org and we will send it to you.

The RTI Data Management Team, led by NPRP Data Manager Milton Cahoon, will oversee the acquisition and processing of data provided by each county or state agency. These responsibilities include, but are not limited to, preparation needed to transfer data and merge/link, clean, and prepare analytic data files. The Data Management team will develop quality control procedures for updating data files as additional data are received from each site.

NCSC will manage the transfer of court data using the RTI Amazon Web Services (AWS) GovCloud, which is described further in the next sections. NCSC will have access to the AWS and will process the data before passing them to RTI to link to jail and pretrial services agencies in the same county (or state, in the cases where state repositories provide data on behalf of the counties).

Data Transmission Procedure

Once the BJS Data Protection Guidelines have been reviewed with the site's Data Point of Contact (POC), the POC may begin transmitting the requested data:

- The Data Management Team will create a private, password-protected user account for each Data POC to upload data to AWS GovCloud S3 storage or secure server. This AWS GovCloud storage location will only be accessible from designated network subnets.
- The Data POC will provide their subnet range or specific IP address from which they will be accessing AWS GovCloud so the access control rules may be updated to grant access to the Data POC from their network.

- Once data access has been set up, the Data POC will log into their private account to transfer requested data to a secure central data storage system on AWS GovCloud.

Data security note: All data are encrypted in transit to AWS and at rest within AWS (SSL in transit and AES 256-encryption at rest), complying with the FIPS 140-2 standard. The secure AWS GovCloud S3 repository will hold all raw data files received from your county or agency until they are processed and subsequently deleted by the Data Management Team. The Data Management Team controls access to the data storage system; all access to data resources will be logged, and the entire infrastructure will be reviewed and regularly scanned for vulnerabilities by RTI's security team.

Process to Acquire Access to AWS

1. Email Milton Cahoon or Suzanne Strong at nprp@rti.org with your preferred email address for the username and your IP address/subnet range. The username for the account will be the email address you provided.
2. RTI will then set up your private account link.
 - a. You must access the link from the IP address/subnet range that you provided to RTI.
 - b. Use Chrome or Firefox to link to AWS. Avoid using Internet Explorer.
3. RTI will set up a temporary password when we set up your private account link. We will send the password in a separate email from the account link.
 - a. At initial login, you will be prompted to change the initial password. AWS requires a strong password consisting of a minimum of 12 characters with at least one of each: special character, number, uppercase letter, lowercase letter (e.g., #NPRPisgood4me).
 - b. If you forget your password or need to reset it for any reason, please contact Milton Cahoon or nprp@rti.org.
4. The provided URL will automatically direct your web browser to the AWS GovCloud S3 landing page where data may be uploaded. Click the Upload button and follow the instructions presented in the popup window.

If you encounter any difficulties with firewalls or data transfer, RTI will work with you to establish a secure file transfer protocol (SFTP), using either RTI's SFTP or your agency's SFTP.

Post-Transmission Procedures at RTI

AWS notifies the Data Management Team that a file is uploaded, and RTI will begin working on your data. The files will be stored on the secure AWS for data cleaning, processing, and linking. Please note that personal identifiers cannot be stripped from the file until the files are linked between courts, jails, and pretrial services agencies. Once that happens, the Data Management Team will create a crosswalk for the personal identifier to the unique study identifier and remove the personal identifiers. The crosswalk and de-identified file will not be stored on the same server at any time.

Data security note: Personal identifying information stripped from files will be stored in an encrypted workspace (AES 256-encryption and FIPS 140-2 validated) on RTI's private network. Access to the workspace is limited to the Project Director, Data Manager, Data Analyst, and the NCSC Data Analyst. The Principal Investigator may also choose to access the files to review for compliance with the study protocols.

From the site-provided files, the Data Management Team will create deidentified analysis files that contain “raw” data elements (e.g., arrest dates, pretrial release dates, conviction dates), as well as summary variables (e.g., number and type of charges, length of pretrial detention).

Data security note: Since individuals are identified by a study ID in the de-identified files, the analysis files will not contain any personally identifiable information; individual cases will be identified only by a study ID.

RTI will conduct analyses using computational resources available through AWS. Like access to the secure data storage environment, the Data Management Team will manage access to the computing environments.

