PURPOSE: The purpose for requesting your information is to expedite your entry into the United States. In order to enter the United States, you are required to provide travel document data, flight information, photos of you and your traveling family members, and answers to CBP's inspection related questions prior to gaining entry into the United States. Your information will be cross-referenced with data maintained in CBP's other enforcement databases. Although the MPC application may expedite your entry, it does not change the purpose for the information collection or how it is used by CBP.

ROUTINE USES: If you choose to use the MPC application, CBP will use your information to expedite your entry into the United States, in accordance with U.S. laws at the border. In general, this information is used to facilitate the entry of legitimate travelers; identify, investigate, apprehend and/or remove individuals unlawfully entering the United States; detect fraud or

CONSEQUENCES OF FAILURE TO PROVIDE INFORMATION:

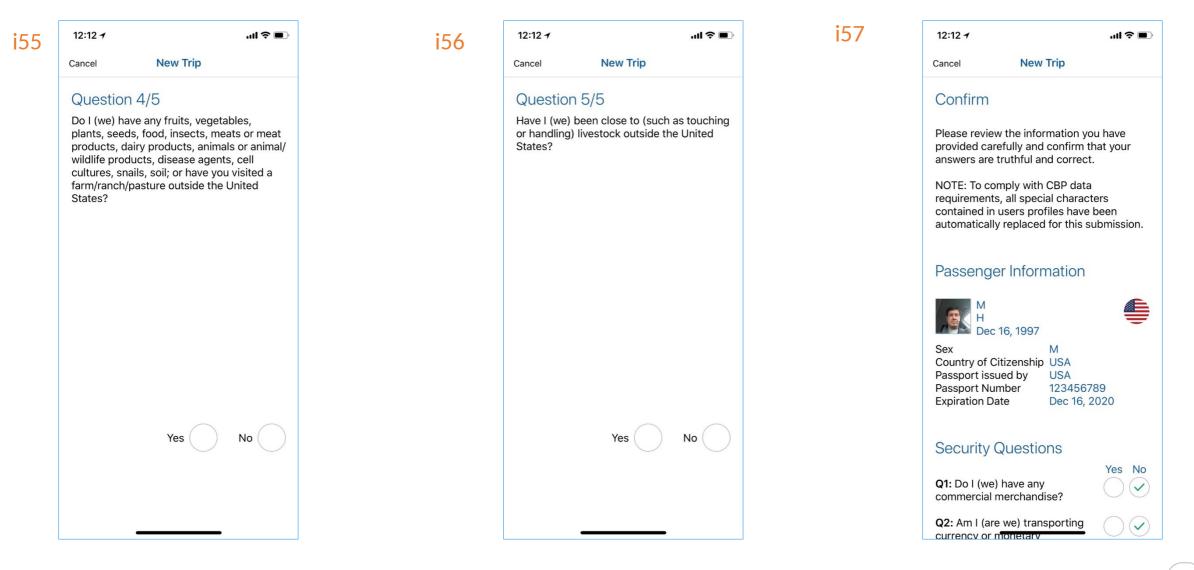

Using MPC to enter the United States is voluntary. It provides you with an alternative approach to submitting your required entry information to CBP during the border inspection process. If you choose not to submit your information, you will be unable to use the MPC app. You may instead proceed directly to CBP primary examination to initiate the border inspection process.
