BILLING CODE 4910-13-P

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Surface Transportation Board

[Docket No. FD 35957]

Michael Williams—Control Exemption—SDR Holding Company

Michael Williams (Williams), a noncarrier individual, has filed a verified notice of exemption pursuant to 49 CFR 1180.2(d)(2), to continue in control of SDR Holding Company (SDR), upon its acquisition of control of Dakota Southern Railway Company (Dakota Southern), a Class III rail carrier.¹

¹ This notice was originally filed on September 15, 2015. On October 14, 2015, the Board served a decision holding the proceeding in abeyance and

According to Williams, SDR and Dakota Southern entered into a stock purchase agreement dated September 30, 2009, by which SDR acquired all of Dakota Southern's stock.²

The exemption will become effective on December 29, 2015.

According to Williams, he currently owns and controls the following Class III rail carriers: (1) BG & CM Railroad (76.2 miles of rail line in Idaho); (2) Ozark Valley Railroad (24.99 miles of purchased and leased rail line in Missouri); (3) St. Maries River Railroad (71 miles of rail line in Idaho); (4) McCloud Railway (19.6 miles of rail line in California); and (5) Boot Hill & Western Railway Holding Co., Inc. (10.2 miles of rail line and the right to reactivate service on 15.8 miles of rail-banked rail line in Kansas).

Williams certifies that: (1) Dakota Southern does not connect with any other railroads owned and controlled by Williams; (2) the proposed transaction is not part of a series of anticipated transactions that would result in such a connection; and (3) the proposed transaction does not involve a Class I rail carrier. The proposed transaction is therefore exempt from the prior approval requirements of 49 U.S.C. 11323 pursuant to 49 CFR 1180.2(d)(2).

Under 49 U.S.C. 10502(g), the Board may not use its exemption authority to relieve a rail carrier of its statutory obligation to protect the interests of its employees. Section 11326(c), however, does not provide for labor protection for transactions under 11324 and 11325 that involve only Class III rail carriers. Accordingly, the Board may not impose labor protective conditions here because all of the carriers involved are Class III carriers.

If the verified notice contains false or misleading information, the exemption is void ab initio. Petitions to revoke the exemption under 49 U.S.C. 10502(d) may be filed at any time. The filing of a petition to revoke will not automatically stay the effectiveness of the exemption. Petitions to stay must be filed by December 22, 2015 (at least seven days before the exemption becomes effective).

An original and ten copies of all pleadings, referring to Docket No. FD 35957, must be filed with the Surface directing Williams to file supplemental information by November 3, 2015. Williams filed the supplemental information on November 3, 2015. George A. Huff submitted a comment on November 10, 2015. Williams filed a response on December 2, 2015. On December 10, 2015, the Board served a decision permitting publication of the notice based upon Williams' November 3 supplemental filing.

² Williams filed a copy of the stock purchase agreement with the notice of exemption. (Williams Notice, Ex. B.)

Transportation Board, 395 E Street SW., Washington, DC 20423-0001. In addition, a copy of each pleading must be served on: Charles H. Montange, Law Offices of Charles H. Montange, 426 NW 162d St., Seattle, WA 98177.

Board decisions and notices are available on our Web site at "WWW.STB.DOT.GOV."

Decided: December 10, 2015.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Office of the Secretary

[Docket No. DOT-OST-2015-0235]

Privacy Act of 1974; Department of Transportation, Federal Aviation Administration, DOT/FAA-801; Aircraft Registration Records System of Records Notice

AGENCY: Office of the Departmental Chief Information Officer, Office of the Secretary of Transportation, DOT.

ACTION: Notice of Privacy Act system of records.

