

REGISTRATION FORM
BIG CAT PUBLIC SAFETY ACT
(Pub. L. 117-243, December 20, 2022, 136 Stat 2336)

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

This is a registration form. This registration form is provided under the authority of 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e), pursuant to the Big Cat Public Safety Act (BCPSA), Pub. L. 117-243, December 20, 2022, 136 Stat 2336 (amending the Captive Wildlife Safety Act, and Lacey Act Amendments of 1981, 16 U.S.C. §§ 3371-3374, 3376, and 7 U.S.C. § 1997).

To qualify to continue to possess live specimens of prohibited wildlife species (also referred to as “big cats”) under 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E), you must register all live specimens of prohibited wildlife species in your possession with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service no later than June 18, 2023. “Prohibited wildlife species” is defined as “any live species of lion, tiger, leopard, cheetah, jaguar, or cougar or any hybrid of such species.” [16 U.S.C. § 3371(h)]. This includes any of the following species, or hybrids of any of these species: lion (Panthera leo), tiger (Panthera tigris), leopard (Panthera pardus), snow leopard (Uncia uncia), clouded leopard (Neofelis nebulosa), jaguar (Panthera onca), cheetah (Acinonyx jubatus), cougar (Puma concolor). [50 CFR 14.252].

The BCPSA makes it unlawful for any person to—(A) import, export, transport, sell, receive, acquire, or purchase in interstate or foreign commerce, or in a manner substantially affecting interstate or foreign commerce; or (B) breed or possess; any live prohibited wildlife species. [16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(1)]. The BCPSA also makes it unlawful for any person to attempt to commit any of these acts with prohibited wildlife species. [16 U.S.C. § 3372(a)(4)]. Violators of the BCPSA are subject to civil and criminal penalties, [16 U.S.C. § 3373], and big cats bred, possessed, imported, exported, transported, sold, received, acquired, or purchased contrary to the provisions of the BCPSA shall be subject to forfeiture to the United States, [16 U.S.C. § 3374].

The BCPSA also authorizes a limited exception from the prohibition on possession for a person or entity to register live specimens of prohibited wildlife species if certain requirements are met and continue to be met. [16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E)]. The exception is intended to allow current owners of big cats at the time of enactment of the BCPSA to keep their big cats, but they must register with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, are not allowed to breed, acquire, or sell big cats, and cannot allow direct contact between the public and their big cats. [H. Rept. No. 117-428, p. 17 (July 22, 2022)]. By registering their big cats by no later than the statutory deadline (June 18, 2023), the person or entity (registrant) may continue to possess registered big cats that were born before the date of enactment, December 20, 2022, and legally in their possession on or before the date of enactment, as long as the registrant meets and continues to meet all requirements of 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E).

To meet the requirements for an exception from the prohibition on possession under 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E), you (registrant) must:

- Register each individual big cat in your possession with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service by no later than 180 days after the date of enactment of the BCPSA, December 20, 2022 (i.e., no later than June 18, 2023) [16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E)(i)];
- Not breed¹, acquire, or sell any big cat after the date of the enactment of the BCPSA, December 20, 2022. [16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E)(ii); NOTE: The requirement that the registrant not breed, acquire, or sell any prohibited wildlife species after December 20, 2022, applies regardless of whether the activity is intrastate, interstate, or international]; and
- Not allow direct contact² between the public and any big cat(s) after the date of the enactment of the BCPSA, December 20, 2022. [16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E)(iii)].

¹ “Breed” means “to facilitate propagation or reproduction (whether intentionally or negligently), or to fail to prevent propagation or reproduction.” [16 U.S.C. § 3371(a)].

² “Direct contact” means “any situation in which any individual other than an authorized keeper or caregiver may potentially touch or otherwise come into physical contact with any live specimen of the prohibited wildlife species.” [50 CFR 14.252].

To meet the requirements under 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E), the big cat in the registrant's possession must:

- Have been born before the date of enactment of the BCPSA, December 20, 2022, except as described below for a big cat born on or after December 20, 2022, from breeding that occurred before December 20, 2022 [16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E)];
- Not have been acquired by the registrant after the date of enactment, December 20, 2022 (i.e., legally in the registrant's possession on or before December 20, 2022, and have remained continually in the registrant's possession) [16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E)(ii)]; and
- Have been registered by the owner with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service by no later than 180 days after the date of enactment of the BCPSA, December 20, 2022 (i.e., no later than June 18, 2023) [16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E)(i)].

