Email Draft for MCV Roundtable

Subject: Save the Date: PSCR Mission Critical Voice Virtual Roundtable April 2024

Body:

[Name],

You are invited to participate in a virtual Mission Critical Voice (MCV) roundtable discussion series! It will be a two-day series held during the week of April 22nd for two hours each day. Specific days will be determined based on attendee availability. If you are only available to attend one day, we still welcome your participation.

PSCR would like to meet with you and other public safety professionals to discuss the current state of mission critical voice, how we can drive research to benefit public safety, and where you believe the next generation of mission critical communications is headed.

Please fill out the RSVP form to indicate your availability and submit your response by Friday, March 22nd - we understand your time is very valuable and we greatly appreciate you taking time out of your busy schedule to join and further PSCR's research and development. Feel free to share this form with any of your colleagues who you think may be interested.

Thank you,

Alison Kahn