SUMMARY: In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, the United States Department of Transportation proposes to rename, update and reissue a current Department of Transportation system of records titled, "Department of Transportation Federal Aviation Administration; DOT/FAA-801, Aviation Registration System." Given that this system of records is comprised of multiple electronic databases, we are changing the name from "Aviation Registration System" to "Aviation Registration Records" to reflect that the system of records includes all Privacy Act records related to aircraft registration that are maintained by the Federal Aviation Administration Aircraft Registration Branch. In addition, this system is being updated to clarify the purpose of the Aircraft Registration Records system of records, which maintains electronic records of aircraft registration, including registration forms and supporting documents, instruments affecting ownership, aircraft financing, leases, and lien interests, as well as airworthiness applications and major repair and alteration reports. This system also includes registration records for small unmanned aircraft used for hobby and recreational purpose (i.e., model aircraft) and unmanned aircraft and small unmanned aircraft used for commercial purposes. The system of records notice is also being updated to add categories of records and to remove duplicative routine uses and clarify the remaining routine uses. Finally, the authorities, record retention, safeguarding and storage procedures, and notification, record access, and contesting records sections have been updated to reflect changes since the last publication of the system of records notice in 2000.

DATES: Written comments should be submitted on or before January 14, 2016. The Department may publish an amended Systems of Records Notice in light of any comments received. This new system will be effective January 14, 2016.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a, the Department of Transportation (DOT)/Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) proposes to rename, update and reissue a DOT system of records titled, "DOT/FAA-801 Aviation Registration System." The Department is establishing a streamlined, Web-based aircraft registration process for small unmanned aircraft systems. Owners of sUAS, however, may opt to register their sUAS through the existing paper-based process used to register manned aircraft in accordance with the procedures and requirements described in 14 CFR part 47 (the "part 47"). Also, owners of unmanned aircraft systems (UASs) that do not qualify as sUAS must continue to comply with part 47 and register their aircraft through the paper-based process.

All sUAS owners who register their aircraft under part 48 must first create an account to access the Web-based application using their email address and a password. Once an account is created, sUAS owners register their aircraft by providing their name, mailing address, and physical address, if different from their mailing address. These applicants also may provide their telephone number. Those who register their sUAS under part 48 may have to submit additional information, depending on the intended use for the sUAS. Individuals intending to fly sUAS for commercial purposes (as well as Federal, State, and local governments and corporations) are required to include their telephone number, and sUAS make, model, and serial number with their application.

Under part 48, each sUAS (hereinafter "model aircraft") owner registering for hobby and recreational purposes will receive a unique identifier for use on all model aircraft registered by that owner. Each sUAS used for non-model aircraft operations (e.g., commercial use) will be assigned a unique identifier only for use with that aircraft. These registrants also must provide their credit card information (e.g., credit card number, expiration date, security code, and billing address) for payment of the registration fee. The FAA will assign a transaction identification number (ID) upon confirmation of payment.

For all other aircraft required to be registered with the FAA, the FAA will continue to use the existing paper-based registration process under part 47. Applicants for aircraft registration must provide the FAA with their aircraft's manufacturer name, model, and serial number, the registered owner's contact information (name and physical address). Applicants must also provide any documents affecting aircraft ownership, loan, lien, or lease interests.

All records maintained by the FAA in connection with aircraft registered are included in the Aircraft Registry and made available to the public, except email address and credit card information submitted under part 48.

In order to facilitate implementation of the streamlined alternative registration process for small unmanned aircraft, the system of records notice (SORN) for the Aviation Registration System is being updated. Additionally, the SORN is being renamed, and updated to more accurately reflect and provide greater transparency regarding the collection, use, sharing, and maintenance of Privacy Act records in the Aircraft Registration system as a whole.

Because sUAS registered under part 48 have different registration requirements than aircraft registered under part 47, the categories of records has been updated to reflect the addition of email address and credit card information for registrants who register under part 48. The collection of email addresses will enable the FAA to establish user accounts for the FAA UAS Registration Service to facilitate access, and to quickly disseminate safety and educational materials to these sUAS owners, in furtherance of the FAA's safety and education objectives for unmanned aircraft operations. In addition, registrants under part 48 must pay the Aircraft Registration Fee as part of the online application process, thus, the SORN is being updated to include credit card information in the categories of records.

