TERMINATE SCRIPT: I'm sorry, I seem to be having trouble pulling up your record. I will check with my supervisor and call you back at another time.

INTERVIEWER: PLEASE CALL YOUR FIELD MANAGER AND PROVIDE THEM WITH THE DATE OF BIRTH THAT THE RESPONDENT TOLD YOU.

SC6: TALKING TO RESPONDENT:

I am calling to invite you to participate in another research study – the Mobility Opportunity Vouchers to Eliminate Disparities or MOVED study. It is offered to families, like yours, who enrolled in the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)'s Community Choice Demonstration. You may recall a letter and flyer sent to your home or an email sent to you about it.

Do you have any questions from reading the flyer, letter, or email?

[INTERVIEWER ANSWERS QUESTIONS]

The purpose of the MOVED study is to help researchers better understand the effects of neighborhood conditions on the health and well-being of adults and children. There are two parts of the MOVED Study. One part looks at how housing and neighborhood environments impact your family’s health, including conditions like obesity and type II diabetes. This part of the study is being paid for by the National Institutes of Health (NIH). HUD is funding a second part of the study. This part looks at how neighborhoods affect children’s well-being. Researchers from Johns Hopkins University and Abt Associates are working together on the MOVED study. Abt Associates will be conducting data collection for both parts of the MOVED study together to make it easier for families to be involved. The researchers will collect data from one adult and one child in each family.

If you choose to enroll, the whole visit will take about 3 hours and you can receive up to $140 in gift cards for you and your child for completing the MOVED study activities during this visit, depending on how many of the activities you and your child agree to participate in.

We can schedule a time for an interviewer to come to your home and explain the MOVED study further. After we explain the study and go through the informed consent process, you can choose to participate or not. Your participation in this study is completely voluntary and does not affect your participation in the Community Choice Demonstration.

There are several activities we will ask you and your child to complete as part of the MOVED study. The MOVED study includes asking questions about you and one child in your home, measuring you and your child’s height, weight and waist circumference, testing your blood to measure your type II diabetes risk, and checking your blood pressure.

It’s also important for you to know that we would like to collect the data twice. Once in the next month or so, and once two years later.

[INTERVIEWER PAUSES and/or ANSWERS QUESTIONS]

Would you like to schedule an interviewer to visit your home to explain the study and possibly participate?
