I-821D, Consideration of Deferred Action For Childhood Arrivals (DACA)

Use this form to request consideration of Renewal of Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA). Deferred action is a discretionary determination to defer removal action of an individual as an act of prosecutorial discretion.

Anyone who receives deferred action will not be placed into removal proceedings or removed from the United States for a specified period of time, unless the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) chooses to terminate the deferral. See 8 CFR Part 236, Subpart C; see also www.uscis.gov/DACA. USCIS considers deferring action (including renewal of deferred action) on a case-by-case basis.

Individuals requesting DACA must file Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization, and Form I-765WS, Form I-765 Worksheet, at the same time as their form I-821D. See 8 CFR 236.23(a)(1).

Before You Start Your Request

Eligibility

You may file online only if you are submitting a renewal request. If you are submitting an initial request for DACA, you must submit a paper Form I-821D. Learn more about the I-821D and where to send your paper form here.

Individuals seeking renewal

You may be considered for Renewal of DACA if you meet all the requirements for Initial DACA and:

- You did not depart the United States on or after August 15, 2012 without advance parole;
- You have continuously resided in the United States since the date you submitted your most recent DACA request that was granted;
- Your previous DACA grant has not yet expired; and
- You have not been convicted of a felony, one significant misdemeanor, or three or more misdemeanors, and do not otherwise pose a threat to national security or public safety.

If you were convicted of a crime not listed above, arrested or detained by any law enforcement officer and charges were filed, or if charges were filed against you without an arrest, we may still grant your request for DACA. We will evaluate the totality of the circumstances in reaching a decision on whether to grant you deferred action. However, if we determine that you have been convicted of a felony, a significant misdemeanor, or three or more misdemeanors not occurring on the same date and not arising out of the same act, omission, or scheme of misconduct, or that you otherwise pose a threat to national security or public safety, we are unlikely to defer action in your case, except where DHS determines that exceptional circumstances exist.

Caution: USCIS may reject your submission and return it to you with instructions to resubmit your request closer to the expiration date, if you file this request more than 150 days prior to the expiration of your current period of deferred action. USCIS encourages Renewal requestors to file as early in the 150-day period as possible - ideally, at least 120 days prior to your DACA expiration date.

Note: If you have received DACA and you are filing within one year after your last period of deferred action expired, and your last period of deferred action was not terminated by USCIS, please follow the instructions provided for Renewal requestors. If you are filing more than one year after your last period of deferred action expired or at any time after your last period of deferred action was terminated, please follow the instructions provided below for Initial requestors.

Note: If you are currently in immigration detention, you may request consideration of DACA as a Renewal requestor from USCIS. However, if USCIS can not approve your request for DACA until you are released from detention. If you are requesting DACA, you should tell your deportation officer.

Use this form to request consideration of Initial DACA or Renewal of DACA. Deferred action is a discretionary determination to defer removal action of an individual as an act of prosecutorial discretion. Individuals filing Form I-821D, whether for an Initial or a Renewal of deferred action, must also file Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization, and Form I-765 Worksheet, Form I-765WS. See the Evidence for Initial Requests Only and Evidence for Renewal Requests Only sections of these instructions for more information.

An individual may be considered for Renewal of DACA if he or she met the guidelines for consideration of Initial DACA (see above) AND he or she:

Travel Warning. On or after August 15, 2012, if you travel outside of the United States before USCIS has determined whether to defer action in your case, you will not be considered for deferred action. Even after USCIS has deferred action in your case under DACA, you should not travel outside the United States unless you have been issued an Advance Parole Document by USCIS. USCIS may terminate deferred action in your case, and your ability to renew DACA may be

1. Has continuously resided in the United States since he or she submitted his or her most recent request for DACA that was approved up to the present time; and
2. Has not been convicted of a felony, a significant misdemeanor, or three or more misdemeanors, and does not otherwise pose a threat to national security or public safety.

USCIS will also conduct a background check. USCIS may consider deferring action in your case even if you have been arrested or detained by any law enforcement officer and charges were filed, or if charges were filed against you without an arrest. USCIS will evaluate the totality of the circumstances in reaching a decision on deferred action.

In accordance with 8 CFR Part 236, Subpart C, if USCIS determines that you have been convicted of a felony, a significant misdemeanor, or three or more misdemeanors not occurring on the same date and not arising out of the same act, omission, or scheme of misconduct, or that you otherwise pose a threat to national security or public safety, USCIS is unlikely to defer action in your case, except where DHS determines that exceptional circumstances exist.

CAUTION: If you file this request more than 150 days prior to the expiration of your current period of deferred action, USCIS may reject your submission and return it to you with instructions to resubmit your request closer to the expiration date. USCIS encourages Renewal requestors to file as early in the 150-day period as possible - ideally, at least 120 days prior to the DACA expiration date.

NOTE: If you are currently in immigration detention, you may request consideration of DACA as an Initial or Renewal requestor from USCIS. However, if USCIS determines a favorable exercise of discretion is warranted to grant you DACA, USCIS will not approve your DACA request until you are released from detention. If you are requesting DACA, you should tell your deportation officer.

Fee

Fee: There is no filing fee for Form I-821D. However, you must file Form I-765 and I-765WS with Form I-821D and pay applicable fees for Form I-765. Visit USCIS Form G-1055, Fee Schedule for more information on filing fees.