Additionally, we are renaming the system to "Aviation Registration Records." Aviation Registration Records are maintained in several electronic databases. We are changing the name to clarify that the system of records includes all Privacy Act records related to aircraft registration that are maintained by the FAA Aircraft Registration Branch. Further, in the authorities section, we removed the reference to 49 U.S.C. 40101, which states the policy objectives that underlie DOT and FAA administration of the aviation-related provisions in Title 49 of the United States Code, but do not specifically authorize this system.

We also consolidated the routine uses and revised the remainder for clarity. Under the Privacy Act, "routine use" refers to a disclosure of the information in the system to a person or entity outside of the DOT/FAA, "for a purpose which is compatible with the purposes for which it is collected." 5 U.S.C. 552a(a)(7). The routine uses, as they have appeared in the SORN for several decades, describe several purposes of disclosure from the Aircraft Registry. These routine uses, however, did not specifically describe what information may be disclosed and to whom information may be disclosed. Thus, we are updating the routine uses to clarify that Aircraft Registry data is available to the general public through the FAA's Web site, or in person at or by written request to the Aircraft Registration Branch. The Aircraft Registry also may be accessed by federal, state, local, or foreign law enforcement to support investigations, the National Transportation Safety Board in connection with accident investigations, title search companies and banks to determine legal ownership of an aircraft, aircraft manufacturers to provide aircraft owners and operators with information about potential mechanical defects or unsafe conditions of their aircraft, lawyers and parties to litigation in support of court cases involving individual liability, the International Civil Aviation Organization and its members to verify aircraft ownership and country of registration, or others. Thus, we consolidated and revised the routine uses to reflect that Aircraft Registry data is publicly available, which also includes access to information from the Aircraft Registry by other government entities, companies, and international organizations. All aircraft registration information for manned aircraft, UAS, and sUAS registered under part 47 are accessible to the public through the public Aircraft Registry Web site at <http://registry.faa.gov/aircraftinquiry/>. As previously mentioned, email addresses, telephone number, and credit card information of sUAS owners registered under part 48 will not be available to the public and will only be disclosed in accordance with the General Routine Uses applicable to all of the Department's systems of records. Additionally, the public may only retrieve model aircraft owners' name and address in the publicly available Aircraft Registry by the aircraft registration number (i.e., the public may not retrieve data by an owner's name or address). Finally, we are adding a routine use clarifying that the FAA may disclose any aircraft registration information to law enforcement entities, when necessary and relevant to a FAA enforcement activity. These revisions to the routine uses do not substantively change the current routine uses for aircraft registration records. Relatedly, we revised the purpose section to include provisions reflecting the purpose of the system that had previously been captured as part of the routine uses.

Finally, we updated the sections on storage, record retention, and safeguarding procedures to reflect changes since the last publication of the SORN in 2000. Since 2000, the FAA began digitally imaging paper files for electronic storage and retrieval and the SORN section on storage was revised accordingly. The record retention provision was updated to make it consistent with the record retention section approved by the National Archive and Records Administration (NARA) in 2005. This update was inadvertently omitted from the Department's 2010 update to this SORN. The current record retention schedule, as approved in 2005, declared all records in the Aircraft Registration System to be of permanent value. The Department is currently evaluating whether registration records received under part 48, in particular, or UAS registration records, more generally, should similarly be retained permanently, or if an alternate schedule is more appropriate. This is also reflected in this updated SORN. Lastly, the notification, records access, and contesting records procedures have been revised for additional clarity regarding FAA redress policies and procedures.

II. Privacy Act

The Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a) governs the means by which the Federal Government collects, maintains, and uses personally identifiable information (PII) in a System of Records. A "System of Records" is a group of any records under the control of a Federal agency from which information about individuals is retrieved by name or other personal identifier. The Privacy Act requires each agency to publish in the Federal Register a System of Records notice (SORN) identifying and describing each System of Records the agency maintains, including the purposes for which the agency uses PII in the system, the routine uses for which the agency discloses such information outside the agency, and how individuals to whom a Privacy Act record pertains can exercise their rights under the Privacy Act (e.g., to determine if the system contains information about them and to contest inaccurate information).

In accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(r), DOT has provided a report of this system of records to the Office of Management and Budget and to Congress.

