

Kodiak Island Routed Area, April-August Bird and Egg Permit Report

As a Kodiak Island Routed Area Registration Permit holder, you are required to complete and return by mail the permit report, even if you did not harvest birds or eggs. Your responses are confidential. You are receiving this reminder because we have not yet received your report. To avoid future notifications, please complete and return this report now. Harvest estimates are used to:

- Document the importance of subsistence uses of migratory birds.
- Protect sustainable subsistence harvests.
- Protect our bird resources.
- Assess whether harvest regulations are appropriate.

Instructions for completing your report:

1. Each individual permit holder must complete her/his own report. If more than one person in a household obtained a permit, each person must answer her/his individual report.
2. Write your permit number and date in the white boxes at the top of the first report page.
3. For each season, checkmark in the "YES" or "NO" white circle indicating whether you harvested birds and/or eggs. In the fields provided close to bird drawings, report numbers of all birds and eggs you harvested, including those that you gave to other people.
4. If you harvested with other people, report only your share of the harvest.
5. Do not report birds or eggs you harvested in other places (outside the routed area) and times of the year.
6. Do not report birds or eggs received from other people.
7. Report numbers of birds and eggs as individual units. For instance, if you harvested eggs using a 5-gallon bucket or other kind of container, specify how many eggs.
8. Write comments in the box provided at the bottom of each seasonal report sheet (weather, hunting conditions, access to hunting areas, unusual birds seen, permit and reporting process, etc.).
9. Fold together the two report sheets, put them in the pre-stamped envelope provided, and mail it to the pre-printed address.

Quyanaasinaq, thank you! We'll share combined report results with your community.
