Dear Ms. Menendez,

I am the owner of Flywheel Taxi in San Francisco and I strongly support the proposed study evaluating an intervention designed to reduce fatigue that will be conducted among the taxicab drivers at our company. Fatigue is a serious issue with all drivers in general, but especially for all commercial drivers-for-hire. I am pleased to support any study that will benefit not only taxicab drivers, but passengers and the general public at large. We look forward to our participation and welcome the opportunity to be involved in such an important area of research.

Please feel free to contact me any time so we can be of help in any way.

Sincerely,

Hansu Kim
