Email invitation for calls with stakeholders

Dear [STAKEHOLDER],

Mathematica is conducting the Next Generation of Enhanced Employment Services Project (NextGen Project) for the Office of Planning, Research, and Evaluation in the Administration for Children and Families (ACF). This project aims to identify and evaluate innovative interventions designed to promote employment and economic security among low-income individuals with complex barriers to employment. It could include about nine rigorous evaluations. Right now, we are casting a wide net for interventions that might be a good fit for the study; we will select interventions to invite to participate in the study later.

Could we have a short call with you to discuss any innovative employment strategies that you may know about? The call will take less than 30 minutes.

Below are some times we are available. Please let us know when it would be convenient for us to talk.

We are collecting information on interventions that might be a good fit for the study; we will select programs to invite to participate in the study later.

[SOURCE] suggested your program as one which may be appropriate to consider for evaluation as part of the NextGen Project. We are interested in speaking with you to hear more about your program and the services you provide, and to tell you more about the project.

Would you have an hour to speak with us? Below are some times we are available. Please let us know when it would be convenient for us to talk.
