Background

In the U.S., federal, state, local, tribal, and territorial (SLTT) regulatory agencies ensure the safety of ANIMAL FOOD. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and state PROGRAMS are responsible for ensuring that ANIMAL FOOD moving within their jurisdiction is safe, wholesome, and/or labeled properly. These responsibilities can include conducting inspections and regulatory activities that help ensure ANIMAL FOOD manufactured, processed, packaged, held, and distributed within their jurisdictions are safe and in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. State PROGRAMS primarily perform inspections under their own regulatory authority. Some state PROGRAMS conduct inspections of ANIMAL FOOD establishments under contract with FDA. Because jurisdictions may overlap, FDA and state PROGRAMS collaborate and share resources to protect ANIMAL FOOD. To better facilitate a partnership among regulatory authorities, state PROGRAMS should achieve IMPLEMENTATION with the Animal Food Regulatory Program Standards (AFRPS).

The implementation of seamless partnerships between FDA and SLTTs enable programs with comparable regulatory public health systems, as trusted partners, to rely on, coordinate with, and leverage one another's work, data, and actions to meet the public health goal of a safe national food supply. The FDA and the Association of American Feed Control Officials (AAFCO) are members of the Partnership of Food Protection (PFP). The vision for an Integrated Food Safety System (IFSS) was developed in 2009<sup>1</sup>. One of the foundational principles of an IFSS is the IMPLEMENTATION and uniform application of model standards so that federal and SLTT regulatory agencies conduct regulatory activities under the same set of standards. Prior to 2010, the Voluntary National Retail Food Regulatory Program Standards (VNRFRPS) and the Manufactured Food Regulatory Program Standards (MFRPS) were examples of such model standards. However, the VNRFRPS and MFRPS were developed for human food only and did not apply to ANIMAL FOOD. As further development on the IFSS progressed, there was a recognized need to develop standards for ANIMAL FOOD state PROGRAMS. One of the key recommendations that came from the 2010 50-State workshop ("A United Approach to Public Health") was the development of standards for ANIMAL FOOD state PROGRAMS. Standards provide a consistent, underlying foundation that is critical for uniformity across federal and SLTT agencies to ensure the credibility of all programs under an IFSS.

The Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) provides further support for developing AFRPS. FSMA was signed into law in January 2011 and calls for enhanced partnerships and integration with federal and SLTT agencies. The mutual reliance called for by FSMA will allow FDA to leverage capacity, inspections, and data collected by other agencies to support regulatory activities and further enhance the idea of an IFSS.

In 2011, FDA and AAFCO entered into a partnership to develop the AFRPS and was initially launched in January 2014. These standards are designed to promote uniformity and consistency among ANIMAL FOOD state PROGRAMS. This is consistent with the principles of the FSMA and the fundamental goal of AAFCO and FDA to provide a mechanism for developing and implementing uniform and equitable statutes, regulations, and standards to enhance the protection of the nation's ANIMAL FOOD supply.

Introduction

The AFRPS establishes a uniform foundation for the design and management of state PROGRAMS responsible for the regulation of ANIMAL FOOD. Through IMPLEMENTATION of the AFRPS, a state PROGRAM is able to achieve and maintain programmatic improvements that help ensure the safety and integrity of the U.S. ANIMAL FOOD supply. IMPLEMENTATION of the AFRPS is voluntary. A state PROGRAM'S IMPLEMENTATION of the AFRPS helps ensure a uniform and consistent approach to ANIMAL FOOD regulation among jurisdictions including the sharing of information and the coordination of resources.

The AFRPS is composed of eleven standards that serve as an objective framework to evaluate and improve components of a state PROGRAM. The standards cover the state PROGRAM'S REGULATORY FOUNDATION, training program, inspection program, auditing program, ANIMAL FOOD-related illnesses or death and emergency response, compliance and enforcement program, outreach program, planning and resources, laboratory services, sampling program, and assessment and improvement of standard IMPLEMENTATION.

