

Specialized Centers of Research Excellence (SCORE) Annual Meeting Keynote Address

Tuesday, November 1, 2022
10:00 – 11:00 a.m. EDT

The Specialized Centers of Research Excellence on Sex Differences, or SCORE, program is the only NIH cooperative agreement program supporting disease-agnostic research on sex differences. Each center serves as a national resource for translational research to identify the role of biological sex differences in the health of women.

At this year's SCORE Annual Meeting, Cara Tannenbaum, M.D., MSc, Scientific Director, Institute of Gender and Health, will present the keynote address: "Next Generation Sex and Gender Science."
