

responses is 56,055,890 (55,356,286 system responses plus 699,604 primacy agency responses).

Total estimated burden: The total net annual respondent burden associated with this ICR is estimated to be 9,660,286 hours (per year). Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.03(b).

Total estimated cost: The total net annual costs are estimated to be $641,162,423 per year.

Changes in Estimates: There is an increase between 25,592,837 and 25,809,781 hours<sup>6</sup> in the total estimated respondent burden compared with the ICR currently approved by OMB. This increase is primarily due to the differing ICR burden estimation windows. The previous ICR covered the first three years after the promulgation of the LCRR when PWSs and primacy agencies should be engaged in the regulatory startup/implementation activities identified in the original "Information Collection Request for Lead and Copper Rule Revisions (LCRR)" or the currently approved ICR. These activities include reading and understanding the LCRR, assigning personnel and resources for rule implementation, attending training and receiving technical assistance from the State, developing initial LSL inventories and submitting demonstrations that systems only have non-lead service lines (where applicable), and conferring with primacy agencies on initial planning for LSLR and preparing an LSLR plan when LSLs are present. During this same period, primacy agencies should be conducting startup activities that include adopting the rule and developing a program to implement it, modifying their data systems, providing system staff with training and technical assistance, providing internal staff with training for implementation, assisting with initial LSL inventories and reviewing initial inventories, reviewing demonstrations of only non-lead service lines from systems, and conferring with systems on initial planning for LSLR and reviewing the LSLR plan. This proposed ICR covers these same <sup>6</sup> The currently approved ICR provided a total burden range of 3,171,076 to 3,388,020 hours. The current analysis provides only a single high-end estimate of 28,980,857 hours.

activities from the currently approved ICR in the first year of this ICR renewal period (2024), but in the next two years (2025 and 2026) of the ICR, both systems and primacy agencies must work to implement a number of ongoing and additional regulatory requirements including ongoing rule implementation and administration, lead and copper tap monitoring, corrosion control treatment, find-and-fix, water quality parameter monitoring, source water monitoring, LSL inventory updates, LSL replacement, small system POU treatment as a compliance alternative, lead public education and outreach, public notification, and lead in drinking water testing programs at schools and child care facilities. During this same period, the burden and cost to primacy agencies stems from their review and oversight activities associated with this larger set of the PWS requirements for 2025 and 2026. A relatively small increase in burden is associated with systems and primacy agencies voluntarily following recommendations associated with EPA's SL Inventory Guidance. Approximately 3 million hours of the total burden increase is attributable to inventory guidance activities not already covered by the original LCRR impact analysis.

Note: The annual burden estimate for a given collection is calculated in two steps. First, the total number of annual responses is calculated as the whole number closest to the product of the annual number of respondents and the annual number of responses per respondent. Then, the total number of annual responses is multiplied by the time per response and rounded to the nearest hour to obtain the estimated annual burden for that collection. This rounding ensures the annual burden hours in the table are consistent with the values recorded in the OMB’s regulatory tracking system.

OMB No. 3064-0184 Total Estimated Annual Burden (Hours): 4,049.

General Description of Collection: Section 13 of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 (section 13) contains certain restrictions on the ability of a banking entity to engage in proprietary trading and to have certain interests in, or relationships with, a hedge fund or private equity fund. The FDIC's regulations at 12 CFR part 351 (part 351) implement section 13 with respect to FDIC-supervised insured depository institutions (IDIs). The requirements in part 351 do not apply to FDIC-supervised IDIs that have, and if every company that controls it has, total consolidated assets of $10 billion or less and total trading assets and trading liabilities, that are five percent or less of total consolidated assets.<sup>1</sup> Part 351 contains provisions that constitute information collections (ICs) under the Paperwork Reduction Act corresponding to policies, rules, and regulations regarding periodic reporting requirements, documentation of trading activities and compliance programs, and various other recordkeeping and disclosure requirements for FDIC-supervised IDIs that are subject to the requirements of part 351 (covered bank).

There is no change in the substance or methodology of this information collection. The estimated annual burden for this information collection is 4,049 hours. This is an increase of 856 hours from the total estimated annual burden of 3,193 hours submitted in 2020. As was the case in 2020, the FDIC assumes that all covered banks have completed the implementation portions of this information collection. Thus, the current estimated annual implementation burden is identical to the estimated annual implementation burden in 2020 (1,664 hours).

The increase in burden is driven entirely by the increase in the total annual ongoing burden which is now estimated to be 2,385 hours, an increase of 856 hours from the estimated annual burden used in 2020 (1,529 hours). Specifically, the number of covered banks considered to have "significant" trading assets and liabilities has increased from one in 2020 to two in the current estimate. Generally, the ICs that apply only to these covered banks—such as those under § 351.20(a)— 351.20(e)—have the highest estimated time per response, and an increase in the number of respondents will lead to a correspondingly large increase in the total estimated annual burden. This increase is attenuated by a decrease in the total number of covered banks with "moderate" or "significant" trading assets and liabilities from ten in the 2020 ICR to seven in this ICR, which has led to a corresponding decrease in the total estimated annual burden for those line items that apply to all covered banks with "moderate" or "significant" trading assets and liabilities. The total estimated annual hourly burden for both implementation and ongoing compliance is shown in Tables 1 and 2 above.