Each standard is laid out in the following format to ensure uniformity: Purpose (x.1), Requirement Summary (x.2), Program Elements (x.3), Outcome (x.4), and Documentation (x.5). The program elements describe the best practices of a high-quality state PROGRAM. Required program elements and documentation requirements for IMPLEMENTATION are found in the Program Elements (x.3) and Documentation (x.5) sections for each standard. Terms in all capital letters correspond to a defined term in the Definition section of the document. The term “should” is used sometimes in the AFRPS. Program elements and corresponding conditions described as “should” are best practices but are optional and not required to IMPLEMENT a standard. To IMPLEMENT the AFRPS, the state PROGRAM must IMPLEMENT all eleven standards. “Notes” are used sometimes to provide clarification, alternatives, and guidance that the state PROGRAM may use to help IMPLEMENT the AFRPS. “Notes” do not contain program elements and thus will not be subject to an FDA verification assessment.

Each standard has appendices designed to assist the state PROGRAM in achieving and maintaining IMPLEMENTATION. State PROGRAMS are not obligated to use the appendices provided in the AFRPS. Other manual or electronic generated forms, worksheets, and templates may be used if all program elements are present.

Each standard has a corresponding self-assessment worksheet (Appendix x.1). The state PROGRAM uses the self-assessment worksheets to determine if the program elements are, or remain, fully met, partially met, or not met. The self-assessment worksheets are used to develop a strategic improvement plan for IMPLEMENTATION of standards.

The state PROGRAM maintains CURRENT AND FIT-FOR-USE documents required in the standards to verify IMPLEMENTATION for the purposes of a verification assessment. The AFRPS is not intended to address the performance appraisal processes that an agency may use to evaluate individual employee performance.

FDA uses the AFRPS as a tool to promote and verify the development of a high-quality ANIMAL FOOD regulatory PROGRAM, which includes a process for continuous improvement based upon quality management systems. The AFRPS assists both FDA and the states in fulfilling their regulatory obligations. State PROGRAMS enrolled in the AFRPS under an FDA funding vehicle are expected to develop and IMPLEMENT a strategic improvement plan to demonstrate that they are moving toward IMPLEMENTATION and to participate in FDA assessments. State PROGRAMS are encouraged to build systems that are sustainable and IMPLEMENT plans that result in the standards being maintained.

The collection of information is approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. The OMB control number is 0910-0760.

Definitions

Animal Food: Used to represent the definitions for: (1) food and animal feed in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FD&C Act) sections 201(f) and 201(w), (2) for animal food in Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) section 507.3 (21 CFR 507.3), and (3) for animal feed in the AAFCO Official Publication (AAFCO OP).

Contact Hour: One CONTACT HOUR equals 60 minutes.

Corrective Action: Action to correct a DEVIATION from the program elements of a standard.

Current and Fit-for-Use: “Current” indicates that documentation is signed and dated in accordance with state PROGRAM procedures that meet criteria in the most current standard. “Fit-for-use” is a quality term used to indicate that a product or service fits the customer’s defined purpose for that product or service. Documentation may be electronic or hard copy.

Curriculum: A plan which includes documented specific coursework and field training for both inspection and sample collection.

Deviation: Non-fulfillment of a program element.

Document Control: Ensures that documents are reviewed for adequacy, approved for release by authorized personnel, and distributed to and used at the location where the prescribed activity is performed.

Emergency: An unforeseen or sudden occurrence requiring immediate action to protect against substantial risk to animal and/or public health, and that involves the safety, efficacy, and security of the ANIMAL FOOD supply.

STANDARD 4 Audit Program

4.1 Purpose

This standard describes the program elements used by a state PROGRAM to have an effective ANIMAL FOOD audit program.

4.2 Requirement Summary

The state PROGRAM establishes an audit program to document and evaluate the effectiveness of the state PROGRAM'S inspections and sample collections. This includes two components: (1) a field audit component, which is an on-site performance evaluation of inspection and sample collection procedures and (2) a report audit component, which is a performance evaluation of the inspection and sample collection reports, to verify they are consistently performed according to established performance factors.