Individual records for registered and canceled aircraft are maintained in an electronic digital image system. Some canceled aircraft records are stored as paper file folders until their conversion to digital images is completed. Backup copies of imaged records are stored at remote locations

RETRIEVABILITY:

Records of registered and cancelled aircraft in the digital image system may be retrieved by registration number, the manufacturer's name, model, and serial-number, credit card transaction number, and by the name of the current registered owner. Records are retrieved by the aircraft description. Unconverted canceled records may be retrieved using a former registration number and the manufacturer's name, model and serial-number.

Records in this system are safeguarded in accordance with applicable rules and policies, including all applicable DOT automated systems security and access policies. Strict controls have been imposed to minimize the risk of compromising the information that is being stored. Access to the computer system containing the records in this system is limited to individuals who have a need to know the information for the performance of their official duties and who have appropriate clearances or permissions.

RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

Aircraft registration records submitted under 14 CFR part 47 have been deemed by the National Archives and Records Administration to be of permanent value (see NARA Schedule N1-237-04-3). Paper copies of registration submissions are destroyed once the original is scanned into the system and the digital image is determined to be an adequate substitute for paper records. Copies of the Aircraft Registration system are transferred to NARA on an annual basis.

The FAA is working with NARA to establish an appropriate retention period for aircraft registration records submitted under 14 CFR part 48.

Consistent with the Federal Records Act, the FAA will manage these records as permanent records under NARA has determined their historical value and issued an approved records disposition schedule.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a, the Department of Transportation (DOT)/Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) proposes to update and reissue a DOT system of records titled, "DOT/FAA-801 Aviation Registration Records."

In May of 2010, the FAA published a final rule titled Department of Transportation, Federal Aviation Administration, 14 CFR part 91, Automatic Dependent Surveillance-Broadcast (ADS-B) Out Performance Requirements. This rule mandates that aircraft flying in certain controlled airspace be equipped with ADS-B Out technology by Jan. 1, 2020. In order to accelerate compliance with the 2010 ADS-B Out Final Rule, the FAA is offering a financial incentive to owners of general aviation aircraft to encourage compliance with the ADS-B Out Final Rule. Rebates are available to owners of U.S.-registered, fixed-wing, single-engine piston aircraft that purchase and install FAA Technical Standard Orders (TSO) certified avionics. The FAA will offer up to 20,000 rebates of $500 on a first-come, first-served basis to owners of these aircraft; and so long as funding is available or one (1) year from the beginning of the program; whichever occurs first.

In order for an aircraft owner to initiate the rebate claim process, they must access the GA ADS-B Rebate Program web application, provide the aircraft registration number, their email address, signature and click statements acknowledging no liability to the FAA for their ADS-B equipment. The ADS-B rebate application will manage rebate reservation and claim records which includes a rebate code, incentive code, and the email address associated with every rebate reservation and claim. The purpose of the rebate reservation code and incentive code is to allocate one of the 20,000 rebates available and to ensure the aircraft has completed the equipment installation. Once the reservation application process is complete, the owner is emailed a rebate reservation code. This unique code is used in the ADS-B rebate Web site application to ensure that only one aircraft and associated owner receives a rebate.

ADS-B, Traffic Information Service—Broadcast (TIS-B), and Flight Information Service—Broadcast (FIS-B) records are created when a pilot submits an ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B Problem Report to the FAA to report an issue or problem with any of the ADS-B-related services provided by the FAA. The FAA uses the email address collected in order to communicate back to the reporting pilot about the issue or problem that they reported.

The ADS-B Compliance Monitor (CM) enables FAA to assist aircraft owners, pilots and avionics installers to validate the performance of their ADS-B equipment installation upon request. This is communicated via the Public ADS-B Performance Report (PAPR).

In order to complete the claim rebate process, no later than 60 days after the scheduled installation date provided in the reservation, the aircraft owner must go to the GA ADS-B Rebate Web site and provide their aircraft registration number, rebate reservation code, incentive code and email address. If approved, the rebate payments will be processed by the third party vendor Aircraft Electronics Association (AEA). AEA will then issue the aircraft owner a rebate check based on the information provided by the FAA. The FAA will receive the check number and date of issuance from AEA to validate the process was completed.

