Office of the Director

To Facility Manager:

The U.S. Census Bureau is conducting a Special Census and we need your help to count everyone by providing basic information about all the people living or staying at this facility. The Special Census includes people who live or stay in group quarters, such as college or university residence halls, nursing/skilled-nursing facilities, group homes, residential treatment centers, workers' group living quarters, and correctional facilities.

A Census Bureau worker will contact you soon to:

- Verify the name of this facility, its address, phone number, and business email address.
- Collect information about the residents who live, stay, or receive services at your facility.
- Schedule an enumeration appointment.
- Answer any questions you may have about the Special Census.

Your participation in the Special Census is voluntary, but extremely important. The information the Special Census receives from you ensures the completeness and accuracy of the results. Tribal, state, and local governments use census data to make a wide variety of decisions to improve their communities.

The Census Bureau collects data in compliance with privacy rules and regulations. The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) permits a covered entity to disclose protected health information to the Census Bureau to the extent required by Title 13.

The Census Bureau collects data in compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). For students who do not respond, FERPA permits colleges and universities to disclose appropriately designated directory information from students' education records to the Census Bureau without the consent of the student. Depending on the institution's directory information policy, directory information could include a student's name, date of birth, address, and dates of attendance. For questions about this permitted disclosure under FERPA, school officials may email <FERPA@ed.gov>.

The Census Bureau is required by law to protect this information (Title 13, U.S. Code, Section 9). The Census Bureau is not permitted to publicly release your responses in a way that could identify anyone. We are conducting the Special Census under the authority of Title 13, U.S. Code, Section 196. By law, the Census Bureau can only use responses to produce statistics.

Thank you for your cooperation, and we look forward to working with you.

1. Hello. My name is (Your name). May I speak with (Say the contact's name located on the SC-116)? I am from the U.S. Census Bureau. We are conducting a special census for this area. I need to talk with someone about this facility and to schedule an appointment to count your residents/clients. Are you the contact person for this location?

If this person is still serving as the contact person, verify their phone number and title as shown on the SC-116. If their phone number or title has changed, enter the Items 2 and 3 on the SC-116.

If the contact person has changed, ask for the right person.- Once you are speaking with the right person, repeat the introduction and enter their information in the spaces provided in Items 1,2 and 3 on SC-116.

Go to QUESTION 2.

2. We estimate this interview will take approximately 15 minutes.

Before we start, this is our confidentiality statement.

(If this is a phone interview, read the statement as shown below. If this is an in-person interview, hand the contact person a copy of the Confidentiality Notice – SC-CN(E/S) and allow them time to read it.)

The U.S. Census Bureau is required by law to protect your information (Title 13, U.S. Code, Section 9). The Census Bureau is not permitted to publicly release your responses in a way that could identify you or your household. We are conducting the Special Census under the authority of Title 13, U.S. Code, Section 196. By law, the Census Bureau can only use your responses to produce statistics.

Title 13 of the U.S. Code protects the confidentiality of all your information. Violating the confidentiality of a respondent is a federal crime with serious penalties, including a federal prison sentence of up to five years, a fine of up to $250,000, or both. Only authorized individuals have access to the stored data, and the information you provide to the Census Bureau may only be used by a restricted number of authorized individuals who are sworn for life to protect the confidentiality of your individual responses. Your answers cannot be used against you by any government agency or court.

For more information about how we protect your information, please visit our Web site at census.gov and click on "Data Protection and Privacy Policy" at the bottom of the home page. This page also includes information about the collection, storage, and use of these records. Click on "System of Records Notices (SORN)" and look for Privacy Act System of Records Notice COMMERCE/CENSUS-3, Special Censuses, Surveys, and Other Studies.

Although the individual responses are voluntary, the information the Special Census receives from you ensures the completeness and accuracy of the results. Tribal, state, and local governments use census data to make a wide variety of decisions to improve their communities. The Census Bureau estimates that completing the questionnaire will take 10 minutes on average.

Thank you for your cooperation. The Census Bureau appreciates your help.
