Older Workers Implementation and Descriptive Study SCSEP SUBGRANTEE AND LOCAL SITE PROGRAM DIRECTORS/STAFF INTERVIEW GUIDE

Introduction

I am [Name] a researcher from [Urban Institute/Capital Research Corporation], a policy research organization based in Washington, DC. The US Department of Labor (DOL) Chief Evaluation Office, in collaboration with the Employment Training Administration (ETA), has funded the Urban Institute and its partner Capital Research Corporation, to conduct the Older Workers Implementation and Descriptive Study. The purpose of this study is to build evidence about the implementation of the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) and other DOL workforce programs serving older workers to inform the continuous improvement of SCSEP.

As part of this study, the Urban Institute team is conducting a round of [virtual or in-person] site visits to 20 SCSEP subgrantees to and local sites of national grantees to better understand current SCSEP program components and services, with an important focus on identifying the broad array of strategies for serving older workers. As part of each visit, we are conducting interviews with program directors and staff involved in the SCSEP service delivery at the local level, as well as SCSEP partners, host agencies, employers, and participants. Additionally, as part of our site visits, we will interview the national grantee for which your organization is a subgrantee or a local site.

Your responses in this interview—combined with our subgrantee and local site survey and interviews of SCSEP program staff, partners, your national grantee, and participants—will result in a report that will offer lessons for policymakers and practitioners to inform SCSEP implementation and improvement and inform future research and evaluation activities.

Older Workers Implementation and Descriptive Study

SCSEP HOST AGENCY INTERVIEW GUIDE

Introduction

I am a researcher from [Urban Institute/Capital Research Corporation], a policy research organization based in Washington, DC. The US Department of Labor (DOL) Chief Evaluation Office, in collaboration with the Employment Training Administration (ETA), has funded the Urban Institute and its partner Capital Research Corporation, to conduct the Older Workers Implementation and Descriptive Study. The purpose of this study is to build evidence about the implementation of the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) and other DOL workforce programs serving older workers to inform the continuous improvement of SCSEP.

As part of this study, the Urban Institute team is conducting a round of virtual site visits to 20 SCSEP subgrantees to better understand current SCSEP components and services, with an important focus on identifying the broad array of strategies for serving older workers. As part of each visit, we are conducting interviews with host agencies who have partnered with local SCSEP programs to learn more about your experiences with providing SCSEP participants with community assignments. We are also interviewing SCSEP administrators and staff and other SCSEP partners such as community-based organizations, employers, and American Job Centers.

Your responses in this interview—combined with our subgrantee and local site survey and interviews of SCSEP program staff, partners, national grantees, and participants—will result in a report that will offer lessons for policymakers and practitioners to inform SCSEP implementation and improvement and inform future research and evaluation activities.

Older Workers Implementation and Descriptive Study

SCSEP COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION PARTNERS INTERVIEW GUIDE

Introduction

I am [Name] a researcher from [Urban Institute/Capital Research Corporation], a policy research organization based in Washington, DC. The US Department of Labor (DOL) Chief Evaluation Office, in collaboration with the Employment Training Administration (ETA), has funded the Urban Institute and its partner Capital Research Corporation, to conduct the Older Workers Implementation and Descriptive Study. The purpose of this study is to build evidence about the implementation of the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) and other DOL workforce programs serving older workers to inform the continuous improvement of SCSEP.

As part of this study, the Urban Institute team is conducting a round of virtual site visits to 20 SCSEP subgrantees to and local sites of national grantees to better understand current SCSEP components and services, with an important focus on identifying the broad array of strategies for serving older workers. As part of each visit, we are conducting interviews with organizations that have partnered with SCSEP local programs. We are also interviewing SCSEP program directors and staff and other SCSEP partners such as host agencies, employers, and American Job Centers.

Your responses in this interview—combined with our subgrantee and local site survey and interviews of SCSEP program staff, partners, national grantees, and participants—will offer lessons for policymakers and practitioners to inform SCSEP implementation and improvement and inform future research and evaluation activities.

SCSEP PARTICIPANT FOCUS GROUP GUIDE

I. Welcome and Introduction by Urban (10 min)

Hello, my name is [NAME OF FACILITATOR]. I'm part of the Urban Institute (Urban) team that is studying the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP). This is [URBAN STAFF NAME] who will be taking notes to make sure we get a complete record of today's discussion. Urban is a non-profit research organization based in Washington, DC. We are doing this study for the U.S. Department of Labor to learn more about how SCSEP works and how it helps older adults facing employment challenges. We'd also like to hear your thoughts about what parts of the program work well and what might need to be improved.

We appreciate your willingness to be here today.

[Show the following information on one or more screens and read aloud]

This discussion is intended to find out about your experiences in SCSEP and your opinions about the program.

Your participation is voluntary, and you can refuse to answer any question. Also, at any point you can decide to stop participating in this group session. It is important to also note that, voluntary also means that you can choose not to participate in the study at all. There will be no negative consequences if you choose not to participate.

We appreciate your willingness to be here today. At the end of today's group, we will send you $25 to thank you for participation.

This focus group will take about one hour. The information you provide is considered private by the study team and we will not share your response outside of our team in any way that identifies you. We will combine responses across all SCSEP participants who we interview and report out our findings at an aggregate level. If we quote you, we will not identify your name or location. In fact, you do not even have to share your real name with us. If you would like, you can make up a name for yourself today that we will use during the discussion.

We have taken reasonable precautions to ensure the security of the videoconferencing platform, however, there is some chance it could be accessed (hacked) by unauthorized entities so please keep that in mind.

We ask all participants to not repeat any of the information they hear, do not to record, take screenshots or otherwise divulge the contents of the discussion. We advise you to take into consideration that we do not have the ability to assure that what you say will not be repeated by other participants.

[End screen sharing]

As the facilitator, my role here is to ask questions and listen. Everyone's participation today is important to us, and we want everyone to have an opportunity to speak. If one of you is sharing a lot, I may ask you to let others talk. If you aren't saying much, I may ask for your thoughts.

Attachment H

Now that we've gone over the purpose of the focus group and how we will treat the information you share, do you have any questions? [Answer any questions.]

We ask that each of you orally consent to participating in the focus group, one by one. [Ensure all attendees respond.] Anyone who no longer wants to participate can leave this video call at this time.

For those who remain, please do not share any information during the discussion with anyone outside of this group.

Do we have your permission to record this discussion? It is for the purpose of ensuring the accuracy of our notes and we will delete the recording once we finalize our notes. [Ask for permission one by one.]
