Introduction

Welcome to the online application for the United States Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps (JAG Corps). Use this online application for the following programs:

Student Program (SP) - The Navy JAG Corps SP permits law students to commission in the inactive Naval Reserve while attending law school. Upon graduation and successful completion of a bar examination and the Navy officer training course, SP participants serve on active duty for four years beginning as lieutenants (junior grade). This is our largest source of new attorneys for the Navy JAG Corps.

Direct Appointment (DA) - The Navy JAG Corps DA permits licensed attorneys to be appointed directly into the Navy JAG Corps beginning as lieutenants (junior grade). DA participants will serve at least four years on active duty followed by at least four years on the list of inactive Navy JAG Corps Reservists. This is a small program designed to supplement the Navy JAG Corps with experienced and capable trial-level litigators and leaders.

Instructions for Applying Online

To ensure your browser is compatible with our server, we highly recommend using Internet Explorer 6 or higher. This site is best viewed at a resolution of 1024x768 or greater.

This web site enables you to submit a preliminary application for the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps (JAG Corps) Direct Appointment or Student Program. The application process consists of several steps:

- Create an online account.
- Log in and begin entering data into the various application sections. If needed, you may log out and return at a later time to enter or update any section.
- When done entering all required sections, preview your application to verify it for accuracy.
- Submit your online application
- Upload all required documents.
- Upload or send us all required documents.

By submitting an online application along with all requested documents, you may receive a professional recommendation for a commission from the Navy's JAG Corps Accessions Selection Board. If this application results in a favorable recommendation, it does not guarantee you a commission nor does it require the Navy to offer you a commission into the Navy JAG Corps. You must submit an official application for a commission via your Navy Recruiting District (NRD) to be considered for a commission. That application is an entirely different form and must be obtained and submitted through the NRD. The Navy may or may not offer you a commission based on the results of your complete and official application package, including but not limited to, the medical examination and security screening.

Only complete applications submitted by the application deadline will be considered. Specific program deadlines will be displayed once you log in and begin the applicant steps.

Enter Interview Information

All applicants must complete an interview with two Navy JAG Corps officers (also known as a "Structured Interview") before their application will be considered. Informational interviews and interviews with other branches of service do not satisfy this requirement. Once completed, this interview is valid for three years. Applicants may not complete more than one interview within a three-year period. Visit the Navy JAG Career Site for instructions on how to schedule your interview.

If you have already completed your interview, please enter the information below. Otherwise, proceed to the next section.

You must formally submit your application using the Submit Application button below. To be considered for a particular program deadline, you must submit your application before the application deadline. You can submit your application only once per program deadline, so click below only when you have completed all information and are ready to apply. By clicking the Submit Application button, you certify that all the information contained within this application is accurate and true to the best of your knowledge.

If you are not selected for the program you applied for, may other military services contact you? Yes

Submit Application

You must also upload or send all required documents before the deadline. Use the Upload Documents menu to upload your required documents electronically. If you are unable to upload a required document, you may also send it to us by email at navyaccessions@navy.mil, or by mail. If you have not already completed your interview, it must also be completed before the deadline or your application will not be considered.

Selection board results are normally posted to this system within approximately ten weeks of the application deadline. You can check the status of your application at any time by logging into this system and viewing your Home page. Submitted applications will display as "pending" until board results are posted.
