

GQ ISR Suitability Survey Questionnaire

Greetings, and thank you for taking our Group Quarters Feedback Survey.

The Census Bureau is responsible for enumerating all persons living in the United States, including those persons living in various types of group quarters. Group quarters are places where people live or stay in a group living arrangement that is owned or managed by an organization providing housing and/or services for the residents. Examples of group quarters include residential treatment centers, workers' group living quarters, and college student housing.

For the next census, we are considering a plan to allow residents of some types of group quarters to complete their census questionnaire online. We would like to ask you some questions to assess whether our plan for an online census questionnaire will be appropriate for the residents of your group quarters. Use the "next" button below to start the survey.

AUTHORITY AND CONFIDENTIALITY

By law, the Census Bureau is required to keep your answers confidential (Title 13, United States Code, Section 9). We are conducting this voluntary survey under the authority of Title 13, United States Code, Sections 141 and 193. This collection has been approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). This eight-digit OMB approval number, 0607-0971, confirms this approval. We are required to display this number to conduct this survey. We estimate that this survey will take about 5 minutes. Send comments regarding this estimate or any aspect of this survey, including suggestions for reducing the time it takes to complete this survey to adrm.pra@census.gov. By proceeding with this study, you give your consent to participate in this study. The Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. Section 552a) allows the sharing of information you provided with Census Bureau staff for the work-related purposes identified in this statement.
