Focus Group Protocol

Thank you for agreeing to participate in this focus group. I'm [Insert name], and I will facilitate the focus group today. I am joined by [Insert support staff], and they will be taking notes.

On behalf of Department of Justice (DOJ) Elder Justice Initiative (EJI), ICF (an independent research and consulting firm) is conducting a needs assessment of elder justice professionals and victims of ANFE aged 60+ throughout the United States. The purpose of the needs assessment is to: (1) better understand what services are available for victims of ANFE aged 60+ and how existing support shapes victim experiences; (2) document gaps in services, and 3) record the needs of victims of ANFE aged 60+ and elder justice professionals who serve them. The findings from this needs assessment will help the EJI to better understand the needs of both victims of ANFE aged 60+ and elder justice professionals, as well as develop strategies to address these needs across the country. EJI supports national, state, and local communities in their efforts to combat elder abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation through enforcement, training, education, outreach, and victim services.

This focus group will last 60 to 90 minutes. Participating in this focus group is voluntary; you may end the focus group at any time and choose not to answer questions. We will protect the confidentiality of your responses using procedures we have in place, including aggregating responses so that no information is personally identifiable. Only members of the ICF Research Team have access to information that could identify respondents. Before we get started, do you have any questions about this focus group?

I. Awareness of Services

1. How do you share information about victim services and resources your organization provides for individuals aged 60 and over? (e.g., law enforcement, D.A.'s Offices organization referral, court referral, family/peer, internet, printed advertisement, signage, others)
2. What are some effective methods for telling individuals aged 60 and over about available victim services and resources?

II. Service Access

3. What are the most important victim services individuals aged 60 and over may need:
 - Immediately after experiencing a crime?
 - As they go through the criminal justice process (e.g., investigation, prosecution)?
 - In the long term?
4. What victim services do individuals aged 60 and over express a need for that are currently lacking or unavailable in your community?
5. What types of victim services are most difficult for individuals aged 60 and over to access? What makes it difficult to access those services (e.g., waitlists, lack of transportation, insurance, eligibility requirements)?
6. Are there any victim services individuals aged 60 and over seem uncomfortable asking for? Why? What could make them more comfortable asking for those types of services?

7. What could be done to address the barriers individuals aged 60 and over face in seeking victim services?

III. Service Delivery

8. What are the greatest challenges/barriers to providing victim services to individuals aged 60 and over?
 - How are you currently addressing these challenges/barriers?
9. What do elder justice professionals need to better serve individuals aged 60 and over who have experienced abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation?
 - What types of experts does your organization need (but do not currently employ) to serve victims of ANFE aged 60+ aged 60 and over (e.g., forensic accountant, geriatric nurse practitioner, geriatrician, gero-psychiatrist, neuropsychologist)? Why?
 - What types of training or technical assistance would help you improve victim services for individuals aged 60 and over?
10. How does your organization make sure you are providing culturally, linguistically, and age-appropriate victim services to individuals aged 60 and over?
11. What other types of organizations do you collaborate/coordinate within your community to provide victim services to individuals aged 60 and over? [For federal agencies: What other agencies do you collaborate with to serve individuals aged 60 and over who experience abuse, neglect, and or financial exploitation?]

IV. Future Directions and Recommendations

12. Overall, what recommendations do you have for improving victim services for individuals aged 60 and over?
13. What could service providers do to be more inclusive? (e.g., culture, race/ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, disability)
14. Are there any promising or innovative practices you can share?
15. What is the most important thing for EJI to know about experiences with providing victim services for individuals aged 60 and over?

Thank you for taking the time to participate in this focus group. Your responses are critical to ensuring that EJI's programs are responsive to the needs of individuals aged 60 and older who have experienced abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation. As a reminder, if you have any questions or feedback regarding the research study please contact the Principal Investigators Dr. Alana Henninger and Dr. Bhuvana Sukumar by email at NEAVSNA@icf.com or by telephone at 410-539-4160 (Alana) and (404) 592-2122 (Bhuvana).
