E. ESTABLISHMENT OF A MASTER FILE FOR THE EXPORT OF LIVE ANIMALS BRED IN CAPTIVITY IN THE UNITED STATES (CITES)

This application allows you set up a Master File for exports of live animals bred in captivity under CITES. The Master File is valid for three years and is renewable. Once the Master File is approved you must obtain single-use permits, valid for 6 months, for each export (50 CFR 13.11).

Note 1: Species that are listed on pages 5 and 6 of this application are currently eligible for inclusion in a master file. This list contains species where it has been determined that specimens were born or hatched from parents mated in captivity in the United States qualify as Bred-in-Captivity in accordance with CITES Resolution Conf. 10.16 (Rev.) and are therefore eligible for issuance of certificates under the provisions of CITES Article VII, paragraph 5. If a species you are interested in including on a master file is not listed, you may either submit application form 3-200-24 or complete questions 6 through 10 of this application to request that specimens produced at your facility be considered Bred-in-Captivity. If it is determined that your specimens do not meet the criteria under Resolution Conf. 10.16 (Rev.), you may still be eligible to obtain individual export permits for the specimens.

Note 2: We may not be able to issue CITES documents for the commercial export of Appendix-I specimens, unless the specimens were produced at a commercial breeding operation that is registered with CITES Secretariat. For more information on registering commercial breeding operation for Appendix-I wildlife, contact the Division of Management Authority at managementauthority@fws.gov.

Electronic submission of inventories, photographs, and receipts/invoices: If you wish to provide information electronically, please include a flash drive containing your information with your physical application.
