

[[IF EMAIL: Email subject: Last chance to sign up for paid study about Hispanic/Latina women's health]]

Dear [NAME],

Your participation in this study is important to help us better understand the health of Hispanic/Latina women.

This is our last [letter / email] inviting you to join us in small group conversations. We are looking for Spanish-speaking, Hispanic/Latina women for either an online or in-person 90-minute conversation group.

At the end of the session, all participants will be given $75.00 for their time and effort. (*E-gift card for online participation and physical gift card for in-person participation.)

During these conversations we will be talk with Spanish-speaking Hispanic/Latina women (18 years or older) about women's health. A trained moderator will guide the group conversation.

Your feedback will help us understand current experiences, cultural influences, and food in Hispanic/Latino households. Your input is important!