No information pertaining to a single individual will be released. BJS expects that findings include aggregate descriptive statistics, model coefficients, and results of statistical tests for accuracy and bias.

As required by BJS, RTI will produce a de-identified public use file to be archived with the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data (NACJD, <https://www.icpsr.umich.edu/web/pages/NACJD/index.html>). BJS expects that the data will be stored under some access restrictions, such that persons requesting the data will have to file an application with some description of their proposed research. Data will be de-identified such that no individual person can be identified in the archive file.

Dear (NAME),

I am reaching out on behalf of the [Bureau of Justice Statistics / RTI International / National Center for State Courts / National Association for Pretrial Services Agencies] for the National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP). We sent a data request on [DATE] and [EMAILED/CALLED] on [DATE]. We have not received a response and would like to know how to support you in the data extraction process.

BJS has not collected data on pretrial case processing since 2009 under the State Court Processing Statistics. NPRP expands this collection to include data from courts, jails, and pretrial services agencies. You can see the types of information NPRP will provide at <https://bjs.ojp.gov/data-collection/state-court-processing-statistics-scps>

Your participation is voluntary, and we thank you in advance for your contribution to this important study. By submitting data by [DATE], the study will be able to provide comprehensive and accurate data on pretrial case processing in county courts, jails, and pretrial services agencies.

If you have any questions about the data extraction guide or data transfer protocols, please do not hesitate to contact me via any of the methods listed below.

Sincerely,

Attachment 13 – Tyler Technologies Comments

Executive Summary

Tyler Technologies, Inc. is pleased to provide comments in response to the US Department of Justice (DOJ) Office of Justice Programs (OJP), Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) posting to the Federal Register (FR Doc. 2022-03149) regarding the data collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for the National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP) (The Data Extraction Guide NPRP-1).

At Tyler Technologies (Tyler), our mission is to empower the public sector to create smarter, safer, and stronger communities. As a software provider focused exclusively on the public sector, Tyler builds transformative technologies that modernize and digitize government operations, promoting Open Data, transparency, evidence-based decisions, and citizen engagement. Tyler has many years of experience and familiarity with courts and criminal justice data at state and local levels. The Data and Insights Division (Tyler D&I) focuses on enabling governments to use data as a strategic asset in the design, management, and delivery of programs. We also enable automation, data quality, and information sharing standards for all customers and stakeholders. Our data solutions enable public sector leaders to connect not just systems, but stakeholders within and outside their organization, including across jurisdictions.

Tyler D&I already partners with BJS on an enterprise data platform solution, OJP calls the Data Management Reporting and Analytics (DMRA). The DMRA platform and tools support mission critical functions of managing data as a strategic asset within DOJ. The DMRA allows all OJP program offices increased data value by providing data sharing infrastructure including a data catalog of shared assets, scalable analysis, collaborative workspaces, visualization capabilities, and access to data ingress and data automation for internal and public-facing platforms. Using the tools and platform would extend the value of the DMRA and further allow BJS to provide consumable information for internal and external users.

Tyler D&I is incredibly proud of our strong partnership with DOJ and the excellent performance and results that we have achieved together. We deeply value our partnership and look forward to further supporting the ongoing expansion of DOJ BJS's data program.

We look forward to the opportunity to speak with you further about this effort within BJS.

Comments to Supplementary Information

Tyler Technologies, Inc. understands the purpose of this announcement is to comment on BJS's request of collecting and sampling pretrial information from courts, jails and pretrial service agencies data filed in 2019. Tyler provides the digital infrastructure that connect cities, counties, state, and federal government services to give agencies the ability to share data and insights across departments, jurisdictions, and geographic boundaries.

Individual Points from the Federal Register Posting

Practical Utility

BJS could use the information collected in a number of aggregate ways related to their mission of being the primary statistical agency of the DOJ, collecting, analyzing, publishing, and disseminating information on crime and operations of the justice system. One example would be that the pretrial information collected could be used internally in establishing metrics and evaluations of grants. The data could then be analyzed and shared with the public, to provide further insights when coupled with other publicly available reference data sets, that Tyler has already supported and made available within the DMRA. The process outlined for use with NPRP could be further leveraged for other programs, establishing standard operating procedures for sharing data across jurisdictional boundaries.

