The form did not clearly specify that the Principal Investigator can also sign as the Health Care Provider.	The attestation form has been revised to include a signatory option for the principal investigator as well as the Health Care Provider.	Revision	The form was updated to ensure that the participant's enrollment in the study was not delayed by the need to see a second physician for signature.	No
The form did not distinguish the Principal Investigator from the Health Care Provider so that the form can be signed in counterparts.	The attestation form contains two signature lines, one for the Health Care Provider and another for the principal investigator.	Revision	The update will allow for both the Health Care Provider and/or Principal Investigator to sign.	No
The form included the Name and Subject of the qualified clinical trial.	The attestation form no longer includes the Name/Subject of the qualified clinical trial and instead includes the National Clinical Trial Number.	Revision	This change streamlines the information included on the form to one single identifier for the clinical trial.	No
The form included a link to the qualified trial and the NCT number from clinicaltrials.gov.	The attestation form replaced the link to the qualified trial with "NCT (form clinicaltrials.gov)".	Revision	This update eliminates confusion for the health care provider and/or principal investigator by removing the reference to the Secretary's website.	No
The form requested that the NPI number is present.	The NPI number has been eliminated from the attestation form.	Revision	The NPI was not required by law.	No
The form required the name and Medicaid ID of the beneficiary be gathered twice.	The attestation form now request the name and Medicaid ID of the beneficiary once opposed to twice.	Revision	This update eliminates duplication of information.	No
