

Appendix F.6.1. Sorting and Rating Instructions

Thank you again for contributing your ideas on how to address the food security needs of NAP-eligible households. We would like you to return to the groupwisdom™ platform to sort and rate the ideas you and other participants provided. You can conduct the sorting and rating any time between [DATE1] and [DATE2]. After [DATE2], the sorting and rating phase of the project will be closed.

We are using Concept Systems Incorporated's groupwisdom™ platform to facilitate data collection. Our project can be accessed using this link:

Please use your email address and the password you created during the brainstorming phase of the study to access the platform. If you forget your password, you can reset your password by clicking on “forgot password?” on the login page.

Sorting. As we discussed at the first virtual meeting, sorting involves grouping ideas that are similar into a set and adding a label that describes the set of ideas. Please consider the following best practices and instructions when sorting the ideas:

- Sort the ideas into sets that make sense to you
- You may create as many sets as you would like, but you must create at least 3 sets
- Each set must include two or more ideas
- After you've finished sorting all the ideas, label each set with a name that makes sense to you

Rating. After you complete the sorting task, we would like you to rate each idea. Ratings are used to develop ranking ordering of ideas along dimensions that are important to help us understand the food security needs of Nutrition Assistance Program (NAP) participants in Puerto Rico. You will find the following rating questions on the groupwisdom™ platform:

- On a scale of 1 (not at all likely) to 4 (very likely), how likely is this idea to reduce the number of food insecure families in Puerto Rico?
- How ready is Puerto Rico to implement this idea? Please rate this idea from 1 (not at all ready) to 4 (very ready).
- On a scale of 1 (difficult to accept) to 4 (easy to accept), how acceptable would this idea be to decision makers in Puerto Rico?