Estimate of Burden and Validity of Methodology and Assumptions

BJS estimates an approximate total of 9,750 hours from 375 agencies, breaking this down further to about 16 hours for data extraction and 10 hours to explain inconsistencies or questions from each collection result. BJS is willing to accept data in any format provided by agencies.

Tyler suggests that this burden could be reduced in the following ways:

- Use the DMRA currently in place at OJP, as the data portal to share datasets and assets securely with data ingestion automation built into the platform;
- Use the DMRA tooling to help evaluate, clean and transform data received;
- Create and use metadata standards to organize and structure incoming data;
- Develop a standard for submission format working with partners like Tyler - who provides the software for the majority of court systems in the US at the state and local level; and who have experience with cross jurisdictional pre-trial data.

Quality, Utility, and Clarity of Information

Tyler has experience standardizing information collection and ultimately enhancing analysis, standardization and sharing data across federal, state, and local government agencies. In working with OJP, implementing the DMRA, Tyler has worked closely as a subject matter expert in building data sharing and aggregation programs. Tyler is vested in connecting communities and collaboration. There could be additional opportunities to evaluate existing open data sources of pretrial data to supplement or gain insights while developing this request. BJS could leverage lessons learned from current projects Tyler has underway to increase the quality, utility and clarity of the pretrial data being sought.

Minimize the Burden by Using Information Technology

As noted, using the DMRA in this data collection request would significantly support BJS and the NPRP. It could permit electronic submission of responses from the counties. It could leverage publicly available information and facilitate collaborative data analysis, dashboards, and visualization. Department and geographic information silos could be broken down and the overall process simplified using the information technology currently available.

Attachment 14 – Legal Rights Center Comments

Erica,

Below is my comment regarding the NPRP.

The proposed data collection has enormous value and practical utility. The program proposes to gather data that will help illuminate the relationship between various pretrial decisions and related outcomes. For example, the data collected can be used to establish relationships between risk assessment score and bail amounts or number of days in pretrial detention and case outcome. It can also illustrate the racial and ethnic disparities in pretrial decision-making and show how those disparities ripple through the remainder of the case. While the program would be enhanced by tracking data about misdemeanor and gross misdemeanor charges, a focus on felonies alone will still produce valuable information for governments, courts, and advocates working for more equitable practices in pretrial decision-making.

Thank you!

Attachment 15 – Minnesota Freedom Fund Comments

Hello,

I'm in full support of this proposed data collection effort! The proposed data collection would shine a light on a part of our society that is talked about often but rarely fully understood through comprehensive data. The focus on felony cases is very wise because many reforms have been created around misdemeanors and more and more cases are felony level. Minnesota Freedom Fund is part of the National Bail Fund Network and all the bail funds that are part of that network talk about the importance of data to show the realities of pre-trial detention. I'm also very curious about the rise in mass surveillance efforts and would be very interested in seeing tracking of the use of Electronic Home Monitoring as a condition of release. The program proposes to gather data that will help shine a light on the relationship between various pretrial decisions and related outcomes. For example, the data collected can be used to establish relationships between risk assessment score and bail amounts or number of days in pretrial detention and case outcome. I'm also very interested in seeing the rate at which people plead guilty/take a plea deal and how that relates to bail amount or number of days in jail etc. The data can show current realities and trends around racial and wealth disparities in pretrial decision-making and show how those disparities impact the outcomes of cases. This data will be so valuable to inform governments, courts, and advocates working for more equitable practices in pretrial decision-making. I think a focus on bail and number of days in jail is significant but also putting as much focus on electronic home monitoring as well will show the realities of pre-trial punishment before conviction as electronic home monitoring can be harm reduction but can also be harmful in the same ways and more as being held in custody.

Thank you!

Attachment 16 - Factsheet National Pretrial Reporting Program

MARCH 2022

From 1988 through 2009, the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) collected and reported on court processing data for felony cases in a sample of the 75 largest counties through the State Court Processing Statistics (SCPS) program. Thereafter, SCPS was discontinued due to staffing shortages and limited financial resources. The new National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP) seeks to collect national data on the pretrial process and to answer basic questions such as the number of, demographics of, and charges associated with defendants detained versus those released. BJS also hopes to close existing gaps in national data on pretrial misconduct. Through the NPRP, BJS seeks to expand the former SCPS data collection to cover a sample of the 200 largest counties, with a focus on pretrial release and detention. BJS has partnered with RTI International, the National Center for State Courts (NCSC), the National Association of Pretrial Service Agencies (NAPSA), Applied Research Services, Inc. (ARS), and Pragmatica, Inc. to collect complete case processing data on adults charged with felonies in the sampled counties, including pretrial services, court, and criminal history.

