FDA FFR IDs

Enter each of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Food Facility Registration (FFR) number(s) that you have obtained from FDA prior to importing your distilled spirits, wine, or beer into the United States. If you do not have an FDA FFR because your products are further manufactured or processed (including packaging) by another foreign facility before shipment to the United States, contact your U.S. importer(s) or the other facility for that facility's FFR.

FDA FFR ID Details

U.S. law requires that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) be given prior notice of all beverage alcohol imported into the United States and that foreign food facilities register with FDA and obtain a Food Facility Registration (FFR) number. For more information, see Registration of Food Facilities and Other Submissions | FDA.

TTB will verify the FDA FFRs on this registration with other U.S. government agencies.

Industrial alcohol is imported for nonbeverage purposes and is not regulated as "food" by FDA.

My products do not require any U.S. FDA FFR because I produce only industrial alcohol.

Foreign Producer Ownership

When foreign producers are related through common ownership to other foreign or U.S. producers, U.S. law may limit the tax benefits that each foreign producer can assign.

If the individuals or entities that have an ownership interest of 10% or more in the Foreign Producer also have an ownership interest in other foreign or U.S. distilled spirits operations, wineries, or breweries using or assigning U.S. tax benefits, please provide information for any individual or entity that owns 10% or more of the foreign producer being registered.

- I certify that the individuals or entities that own 10% or more of the Foreign Producer do not also have an ownership interest in (1) any distilled spirits operation, winery, or brewery in the United States, or (2) any distilled spirits operation, winery, or brewery outside of the United States that has assigned or will assign U.S. tax benefits this calendar year.

Attestation

- I have authority to provide and edit this foreign producer's TTB registration information, designate additional persons who are also authorized by the foreign producer to act on the foreign producer's behalf or cancel the designations of authorized persons, and make assignments of U.S. tax benefits. Upon request, I will provide TTB proof of my ownership of this foreign producer or position within this foreign producer as well as proof of my authority to make binding commitments on its behalf.
- I declare under penalties of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that this information is true, correct, and complete to the best of my knowledge and belief.
- I acknowledge that, if I have provided erroneous or fraudulent information through this module, TTB may revoke eligibility of this Foreign Producer to assign U.S. tax benefits to U.S. importers.
- I consent to receive electronic service of any notice from TTB concerning the foreign producer's eligibility to assign U.S. tax benefits.

Under U.S. law:

Each foreign distilled spirits operation can assign:

- $2.70 per proof gallon tax rate on the first 100,000 proof gallons imported, and
- $13.34 per proof gallon tax rate on the next 22,130,000 proof gallons imported.

Each foreign wine producer can assign:

- $1 tax credit per wine gallon on the first 30,000 wine gallons of wine imported (or 6.2 cent credit per wine gallon for wine classified as "hard cider"),
- 90 cent tax credit on the next 100,000 wine gallons imported (or 5.6 cent credit for hard cider), and