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service recognizes that there may have been big cats bred before the effective date of the BCPSA, that were subsequently born on or after the effective date of the BCPSA. The text of the BCPSA only allows big cats born before the effective date of the BCPSA to be registered under 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E). If a big cat is not registered, then it may not be possessed by its owner under the limited exception of 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E); and, if each big cat owned by a registrant is not registered by the statutory deadline (i.e., no later than June 18, 2023), then the registrant does not qualify to possess any of their big cats under 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E). However, the BCPSA does not specifically address big cats born on or after the effective date of the BCPSA from breeding that occurred before the effective date of the BCPSA. As noted above, the exception is intended to allow current owners of big cats to keep big cats that were legally in their possession at the time of enactment of the BCPSA, if they register their big cats and comply with the BCPSA, including by not breeding any big cats on or after the effective date of the BCPSA. [H. Rept. No. 117-428, p. 17 (July 22, 2022)]. The BCPSA was not intended to retroactively prohibit breeding that occurred before the enactment of the BCPSA. Under the requirements of 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E)(ii)-(iii), after December 20, 2022 the registrant is prohibited from breeding, acquiring, or selling big cats, and from allowing direct contact between the public and big cats. However, the BCPSA requires that to keep and possess the parent under the limited exception of 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E), the owner must register not only the parent, but each big cat legally in the owner's possession, 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E)(i), which includes the cub legally bred before but born to the parent after the enactment of the BCPSA. Recognizing these intentions, and to avoid a reading of the BCPSA that would lead to an impossibility for some current owners of big cats both to comply with the law and possess big cats that are born on or after the effective date of the BCPSA from breeding that occurred before the effective date of the BCPSA, such big cats will be considered eligible for registration. In addition to meeting all the other requirements above, such big cats may be registered, if the registrant includes documentation demonstrating that the breeding of the big cat occurred before December 20, 2022 (the effective date of the BCPSA). The gestation period for all big cats is substantially less than the 180-day registration period provided in the BCPSA, meaning that any owners of big cats that are affected still must meet the statutory deadline to register (June 18, 2023). Accordingly, except as provided by the BCPSA [16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(A)-(D)], possession of any big cat born on or after December 20, 2022, is possessed in violation of the BCPSA, unless: documentation is provided to prove the big cat was born on or after December 20, 2022, from breeding that occurred before December 20, 2022, and all other registration requirements of 16 U.S.C. § 3372(e)(2)(E) are met as described above.

NOTE: Big cats bred or possessed in violation of the BCPSA and to include any big cat that is not registered on or before June 18, 2023, shall be subject to forfeiture for violation of the BCPSA prohibition on possession, unless another limited exception applies. [16 U.S.C. §§ 3372(e)(2)(A) - (D), 3374(a)]. These other exceptions apply only to qualifying entities exhibiting big cats to the public under a Class C license from the Department of Agriculture, or a Federal facility registered with the Department of Agriculture that exhibits animals; State colleges, State universities, State agencies, or State-licensed veterinarians; qualifying wildlife sanctuaries; or qualifying transporters only when in custody of any big cat solely for the purpose of expeditiously transporting the big cat to a person who qualifies for an exception under the BCPSA.

It is your responsibility to follow all local, state, and federal laws and regulations for possession of and other activities with prohibited wildlife species, and registration under the BCPSA does not constitute authorization to engage in any activity prohibited by such laws and regulations. NOTE: For example, most big cats are listed as either endangered or threatened under the Endangered Species Act and take of such species and their offspring is prohibited, with limited exceptions for take authorized by statute, regulation, or permit. [16 U.S.C. § 1531 et seq.; 50 CFR part 17].

The principal owner or responsible party must complete this form. If the prohibited wildlife species is owned by a corporation, business, trust, or other entity, the names, titles, and mailing address of each officer of the entity must be provided, as well as the address where the wildlife is located if different from the registrant's physical or mailing addresses. These names and addresses may be provided as a separate attachment to the registration form.

How can I register my big cats?

You must complete this registration form for all of the big cats in your possession and submit it to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service no later than June 18, 2023, to register your big cat(s). Under the BCPSA, we are unable to accept registrations received after June 18, 2023. If more than one entity owns or has responsibility for the big cat(s), you must provide a list of the names, addresses, and contact information for all owners of the big cat(s).

To register, you must mail in your complete registration form to: Division of Management Authority, Branch of Permits MS:IA, 5275 Leesburg Pike, Falls Church, Virginia, 22041-3803. You must complete and attach a separate Section B for each individual big cat. Mailed registrations must be postmarked by June 18, 2023; registrations postmarked after that date will not be accepted. We are unable to provide electronic registration services within the statutory deadline.