What information will be collected?

We are seeking information on seven primary domains of felony case-level data:

1. Current arrest charges (e.g., offense type, number of charges)
2. Defendant demographic characteristics (e.g., age, sex, race)
3. Prior criminal justice involvement (e.g., prior arrests, prior convictions)
4. Pretrial release decision (e.g., released on recognizance, released with financial conditions, detained)

5. Pretrial misconduct (e.g., failure to appear, arrest for new charges, technical violation of pretrial release)
6. Disposition (e.g., jury trial, court trial, guilty plea)
7. Sentencing (e.g., term of incarceration and/or probation, fines or fees, restitution).

How will the data be used?

Once received, BJS will use the data to publish reports similar to the Felony Defendants in Large Urban Counties series, available at bjs.ojp.gov. All reporting will be in the aggregate, and no personally identifiable information or individual case information will be published.

Example of pretrial release statistics from the SCPS program we plan to report on from the NPRP:

Type of pretrial release for felony defendants in the 75 largest counties, 2009

Source: Bureau of Justice Statistics, State Court Processing Statistics, 2009.

BJS anticipates that courts, pretrial services agencies, jails, and other stakeholders will find the NPRP data useful in assessing their own practices or comparing their agency to other similarly sized ones.

A value-add for the NPRP collection is that the data collection will include information from different systems, such as the local courts, jails, pretrial services agencies, and law enforcement. The linking of these data allows BJS to examine the movement of defendants and cases from filing through pretrial detention or release, potential misconduct during release, and adjudication and sentencing. NAPSA and NCSC will work with the local courts and pretrial services agencies to assist RTI in understanding the data.

What is the timeline for the NPRP?

Since these data were last collected in 2009, BJS first sought to determine the capacity of agencies to extract data from their systems and the policies that may be reflected in the data. To aid this effort, RTI and NCSC conducted a series of policy and data capacity interviews with courts, jails, and pretrial services agencies that monitor pretrial release. These interviews collected information from many of the largest 200 counties in the United States.

Case-level data collection will begin as the policy and data capacity interviews are completed. BJS expects that data collection will commence in late spring of 2022.

Why should you participate?

Collecting and analyzing case-level data regarding pretrial release fills a critical information gap faced by policymakers, court and jail staff, and other stakeholders. The NPRP collection will provide information about how many individuals are detained without a bond set and how many are detained with a bond set but are unable to post the bond. Additionally, these data will provide statistics on pretrial release and detention rates, as well as pretrial misconduct and safety rates. Further, our analyses will provide other important statistics about the use of bail schedules, pretrial risk assessments, and bail reviews to help provide a national picture of the use of these tools.

Attachment 17 – Letter of Support

[LOGOS of supporting agencies NAPSA, NCSC, and the remaining TBD]

[DATE]

Dear [Title] [Name],

The U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) is responding to a request from Congress to collect data about pretrial release in the U.S. Part of that response requires BJS to request data from courts, pretrial services agencies, and jails for the National Pretrial Reporting Program (NPRP).

NPRP will collect data about persons charged with at least one felony in calendar year 2019, the most recent year before the disruption of the COVID-19 pandemic. The information gathered during this collection will assist Federal, State, and local officials in their efforts to assess the use and variation of pretrial release across the country. As part of this project, your office completed either an interview or a survey about the ability to provide data, and now we are asking you to provide that information.

NPRP will help to answer questions about the mechanisms of pretrial release, the use of pretrial risk assessments, the amounts of bond set for felony charges, whether people released pretrial fail to appear for court hearings or commit new crimes, and how often people are detained for the entire pretrial period.

The National Association of Pretrial Service Agencies, the National Center for State Courts, and (other agencies) support this project, and encourage you to participate. Please reach out to our contacts below if you have any questions about the data collection, timeframe, or purposes of the study.

Thank you,
Jim Sawyer
