

I reviewed the 10/22 version of the proposed rule and kept notes on each of the impacts on burdens in notes to that file. I copied the burdens onto the appropriate lines of the APHIS 71.

Summary Notes from Joe 6/6/2022:

Goal 1: Create a proposed rule ICR (SS, 71, 79) containing the new recordkeeping activity in 354.3(j).

Goal 2: Include the figures from the new ICR into the PRA section of the proposed rule Federal Register notice. Include language that the current and are being reported in 0579-0055.

Goal 3: Look at ICR 0579-0094 (User Fees) from 06/2012 and determine which activities need to be added to the current 0579-0055. "M€ (0094) user fees et al in violation of the PRA since 2015 and we are trying to make things right now that we have experienced people work

Bottom line for timing is the revised, "comprehensive" 0579-0055 must be submitted and approved by OMB before the proposed rule is published.

Draft PRA Text for Rulemaking Section 10 of the RWP

APHIS will address the paperwork burden for this rulemaking through two simultaneous projects. APHIS will revise the existing AQI User Fee collection OMB Control Number -579-0055 (hereinafter referred to as 0055) through an early renewal process, to update paperwork burden already accounted for in that analysis. APHIS will address new aspects of burden associated with the rulemaking in a new collection that accompanies the rule covered by this regulatory workplan.

Both information collections address burden associated with processes required to collect and pay AQI User Fees for inspection and treatment of imported plant products, by products, soil, grain, and other agricultural items. Processes covered include: application for a customer credit account for frequent customers; recordkeeping; quarterly remittances and reports; billing; and purchase of prepaid transponders. We include these fee types: commercial aircraft; loaded commercial railroad cars; arriving international air and vessel passengers; and treatment services.

In the renewal of information collection 0055, we will update burden analyses for aircraft, rail and passenger fee types, as well as add burden overlooked in the 2015 rulemaking related to treatment services fees and half sheets (specifically applications for a credit account and quarterly reports).

In the proposed rule's information collection, APHIS will provide estimates of burden related to the proposed removal of fee exemptions for international arrivals of aircraft having 64-or fewer seats and barge vessels arriving from Canada; these estimates include expansion of burden estimates for application for a credit account; the quarterly remittance process, and record-keeping requirements. APHIS will also propose to shift payment of AQI User Fees for treatment services from a quarterly payment system to a monthly billing system, so burden estimates for the application for a credit account, processing of the bill and payment, and record keeping requirements will be presented. APHIS will include additional burdens associated with a proposal to add to the treatment services the activities of monitoring: irradiation phytosanitary treatments; heat phytosanitary treatments; and destruction, restacking, or reconditioning.

CBP maintains the information collection related to the collection and payment of AQI User Fees associated with vessel and single truck arrivals (1651-0052). This collection will be adjusted in tandem with this rulemaking by CBP.