4.3 Program Elements

4.3.1 Audit Program

The state PROGRAM has procedures for conducting four types of audits:

- 4.3.1.1 Field inspection audits as described in 4.3.3
- 4.3.1.2 Field inspection report audits as described in 4.3.4
- 4.3.1.3 Sample collection audits as described in 4.3.5
- 4.3.1.4 Sample collection report audits as described in 4.3.6

Note: In general, each type of audit is composed of multiple performance factors. The performance factors are evaluated during an audit and then used to calculate an individual's audit score. The audit score determines the audit rating, which is recorded as "acceptable" or "needs improvement". Using the individual audits, the state PROGRAM calculates a performance factor score for each performance factor and a cumulative score for each type of audit. The state PROGRAM uses the audit scores, performance factor scores, and calculated scores to recognize trends in the field inspection and sample collection programs. The trends are used to identify specific areas that need improvement and to take CORRECTIVE ACTION to improve areas.

4.3.2 Audit Program Review

The state PROGRAM conducts a review of the performance factor scores and cumulative scores for each of the four types of audits at least every 12 months.

4.3.3 Field Inspection Audit

The state PROGRAM conducts field inspection audits using a QUALIFIED FIELD INSPECTION AUDITOR to verify that inspections are consistently performed according to the state's PROGRAM procedures.

4.3.3.1 Frequency

4.3.3.1.1 Conduct a minimum of two field inspection audits of each inspector every 36 months.

4.3.3.1.2 Select field inspections for audits that reflect the inspector’s assignments and responsibilities.

4.3.3.2 Performance Factors

Evaluate performance factors listed in the inspection procedure as described in 3.3.2 and as listed in Appendix 4.2, or an equivalent form.

4.3.3.3 Performance Documentation

4.3.3.3.1 Record the rating of each performance factor, audit score, and audit rating for each field inspection audit on Appendix 4.2, or an equivalent form. State PROGRAMS may use the current Appendix C found in FMD-76 in lieu of Appendix 4.2.

4.3.3.3.2 Calculate performance factor scores and a cumulative score for the state PROGRAM on Appendix 4.3, or an equivalent worksheet.

4.3.4 Field Inspection Report Audit

The state PROGRAM conducts field inspection report audits to verify that inspectional findings are consistently reported according to the state PROGRAM’S procedures.

4.3.4.1 Frequency

Review a random selection of field inspection reports to be audited based on the number of inspections completed in 12 months of performance using Table 1.

Table 1 Field Inspection Report Audit Requirements

of Inspections in 12 Months	Min # Reports Required	Max # Reports Required
Less than 20 reports	All	All
20 – 400 reports	20	20
More than 400 reports	5% reports	50

4.3.4.2 Performance Factors

Evaluate the performance factors listed in Appendix 4.4, or an equivalent form.

4.3.4.3 Performance Documentation

4.3.4.3.1 Record the rating of each performance factor, audit score, and audit rating for each inspection report audit on Appendix 4.4, or an equivalent form.

4.3.4.3.2 Calculate performance factor scores and a cumulative score for the state PROGRAM on Appendix 4.5, or an equivalent worksheet.

4.3.5 Sample Collection Audit

The state PROGRAM conducts sample collection audits using a QUALIFIED FIELD INSPECTION AUDITOR to verify that sample collections are consistently performed according to the state PROGRAM’S procedures.

4.3.5.1 Frequency

Appendix 1.2: Regulatory Foundation Worksheet

Instructions: Determine if state laws and regulations are EQUIVALENT, EQUIVALENT IN EFFECT, NOT EQUIVALENT, or NO AUTHORITY to the specified sections of the current FD&C Act and CFR Title 21.

A state law or regulation may have the same regulatory effect as the relevant FD&C Act provision or federal regulation if either a single state law or regulation has the same regulatory effect as the federal statute or regulation, or when multiple laws of that state are combined and deemed EQUIVALENT IN EFFECT to a single federal statute or regulation.

If there is no state law or regulation EQUIVALENT to the relevant FD&C Act provision or federal regulation or the federal and state laws or regulations address the same matter but are inconsistent and do not have the same regulatory effect, please select NOT EQUIVALENT.

Select NO AUTHORITY if regulatory responsibility for a FD&C Act provision or federal regulation falls under the jurisdiction of another agency.

If the state has laws and regulations pertinent to the regulation of ANIMAL FOOD for which there are no comparable relevant FD&C Act provision or federal regulation, these laws or regulations should be listed on Appendix 1.2 or equivalent form.

For those laws and regulations for which the state PROGRAM does have authority, record the state law or regulations and the date it was incorporated. The Notes section can be used to detail differences between state and federal laws and regulations.
