Position Risk Designation Notes

As required by section 1400.201(b) of title 5, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), this system is for uniform and consistent position designation of any positions, including contractor employee positions, when the investigation will be conducted under the Federal Investigative Standards prescribed by the Office of Personnel Management and the Office of the Director of National Intelligence in December 2012. Pursuant to an assignment of functions under section 2.2(e) of E.O. 13467, the December 2012 Federal Investigative Standards apply to investigations for contractor employee fitness.

The Contracting Officer's Representative (COR) will use the OPM Automated Position Designation Tool, to determine the appropriate position designation requirement for all contractor employee positions. If you have any questions in using the OPM Automated Position Designation Tool or in designating the position, consult with the FNS HRD Personnel Security Specialist. The tool can be found here: <https://www.opm.gov/suitability/suitability-executive-agent/position-designation-tool/>

The position designation system consists of a four-step process that will guide the designator through an examination of the position's duties and responsibilities. The completion of this process will result in a final designation for the position which, in turn, will determine the investigative requirements for the contractor employee position.

High Risk / Tier 4 and National Security Designated Position / Tier 3 and Tier 5
 Contractors/Affiliates: It is anticipated that no contractors will require a high risk or national security investigation. If there may be a need, please contact the FNS HRD Personnel Security Specialist for guidance.

Moderate Risk / Tier 2
 Contractors/Affiliates: The Tier 2 is the level of investigation needed for contract personnel performing for a period of 180 days or greater with responsibilities such as database administration, software development, technical maintenance, LAN administration, or duties that involve substantial access to sensitive information. The Tier 2 will require re-investigation every five years.

Low Risk / Tier 1
 Contractors/Affiliates: Contractors performing for a period of 180 days or greater not categorized in any of the previous categories are considered to require Tier 1 background investigations. The Tier 1 investigation is the minimum required investigation for the issuance of the USDA LincPass. The Tier 1 remains in force indefinitely, but requires an updated fingerprint check (SAC) every five years.

FINGERPRINT CHECK (SAC)
 Contractors/Affiliates: Contractors performing for a period of less than 180 days require a finger print check. The SAC is the minimum required investigation for an interim fitness determination and for issuance of the LincPass while the appropriate Tiered investigation is in process.
