U.S. Customs & Border Protection e-Recordation Program

How to Obtain Border Enforcement of Trademarks and Copyrights

United States Customs and Border Protection (CBP) has the authority to detain, seize, forfeit, and ultimately destroy merchandise seeking entry into the United States if it bears an infringing trademark or copyright that has been registered with the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) or the United States Copyright Office (USCOP), and has subsequently been recorded with CBP. As an Intellectual Property Right (IPR) owner, you can partner with CBP to receive border enforcement of your registered trademarks and copyrights through CBP's e-Recordation Program.

New RecordationRenewalChange of OwnershipChange Point of ContactCheck StatusRequest 3 Month Extension

Contact Us

CBP IPR's e-Recordation program is administered by the IP Enforcement Branch within the Regulations and Rulings Directorate, Office of Trade. Should you require any assistance with this application, or have any questions not addressed in the content below, please contact us at:
IPRRQuestions@cbp.dhs.gov

For additional information on the e-Recordation program not answered by the FAQs below, see 19 CFR Part 133 for all applicable federal regulations.

Required Documents

We recommend that you have the following materials and information readily available before you begin the application process:

U.S. Patent & Trademark Office Registration Certificate, U.S. Copyright Office Registration Certificate, or proof of an application with the U.S. Copyright Office

Digital images of the trademark or copyright as used in commerce in ".jpg", ".gif", or ".pdf" format. Please note that individual image files are limited to 2MB.

Name, address, telephone number and email address of a Point of Contact that will be available to CBP should they have questions concerning border enforcement of the recordation.

List of authorized manufacturers, licensees and parties authorized to use the trademark, if applicable

Countries of manufacture.

Optional Documents

We also recommend that you submit additional information through the application that will assist CBP in enforcing your trademark and/or copyright at the border:

Authentication: An authentication manual that describes your trademark and/or copyright, introduces your brand and provides detailed images of your genuine goods and how to differentiate them from unauthorized merchandise. All guides will be reviewed by the Intellectual Property Enforcement Branch in R&R and must comply with the Template.

Eligibility & Fees

Trademark

In order to record with CBP you must have a valid trademark registration published on the Principal Register of the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). The fee for e-Recordation is $190 per International Class of Goods (IC), per trademark registration. The recordation will remain in force concurrently with the underlying USPTO registration, if renewed along with the USPTO registration.

Copyright

In order to record with CBP you must have a valid copyright registration with the United States Copyright Office (USCOP). The fee for e-Recordation is $190 per copyright. The recordation will remain in force concurrently with the underlying copyright registration, if renewed with CBP every 20 years.

Pending Copyright

You may record pending copyright registrations for a period of 6 months by emailing IPRRQuestions@cbp.dhs.gov and providing proof that you have filed an application with the United States Copyright Office (USCOP).

Renewal

Recordations can be renewed for another term for the fee of $80 per International Class of Goods (IC) for trademarks, and $80 per copyright.

Expiration

A right holder has a 90-day grace period from the time of the USPTO expiration date to renew their recordation. Beyond this 90-day period, should the right holder wish to continue to receive border enforcement, they will have to apply anew and pay the standard fee for new recordations. The IPR Database reflects the expiration date of the CBP recordation, which already factors in the 90 day grace period from the time of the USPTO expiration date.

Gray Market Restriction

Trademarks that are recorded with CBP are eligible for gray market protection where:

- (1) the U.S. and foreign trademarks are not owned by the same person, and
- (2) the U.S. and foreign trademark owners are not a parent or subsidiary, or otherwise subject to common ownership or control.

See 19 C.F.R. §133.23.

The recordation holder must apply for such protection with the Intellectual Property Enforcement (IPE) Branch of Regulations & Rulings at HQIPRB@enr.chp.dhs.gov.

Trademarks that are not eligible for gray market protection because of common ownership or control between the U.S. owner and a foreign owner may request that CBP restrict the importation of gray market goods which are "physically and materially different" from goods intended for sale within the U.S. by requesting Lever-rule protection. See Lever Brothers Co. v. U.S., 961 F.2d 1330 (1992). To qualify for this type of protection the trademark registration must be owned, or jointly owned, by a U.S. citizen. Trademark recordation holders who wish to obtain Lever-rule protection for specific products must make a request to HQIPRB@enr.chp.dhs.gov and (1) state the basis for this claim with particularity; (2) support the claim by competent evidence; and (3) provide CBP with a summary of the alleged physical and material differences that exist between the merchandise authorized for sale in the United States and those intended for other markets. "Physical and material" differences between merchandise authorized for sale in the United States and those intended for other markets may include, but are not limited to:

- The specific composition of both the authorized and gray market product(s) (including chemical composition)
- Formulation, product construction, structure, or composite product components, of both the authorized and gray market product
- Performance and/or operational characteristics of both the authorized and gray market product
- Differences resulting from legal or regulatory requirements, certification, etc.
- Other distinguishing and explicitly defined factors that would likely result in consumer deception or confusion as prescribed under applicable law

Payment

CBP accepts payment by credit card.

Making Changes to your Recordation

To update the information in an existing recordation, such as changing the Point of Contact, licensees or countries of manufacture, a request must be made on company letterhead and emailed to IPRRQuestions@cbp.dhs.gov indicating all recordation numbers for which the change is requested.

Programs Available to Recordation Holders

Visit <https://www.cbp.gov/trade/priority-tasks/ipr/protection> for a description of all of the resources and programs available to recordation holders to partner with CBP in helping to enforce their intellectual property rights at the border.

Review "Best Practices for Working with U.S. Customs and Border Protection to Help Enforce Your Intellectual Property Rights at the Border".

IPRS Public Search

Public versions of CBP recordations are available online via the Intellectual Property Rights Search System \(IPRS\).

Additional Notes

30 Minute Time-out

The system will time-out after 30 minutes of inactivity on a single page, and incomplete applications will not be saved. Accordingly, please complete the application before exiting the system. Should your session time-out, please contact IPRRQuestions@cbp.dhs.gov and request that the application be deleted so that you can begin anew.

Retain for Your Records

Once you submit your application you can no longer access it, so we recommend that you "screen print" each page of the application and retain it for your records.

Paperwork Reduction Act Statement

An agency may not conduct or sponsor an information collection, and a person is not required to respond to this information unless it displays a current valid OMB control number and an expiration date. The control number for this collection is 1651-0123. The estimated average time to complete this application is two hours. If you have any comments regarding the burden estimate, you can write to U.S. Customs and Border Protection, Office of Trade, Regulations and Rulings, 90K Street, N.E., Washington DC 20229. Expiration Date: April 30, 2024.

To update the information in an existing recordation, such as changing the Point of Contact, licensees or countries of manufacture, a request must be made on company letterhead and emailed to IPRRQuestions@cbp.dhs.gov indicating all recordation numbers for which the change is requested.

All guides will be reviewed by the Intellectual Property Enforcement Branch in R&R and must comply with the Template.

Training: CBP offers recordation holders the opportunity to provide enforcement-oriented training to CBP personnel in the field. Training may be conducted virtually or in-person at the Ports of Entry. All training material will be reviewed and edited, and must comply with the requirements identified in the Best Practices Document. To request a training please email tradeseminars@cbp.dhs.gov.

Report Suspected Violations

Information regarding suspect shipments or parties importing infringing merchandise should not be submitted through the e-Recordation Program, but instead, should be directed to e-Allegations Online Trade Violation Reporting System.

You may also contact the National IPR Coordination Center for additional enforcement opportunities concerning reported violations.
