

Interest in Participating in an NCI-Sponsored Cancer Health Economics Research Collaborative Meeting

NCI is considering holding a one-day meeting with representatives of other federal agencies and non-profit organizations interested in cancer health economics research. The goal of this meeting is to identify areas for potential collaboration (across the entire cancer control continuum, from prevention through survivorship) and develop plans to implement the collaborative activities identified.

The goal of this survey is to assess interest in participating in this one-day meeting and identify topics of greatest interest for the meeting.
