Section B. Organizational Overview and Narrative

The National Medals program recognizes outstanding libraries and museums of all types and sizes that deeply impact their communities by, for example:

- fostering a lifelong passion for learning for all people, nourishing curiosity and imagination from early childhood through adulthood, for people of all abilities and needs;
- providing access to information by building a literate, well-informed community and advancing digital capacity, focusing on digital inclusion and access to digital and informational resources, including e-books and materials to help address workforce development and public health;
- enriching the lives of community members by being trusted community spaces for convening, connection, and conversation; enlightenment and shared thoughts and opinions; and preserving natural and cultural heritage and community memory; and
- responding to the unprecedented challenges of recent years to revitalize and renew organizational practice.

Note that you do not need to address all the above examples in your Organizational Overview and Narrative, but keep in mind that your submission should reflect how your institution deeply impacts your community. Referencing what is important, unique, and distinctive about your institution, please respond to the following prompts from the point of view of the nominated organization in a maximum of five pages.

The submitted documents should include a margin of at least 0.5 inches on all sides and a font size of at least 11 points.

Organizational Overview (no more than one page)

- Summarize the nominated organization's mission or statement of purpose.
- Provide a brief history of the nominated organization, including any major institutional changes (for example, leadership, staff, governance).
- Explain why you believe the nominated organization deserves to win the National Medal for Museum and Library Service.

Narrative (no more than four pages)

1. Community and Community Needs

- Describe your community, including its demographics.
- Describe the community's major needs and how you identified them.

Note: Academic libraries, research libraries, and museums in institutions of higher education may interpret "community" as their campus community and/or local community.

2. Programs and Services

- Referring to the community and its major needs you identified in Section B.1, describe the range of specific programs, services, and partnerships that have been developed to address those needs.

- Describe how you work with the community you serve to develop these programs and services.
- Please describe how the efforts named above inform strategy and practice across the institution.
- Describe how you serve community members of all abilities and/or the specific programs and services you provide to enhance access.

Note: Organizations identified as Digital Libraries should address:

- services to your community including services to other organizations and services to end users;
- how an understanding of audiences, either current or potential, has driven the approach to providing access to your organization's programs and resources;
- sustainability and preservation plans for the digital library; and
- accessibility for people with disabilities, including persons with print disabilities.

3. Impact

- Describe the impact of your organization's programs and services on the identified community needs. Be specific, using qualitative, quantitative, or both types of descriptors as appropriate.
- How has your organization used these data to inform continuing and/or new programs and services?

4. Financial Sustainability

- List your organization's three primary sources of revenue.
- Describe how your organization financially supports the programs and services discussed above. Does your organization have a sustainable funding model that will continue to enable these programs and services?
- Identify any private or non-profit groups that support your organization's mission and activities and describe the extent of their support.
