OMB Number: 0915-0126 Expiration Date: XX/XX/20XX

Public Burden Statement: The NPDB is a web-based repository of reports containing information on medical malpractice payments and certain adverse actions related to health care practitioners, providers, and suppliers. Established by Congress in 1986, it is a workforce tool that prevents practitioners from moving state-to-state without disclosure or discovery of previous damaging performance. The statutes and regulations that govern and maintain NPDB operations include: Title IV of Public Law 99-660, Health Care Quality Improvement Act \(HCQIA\) of 1986, Section 1921 of the Social Security Act, Section 1128E of the Social Security Act, and Section 6403 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010. The NPDB regulations implementing these laws are codified at 45 CFR Part 60. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control number for this information collection is 0915-0126 and it is valid until XX/XX/202X. This information collection is required to obtain or retain a benefit (45 CFR Part 60). 45 CFR Section 60.20 provides information on the confidentiality of the NPDB. Information reported to the NPDB is considered confidential and shall not be disclosed outside of HHS, except as specified in Sections 60.17, 60.18, and 60.21. Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 8 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to HRSA Reports Clearance Officer, 5600 Fishers Lane, Room 14N136B, Rockville, Maryland, 20857 or paperwork@hrsa.gov.

Before you can request dispute resolution, you must contact the reporting organization, in Section A of the report, to discuss your disagreement. If after 60 days you have contacted or attempted to contact the reporting organization and could not resolve your dispute, you may request dispute resolution.

Dispute resolution process

Dispute resolution is a request for the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to review the report. The Secretary delegates the Division of Practitioner Data Bank of the Health Resources and Services Administration to conduct this review in the order in which they are received. The Division of Practitioner Data Bank is responsible for oversight of the NPDB.

The law strictly limits our jurisdiction for reviewing disputed reports. We can only review the following:

- If the report was submitted in accordance with reporting requirements.
- If the reporting organization is eligible to report the information.
- If the report accurately depicts the action taken by the reporting organization and basis for the action in the organization's written record.

Any other issue must be resolved between you and the reporting organization.

Reported Action(s):

- Failure to Order Appropriate Medication

Requesting dispute resolution does not remove your report from the NPDB. You will need to submit the following to request dispute resolution:

1. Proof that you contacted or attempted to contact the reporting organization to resolve your dispute (e.g., email or other written correspondence with the organization's response).
2. Supporting documentation that either proves that the information reported is not factually accurate or that the action was not reported in accordance with reporting regulations.

Examples of relevant supporting documentation

Supporting documentation must prove your points of dispute and show that the report is either inaccurate or not submitted in accordance with reporting regulations. Some examples of supporting documentation include the following:

- The written claim and settlement or release document of a medical malpractice payment
- A court judgment for judgment or conviction report
- The state or federal government licensing board's findings of fact and conclusions of law, such as a board order
- The final report of the hearing panel from the health care organization
- Meeting minutes or correspondence with the reporting organization

Examples of what we CANNOT review

The law strictly limits our jurisdiction for reviewing disputed reports. We have no legal authority to provide an independent medical investigation nor can we examine the validity of the information provided in the report. We will not consider documentation that is beyond the scope of our review authority. Some examples include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Arguments that you are not responsible for the incident that led to the reporting organization submitting a report
- How a reporting organization uses its bylaws, how practitioners are disciplined, or how they are afforded due process
- Examples of similar actions taken by other organizations
- Arguments that the underlying reasons for the action were not appropriate or fair
- Second professional opinions of the underlying reasons for the action taken
- Whether the subject of a report was informed of an ongoing investigation
- Whether malpractice was committed or whether the payment was justified
- Appropriate or inappropriate treatment
- Information from outside parties
- Medical journal articles or newspaper clippings
- Letters of recommendation or praise
- Copies of awards or certificates
- Résumés or curriculum vitae
- Diagnostic images or photographs
- Copies of medical or clinical procedure records

Out-of-scope issues must be resolved between you and the reporting organization. If the dispute is out-of-scope we will issue a decision stating that your dispute is out-of-scope and note the decision on the report. For additional examples of out-of-scope information, visit the Guidebook, Chapter F.

By selecting Continue, you confirm that your dispute is not out-of-scope as described above.

Add dispute points

Describe each aspect of the report you want to dispute. The dispute resolution review will only determine the following:

- If the report was filed in accordance with report regulations and
- If the report accurately reflects the official written record of the action reported.

Add references to your supporting documents in the description of each dispute point you create (e.g., "See mydocument.pdf, page 3, line 4").

Dispute points and all documentation must be in English.Add up to seven dispute points

+ Additional point of disputeTo process your request we must have the following:

1. Proof of an unsuccessful attempt to resolve the disagreement with the reporting organization (e.g., a copy of email correspondence with the reporting organization's response).
2. Documentation supporting your position that the information reported is not correct. The documents must be directly related to the facts in dispute and substantially contribute to a determination of the accuracy of the facts in the report. Do not include any personally identifiable information other than your own.

Is an attorney assisting you?

Due to confidentiality restrictions, we cannot accept documents from or provide information to your attorney until we receive an authorization letter. Your attorney can provide this to you. You or a designated employee who is representing your organization must sign the letter and upload or mail it to us.

Upload your documents

To expedite your request, only include relevant documentation and add references to your supporting documents in the description of each dispute point you create (e.g., "See mydocument.pdf, page 3, line 4"). Submitting a large volume of documents or extraneous documentation will delay the review process.