This system of records notice (SORN) is being updated to add the new categories of records held for operational implementation of the ADS-B Out Rulemaking including administration of the GA ADS-B Rebate program on-going compliance monitoring, and ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B problem report programs. The authorities for collection are being expanded to include Section 221(a) of the FAA Modernization Act of 2012 which provides for the establishment of the ADS-B incentive program which is in the interest of achieving next generation capabilities for such aircraft. The purpose section is being updated to reflect the data collected and used by the FAA necessary validate aircraft eligibility for the ADS-B rebate program and to send payment to the aircraft owner's address of record. The data collected and utilized includes information previously provided by aircraft owners during aircraft registration process and maintained in the CAR as well as the separate collection of name, home address and aircraft tail number. In addition, to support of the ADS-B Rebate program the information contained in these systems will be used by the FAA to provide program oversight and perform statistical analysis of various parameters of the FAA ADS-B Program in support of FAA's safety programs and agency management. The storage and safeguarding sections of this SORN are being updated to reflect that payment information is being stored at a third party vendor location to issue a rebate to aircraft owners in connection with the ADS-B rebate program.

The records retention section is being updated to reflect the proposed records schedule for the ADS-B rebate, CM programs and ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B Problem Reports. Finally the retrievability section is being updated because the ADS-B rebate program and ADS-B CM records are retrieved by the aircraft registration number. Additional non-substantive modifications have been made to the SORN text to provide clarity.

II. Privacy Act

The Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a) governs the means by which the Federal Government collects, maintains, and uses personally identifiable information (PII) in a System of Records. A "System of Records" is a group of any records under the control of a Federal agency from which information about individuals is retrieved by name or other personal identifier. The Privacy Act requires each agency to publish in the Federal Register a System of Records notice (SORN) identifying and describing each System of Records the agency maintains, including the purposes for which the agency uses PII in the system, the routine uses for which the agency discloses such information outside the agency, and how individuals to whom a Privacy Act record pertains can exercise their rights under the Privacy Act (e.g., to determine if the system contains information about them and to contest inaccurate information).

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORING, RETRIEVING, ACCESSING, RETAINING, AND DISPOSING OF RECORDS IN THE SYSTEM:

STORAGE:

Individual records for registered and canceled aircraft are maintained in an electronic digital image system. Some canceled aircraft records are stored as paper file folders until their conversion to digital images is completed. Backup copies of imaged records are stored at remote locations. ADS-B Rebate Web site records, ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B Problem Report records, and ADS-B CM records are maintained on the Electronic Data Centers Oracle Real Application Clusters (RAC) Systems at FAA facilities. ADS-B rebate program payment records are stored on the FAA servers.

Access to ADS-B CM Rebate and ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B Problem Report records are limited to those with appropriate security credentials, an authorized purpose, and need-to-know. The FAA deploys role-based access controls in addition to other protection measures reviewed and certified by the FAA's cybersecurity professionals to maintain the confidentiality, integrity, and availability requirements of the system.

Aircraft registration records submitted under 14 CFR part 47 have been deemed by the National Archives and Records Administration to be of permanent value (see NARA Schedule N1-237-04-3). Paper copies of registration submissions are destroyed once the original is scanned into the system and the digital image is determined to be an adequate substitute for paper records. Copies of the Aircraft Registration system are transferred to NARA on an annual basis. The FAA has submitted to NARA a recommended retention period for aircraft registration records submitted under 14 CFR part 48 as permanent which is consistent with the registration of manned aircraft. Until small UAS registration records have been scheduled with NARA the FAA will provide annual snapshots of the database to NARA to determine historical value. The FAA (DAA-0237-2016-0008) proposes to maintain most records created in support of the ADS-B Rebate Program for 3 years after the program ends; payment records will be retained for 6 years; The FAA will manage ADS-B related records as permanent records until the proposed schedule is approved by NARA.
