

	individual cruise lines were useful.
	Comments:
18.	Ad hoc outbreak calls with the Maritime Unit and individual cruise line medical and public health staff were useful.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
	Comments:
19.	What components of the Maritime Unit's current operations have not been useful for resuming cruise ship operations?
	Comments:
20.	Do you have any other feedback for the Maritime Unit?
	Comments:
21.	Do you have suggestions for protecting the public's health during future cruise operations?
	Comments:
Questions 22–25 are for cruise line personnel (executive officers and medical/public health directors) and CLIA only.
22.	Would you be interested in participating in a voluntary program to detect, mitigate, and control the spread of COVID-19 during future cruise ship operations?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
	Comments:
23.	Would your medical and public health personnel benefit from CDC trainings on COVID-19 mitigation measures for cruise ships?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
24.	Would your medical and public health personnel appreciate CDC trainings on any other public health topics (e.g., tuberculosis, Legionnaires' disease, varicella, influenza, measles, acute gastroenteritis, food safety, RWF safety, potable water safety)?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
25.	If yes, what are the top three trainings that your staff would be interested in receiving?	1) 2) 3)					