

National School Meals Study (NSMS) Household Survey Consent Form

PURPOSE: The United States Department of Food and Agriculture (USDA), Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) funds the National School Lunch and School Breakfast programs. These programs help schools in providing nutritious meals to children. The USDA is conducting a series of studies to gather up-to-date information about these programs, including: a) who they serve, b) how participants feel about the meal services they receive, and c) how eligibility for program participation is collected and reported. Through this study, USDA FNS wants to know more about how school meals are served and how schools determine household eligibility and report meal claims to the USDA. This Study includes a household survey conducted by a research organization, Westat.

HOW YOU WERE SELECTED: Your household was chosen randomly from a list of households from your school.

INFORMATION TO BE COLLECTED: As the parent, or guardian, you will be asked about your child's experience with the breakfast and lunch programs provided by your school, as well as household size and income information used to determine eligibility for meal benefits. We will give you a worksheet to prepare for the survey before talk with you. The survey will take place virtually via video call. It is your choice to use the video or not (you can also call in using your phone). We will schedule the call at a time that you prefer.

RISKS AND PRIVACY: There is little risk to being part of this study. We use all data we collect only for the purposes we describe. Many steps are taken to keep your data private to the full extent allowed by law. Any reports we prepare will combine your answers with those from other people in the study to summarize what we found. Your name, your child's name, and your contact information (e.g., phone number and address) will never be in the reports we prepare. Nothing you say is shared with the school your child attends or any agency that provides benefits to your household. Participating in the study may not help you individually, but your participation will help the USDA improve the National School Lunch and School Breakfast programs.

STUDY COSTS AND COMPENSATION: There is no cost to you to join this study. The interview takes about 45 minutes. As a thank you, you can receive up to a $60 Visa gift card, depending on the tasks you complete. You will get a $40 Visa gift card for completing the survey and you will get an extra $20 on the gift card if you also provide the documents to verify your income.

VOLUNTARY PARTICIPATION: You do not have to take part in this study. It is your choice to be in this study or not. You may skip any question you do not wish to answer, and you can stop the interview at any time. Signing this consent form does not waive any of your legal rights. If you do not participate, you will not lose any benefits you may receive. Also, it will not impact any benefits the school district receives.

QUESTIONS: If you have questions now, you should talk to the interviewer. If you have questions about the study later, you may call Roline Milfort, the study project director, toll-free at <Toll Free Number>, or visit our study's website at <URL>. If you have questions about your rights as a research participant, please call the Westat Human Subjects Protections office at <Toll Free Number>.
