Subject CCDRSC 2022 Health-Related Social Needs Clinical Trials Planning Meeting Registration Information

Dear Colleague,

We look forward to your participation at the upcoming NCI CCDRSC Clinical Trials Planning Meeting (CTPM) on Addressing Health-Related Social Needs to Improve Cancer Care Delivery and Outcomes Among Newly Diagnosed Cancer Patients in Community Settings which will be taking place at the NCI Shady Grove campus on Thursday, November 17, 2022 and Friday, November 18, 2022. A draft agenda is attached for your reference.

Participation in this meeting is by invitation only. Please go to <https://events.cancer.gov/nci/hrsnctpm2022/registration> to register for this meeting so that we can plan for your attendance. Your response is kindly requested no later than November 10, 2022. Please respond directly to this email if you are unable to attend this meeting.

Additional meeting materials and logistics will be provided closer to the meeting date and only to registered attendees.

- The objectives of the meeting are as follows:
- Design or adapt an existing Health-Related Social Needs (HRSN) screening tool
  - Identify interventions that address both specific HRSN domains and holistic programs
  - Gain a consensus on essential elements of study design and endpoints
  - Identify mediators and modifiers to track

I look forward to see you all in November. Please feel free to contact me with any questions.

With kind regards,
