

THE COVID SIG announces:

The NIH/FDA COVID-19 Workshop.

When: December 15-16, 2022, 11am-5pm.

Where: Virtual

Who: YOU, NIH intramural and FDA researchers involved in COVID research and those who would like to learn more about COVID research.

What: Talks and flash talks from abstracts and some invited speakers

Registration and Abstract submission will open September 30 and close October 21, 2022.

Topics include:

Animal Models

Cell Biology

Clinical features/outcomes

Diagnostics

Epidemiology

Ethics

Genetics/Genomics

Health Disparities

Immunology

Long COVID/longterm sequelae

Mental Health

Structural Biology

Systems Biology/computational

Treatments

Vaccines

Virology

Women and COVID

And other exciting areas

We look forward to hearing about the great work going on at NIH and the FDA and hope to “see” you there. Please note that the virtual workshop will be limited to members of the NIH and FDA communities, so your active participation is highly encouraged.