

and control; and international codes and industrial standards used in multinational and domestic design certifications and reviews.

In addition, the ACRS may be requested to provide advice on radiation protection, radioactive waste management, and earth sciences in the agency's licensing reviews for fuel fabrication and enrichment facilities, and for waste disposal facilities. The ACRS also has some involvement in security matters related to the integration of safety and security of commercial reactors. See the NRC website at <https://www.nrc.gov/about-nrc/regulatory/advisory/acrs.html> for additional information about the ACRS.

Criteria used to evaluate candidates include education and experience, demonstrated skills in nuclear reactor safety matters, the ability to solve complex technical problems, and the ability to work collegially on a board, panel, or committee. The Commission, in selecting its Committee members, also considers the need for specific expertise to accomplish the work expected to be before the ACRS. ACRS members are appointed for four-year terms with no term limits. The Commission looks to appoint two members to the Committee as a result of this request. Candidates are desired that have broad, extensive experience in nuclear safety, such as multiple areas of current emphasis (listed in the second paragraph under SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION) or similar fields of nuclear reactor and nuclear fuel cycle safety. Candidates with broad nuclear safety experience in industry, academia, laboratory, or regulatory backgrounds, or work between those environments, are encouraged to apply. The candidates must also have at least 20 years of education and broad experience and a distinguished record of achievement in one or more areas of nuclear science and technology or related engineering disciplines. Candidates with pertinent graduate level experience will be given additional consideration.

This announcement supersedes NRC's request for resumes in the Federal Register on September 8, 2021, in 86 FR 50380. Since that time, the needs for specific expertise on the ACRS have changed, and now the Commission seeks to fill two Committee vacancies. Candidates are sought who are "generalists," with more broad nuclear safety experience than in the previous announcement. All applicants for NRC's September 8, 2021, announcement [86 FR 50380] will be considered for these two positions based on material already submitted, but previous applicants are also welcome to update, re-submit, or withdraw from consideration as appropriate.

Consistent with the requirements of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, the Commission seeks candidates with diverse backgrounds, so that the membership on the Committee is fairly balanced in terms of the points of view represented and functions to be performed by the Committee. Candidates will undergo a thorough security background check to obtain the security clearance that is mandatory for all ACRS members. The security background check will involve the completion and submission of paperwork to the NRC. Candidates for ACRS appointment may be involved in or have financial interests related to NRC-regulated aspects of the nuclear industry. However, because conflict-of-interest considerations may restrict the participation of a candidate in ACRS activities, the degree and nature of any such restriction on an individual's activities as a member will be considered in the selection process. Each qualified candidate's financial interests must be reconciled with applicable Federal and NRC rules and regulations prior to final appointment. This might require divestiture of securities or discontinuance of certain contracts or grants. Information regarding these restrictions will be provided upon request. As a part of the Stop Trading on Congressional Knowledge Act of 2012, which bans insider trading by members of Congress, their staff, and other high-level federal employees, candidates for appointments will be required to disclose additional financial transactions.

A resume describing the educational and professional background of each candidate, including any special accomplishments, publications, and professional references should be provided. Candidates should provide their current address, telephone number, and email address. All candidates will receive careful consideration. The NRC does not discriminate in employment on the basis of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, political affiliation, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, genetic information, age, membership in an employee organization, retaliation, parental status, military service, or other non-merit factor. Candidates must be citizens of the United States and be able to devote approximately 100 days per year to Committee business, but may not be compensated for more than 130 calendar days. Appointees may be able to attend some Committee meetings virtually. Resumes will be accepted until July 5, 2022.

Dated: May 17, 2022.

Secretary of the Commission.

- III. Notice of Commission Action
- IV. Ordering Paragraphs

I. Introduction

The Postal Regulatory Commission (Commission) initiates the instant docket to examine the potential need to make a modification to the Mail Classification Schedule (MCS) in order to fulfill the Commission's responsibilities under the Postal Accountability and Enhancement Act (PAEA), Public Law 109–435, 120 Stat. 3198 (2006), the Postal Service Reform Act of 2022, Public Law 117–89, 136 Stat. 1127 (2022), and pursuant to 39 CFR 3040 subpart D.¹ Specifically, the Commission seeks information on the Postal Service's recent pilot program in which it added to the accepted payment methods, at specifically-identified Post Offices, in order to allow postal retail customers to exchange payroll and business checks for stored value Gift Cards (Pilot Program). The Commission seeks the information to determine whether the Pilot Program has changed the nature of the Competitive product at issue (Special Services—Greeting Cards and Stationery) to the degree that the Gift Cards price category (or an undefined sub-component) may be categorized as a non-postal product.² A finding that the price category, product, or sub-component is a non-postal product would require its termination.³

II. Background

In FY 2014, the Commission approved the Postal Service's sale of Gift Cards⁴ as a product that was “likely to be mailed, similar to greeting cards and stationery” and was often involved in the sale of other postal retail products such as greeting cards.⁵ In the Docket No. MC2014–26 Request, the Postal Service stated that it “[d]id not intend to use th[e] filing as a step into offering banking services,” and if any Postal Service proposal should ever offer banking services, “such proposals would be done in a separate filing.” See Docket No. MC2014–26, Request, Attachment B at 3 n.2.

Following the Postal Service's publication of the FY 2021 Annual Compliance Report (ACR), the Commission submitted an information request for the Postal Service to provide additional insight regarding a pilot program to allow postal retail customers to cash payroll and business checks in exchange for stored value Gift Cards.⁶

³ 39 U.S.C. 404(e) details the statutory authority for terminating non-postal products, and the statutory authority is noted in multiple precedents, including a 2010 ruling in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, which noted that “Congress[. . .] provide[d] that the Postal Regulatory Commission was to conduct a review of ‘each nonpostal service offered by the Postal Service’ . . . to determine whether it should be terminated. . . .” USPS v. Postal Regul. Comm'n, 599 F.3d 705, 707 (D.C. Cir. 2010). Additionally, the United States Postal Service Office of Inspector General published a management advisory report in 2012 that stated that the PAEA “repealed the Postal Service's authority to offer ‘non-postal services’ and prohibited offering any new non-postal services.” United States Postal Service, Office of Inspector General, Report No. DA–MA–12–005, 21st Century Post Office: Non-Postal Products and Services, July 16, 2012, at 9, available at <https://www.uspsaig.gov/sites/default/files/document-library-files/2015/DA-MA-12-005.pdf>.

⁴ Gift Cards is a price category within the Gift Cards and Stationery product. The Commission and the Postal Service have both referred to Gift Cards as a product in multiple filings, and for the purposes of this inquiry, the Commission will continue to do so throughout this Order to avoid confusion.

⁶ See Docket No. ACR2021, Commission Information Request No. 1, January 7, 2022 (Docket No. ACR2021, CIR No. 1). See also Docket No. ACR2021, Responses of the United States Postal Service to Questions 1–7 of Commission Information Request No. 2, PowerPoint file “CIR.2.Q.4.Pictures of Promo Items.pptx,” February 4, 2022 (Docket No. ACR2021, Response to CIR No. 2).

¹ 39 CFR 3040 subpart D contains multiple requirements for proposals of the Commission to modify the Competitive product list, including an indication of whether a proposal would add, move, or remove a product, as well as providing justification supporting the proposal. In this instance, it is not appropriate to include this information, as the proposal is a vehicle to receive information to make a determination of whether a concerted proposed action is required.

² As discussed further below, the Commission, in approving the Gift Cards price category within the Greeting Cards and Stationery product, determined that it was appropriately a postal product (as opposed to a non-postal product).
