

operational management and FTA's efforts to research these topics. Within this area, FTA has added a resource to Chapter III, Needs Assessment for Transit Rail Transmission-Based Train Control (TBTC). Further, FTA's Office of Research, Demonstration and Innovation is undertaking a number of related initiatives, including the Transit Worker and Rider Safety Best Practice Research Program as well as four new research programs to address the challenges of: (1) rising assault incidents in transit; (2) advancing autonomous rail transit track inspection technology; (3) improving transit infrastructure condition monitoring; and (4) the Bus Compartment Redesign and Bus of the Future initiatives.

Regarding the topic of challenges related to the electrification of transit fleets and associated concerns raised by commenters, FTA has added the following resources to Chapter III of the National Safety Plan: Safety and Security Certification of Electric Bus Fleets; Procuring and Maintaining Battery Electric Buses and Charging Systems; and Crash Energy Management for Heavy Rail Vehicles, Light Rail Vehicles, and Streetcars.

In response to the commenter who recommended additional resources on suicide and suicide prevention, FTA added the resource, Mitigations for Trespasser and Suicide Fatalities and Injuries to Chapter III of the National Safety Plan.

FTA appreciates the commenter that recommended FTA include the safety of mobility assistive device users on public transportation when developing standards and resources. FTA agrees with commenter on the importance of ensuring the safety of mobility assistive users, especially with respect to railroad grade crossings, emergency signage, emergency response, and life safety equipment. FTA will consider the safety of mobility assistive device users when developing standards or technical assistance.

FTA appreciates the commenter that requested FTA include strategies to minimize exposure to infectious diseases, including removal of infectious aerosols in the air people breathe. FTA coordinated with the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) prior to publishing the proposed National Safety Plan to identify precautionary and reactive actions required to ensure public and personnel safety and health during an emergency. Following publication of the proposed National Safety Plan, FTA coordinated with HHS again to confirm the voluntary minimum safety standards and recommended practices for inclusion in the final National Safety Plan. FTA has added three related resources to the final National Safety Plan that are responsive to the commenter's suggestion: Ventilation in Buildings resources from the Centers for Disease Control (CDC); FTA's COVID-19 Resource Tool for Public Transportation; and FTA's Using Your Safety Management System (SMS) to Mitigate Infectious Disease and Respiratory Hazard Exposure. FTA has also included additional ventilation-related resources in Category E, including: Specifications and Guidelines for Rail Tunnel Design, Construction, Maintenance, and Rehabilitation; Specifications and Guidelines for Rail Tunnel Repair and Rehabilitation; and Specifications and Guidelines for Rail Tunnel Inspection and Maintenance.

Finally, FTA appreciates the commenters that offered suggestions regarding railroad crossing light requirements and other safety recommendations. FTA appreciates and has thoroughly considered all these recommendations; however, at this time FTA declines to include them in the final National Safety Plan. FTA notes that these suggestions may be considered when FTA is developing future safety standards and identifying technical assistance needs for transit safety.

Acting Administrator.

PHMSA requests comments on the following information collections:

Title: Cargo Tank Specification Requirements.

OMB Control Number: 2137-0014.

Summary: This information collection consolidates and describes the information collection provisions in 49

CFR parts 107, 178, and 180 involving the manufacture, qualification, maintenance, and use of all specification cargo tank motor vehicles. It also includes the information collection and recordkeeping requirements for persons who are engaged in the manufacture, assembly, requalification, and maintenance of Department of Transportation (DOT) specification cargo tank motor vehicles. The types of information collected include:

(1) Registration Statements: Cargo tank manufacturers and repairers, as well as cargo tank motor vehicle assemblers, are required to be registered with DOT and must furnish information relative to their qualifications to perform the functions in accordance with the HMR. DOT uses the registration statements to identify these persons to ensure they possess the knowledge and skills necessary to perform the required functions and that they are performing the specified functions in accordance with the applicable regulations.

(2) Requalification and Maintenance Reports: These reports are prepared by persons who requalify or maintain cargo tanks. This information is used by cargo tank owners, operators and users, and DOT compliance personnel to verify that the cargo tanks are requalified, maintained, and in proper condition for the transportation of hazardous materials.

(3) Manufacturers' Data Reports, Certificates, and Related Papers: These reports are prepared by cargo tank manufacturers and certifiers. They are used by cargo tank owners, operators, users, and DOT compliance personnel to verify that a cargo tank motor vehicle was designed and constructed to meet all requirements of the applicable specification.
