

---

Choices for Prevention

---

Hello _____,

We would like to invite your organizations' clients to participate in an online survey for a research study funded by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). The purpose of the study is to understand how different characteristics of HIV prevention services, including availability of new longer-acting PrEP methods, influence the decision to use PrEP for HIV prevention. PrEP, or pre-exposure prophylaxis, is medicine people can take to prevent getting HIV from sex or injection drug use.

Would you please post the information below to your listservs, social media accounts, and/or website to help us with recruitment? We have also attached the information as a .JPEG image and as a PDF flyer that can be posted in your clinics.

---

Choices for Prevention

---

Volunteers wanted for a new research study

If you are 18+ years old AND think you may benefit from PrEP for HIV prevention, you may be eligible to participate in a new study.

PrEP is medicine that people can take to prevent getting HIV. This study is about new longer-acting PrEP products that may be available soon.

To learn more about the project and how to participate, please go to the website below or scan the QR code:

[insert link to online informed consent]

[insert
QR
code]

If you are eligible, you may be invited to take an online survey that lasts about 25 minutes. Participants who complete the survey will receive a $20 gift card.

For questions or concerns, please call 800-344-1393 or email choicesforprevention@rti.org.

Thank you and please don't hesitate to let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Sarah Roberts
Principal Investigator, C4P Study
RTI International
Phone: 510-665-8255
Email: sroberts@rti.org

