PROGRAMMING NOTES:

- All questions indicate whether “select one” or “select all”
- The questionnaire is case-sensitive since answer options in ALLCAPS should not be read by interviewers and answer options in lower case should be read aloud
- Blind D or R should be coded with our usual D=8/98, R=7/97 unless the answer is numeric, in which case D=-2, R=-1
- All storage items should be named as SI_XX.
- Storage items that contain offenses will be left blank when responses to questions used to fill the storage item is D or R.
- In cases where storage items are filled with dates and those dates are not provided (D or R) or incomplete (MM/DD/YYYY), the storage item will be left blank and we cannot use for fills or logic checks
- In cases where storage items are filled with offenses and those offenses are not provided, generic language will be used as fill unless the question is specified to be skipped where offense is missing/storage item is blank.
- Other specify responses should be coded 5/95. If the “other, specify” is part of an answer set that is supposed to be read aloud then interviewers will be trained to read the list up to that point and end with “or some other”. If “other” is chosen, they will then ask, “Please describe the other” in order to capture the specifics.
- COMP_INSTR are programming instructions and do not appear on the screen
- FI_INSTR are interviewer instructions and should appear on screen
- (h) in the answer list indicates a help screen option that should be made available to the interviewer as needed
- All “transcribe” instructions are programming instructions, as are other italicized instructions that do not specifically say “INTERVIEWER” before them
- Any time a numeric answer entered is out of the acceptable range, show an error message to the interviewer reminding them of the acceptable range
- Once the interview is broken off, the interview is completed, i.e., respondents will not be given the option to go back and complete the interview at another time
- Similarly, the field interviewer may have to break off the interview in situations where the respondent has inadvertently gone down the wrong path when responding to questions that drive significant skip patterns (e.g., convicted, changes mind to unconvicted). Consider using non-interview worksheet

Mr. Minton,

Please accept the below comments concerning the Survey of Inmates in Local Jails, as provided in the Federal Register—document citation 89 FR 18669, OMB number 1121-0098, document number 2024-05349.

Section 9 of the survey instrument includes questions related to respondent's current mental health status, past engagement with the mental health system, and receipt of services since admission into jail. I appreciate these questions and the value of the insights that can be gleaned from their inclusion in the survey instrument.

However, the survey instrument appears to exclude questions that may identify the factors preventing or inhibiting the provision of mental health services in jail to respondents who have engaged the mental health system prior to incarceration. For example, question S9Q13d asks respondents if they are currently receiving mental health services from the jail mental health provider. A follow up question may be for the respondent to identify the primary barrier to the receipt of mental health services in jail—limited provider availability, inadequate service offering, correctional officer workforce shortages, etc. The same or a subsequent question may solicit information on the circumstances that motivated a respondent to decline mental health services, perhaps due to the stigma associated with receipt of services, the respondent's belief that they didn't need care, etc.

I believe the information gleaned from the inclusion of questions related to access to care would have significant practical utility at the federal, state, and local level, as it relates to the development of a robust care continuum that best meets the needs of justice-involved people with mental illness. In other words, although the survey instrument in its current form appears to be able to produce valuable information on the circumstances or characteristics of people currently in local jails, it appears to exclude questions that provide insight into local jails themselves and how they might be improved.

Please let me know if there is another, more preferred method of comment submission. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Best,
Matthew

Re: Public comments request on the reinstatement, with change, of BJS data collection: Survey of Inmates in Local Jails \(SILJ\), OMB Number 1121-0098.

Dear Dr. Scott:

NAMI appreciates the opportunity to submit comments in support of the “Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ), 2024-2025”. NAMI, the National Alliance on Mental Illness, is the nation’s largest grassroots mental health organization, dedicated to building better lives for people affected by mental illness. We do this by providing education, support, public awareness and advocacy through our over 700 affiliate organizations in communities across the country.

Currently there are few sources of publicly available data that includes information about people with mental illness who are incarcerated in jails. The SILJ, in the past, has offered this important source of detailed information that is essential to identifying the needs of justice systems, monitoring national trends, and supporting policy changes.

Since the last time the SILJ was conducted in 2002, there have been a variety of changes in criminal justice and mental health policy. Updating this data will be extremely valuable to measuring progress and identifying still-needed reforms. Specifically, variables such as "mental health problems and treatment", "experiences in jail and use of jail programs", "veterans in jail", and "inmate misconduct" are critical to better understanding the experiences of people with mental illness both within and outside of the justice system. Having updated data from this survey will help inform the work of many system stakeholders and community organizations, including NAMI, as we work to improve the criminal justice outcomes for people with mental illness.

We appreciate that you are reinstating this widely cited data collection and believe that the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS). Additionally, we hope our response to this request for public comment, informed by the stories of people who are impacted by the criminal justice system, will help the agency with fulfilling its goal of collecting reliable, nationally representative information.

Enhancing Information to Be Collected

People with mental illness are overrepresented in our nation's jails and prisons. It is therefore important that data and information collected from the justice system explores the needs and unique experiences of people with mental illness. In response to your request for how the "quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected can be enhanced", we believe there are opportunities in Section 10 of the questionnaire, "Jail Programs and Activities", articulated below:

- People Who Are Incarcerated

Section 10 of the questionnaire includes questions on housing, employment, and social supports upon release, but it omits questions pertaining to plans for health or mental health care. NAMI recommends that BJS add questions pertaining to plans for securing necessary health care coverage and mental health services in Section 10.

NAMI has a unique understanding of the health care-related needs and challenges of people with mental illness who are justice-involved. We hear stories every day throughout the NAMI Alliance- stories from people with mental illness and family members about their experiences with the criminal justice system. A NAMI advocate, Marcel from California, shared details about his family's experience when his brother, who has a mental illness, was released from incarceration:

"Upon being released there was no linkage for services even though a documented serious mental illness was included in multiple reports. Now we are stuck trying to find care and services and having to jump through hoops just to get information on what's available. Access to care shouldn't be so difficult. Everyone deserves access to quality and culturally appropriate services regardless of the circumstances. We need to do a better job or wrap around services, so folks do not get stuck in a vicious cycle."

This personal story highlights the importance of reentry programs and policies that address health and mental health care. Medication, health care coverage, and knowing where to turn to for treatment and support are all fundamental to the continuity of care for recently released individuals and preventing reincarceration. As NAMI advocates for increased access to health care services as part of reentry programs, it is essential to understanding if and how many jails are currently supporting the health care re-entry needs of people with mental illness. We ask that you consider our request to incorporate questions related to these topics.

- Solitary Confinement

Section 10 of the questionnaire also includes questions pertaining to "inmate rule violations" and "disciplinary actions", including solitary confinement or segregation. We applaud BJS for continuing to include information regarding the use of solitary confinement in the SILJ. NAMI opposes the use of solitary confinement and equivalent forms of administrative segregation for high-risk populations, including people with mental illness. It is routinely documented that solitary confinement is used extensively in correctional settings for people with severe psychiatric symptoms, which can cause extreme suffering and worsening of symptoms¹. Having data on the use of solitary confinement, and the experiences of people placed in these settings, is crucial to evaluating its use and identifying reforms.

However, NAMI recommends that Section 10 of the questionnaire be modified to include questions related to people's experiences with solitary confinement throughout their current period of incarceration. Currently the questionnaire asks about the "rule violation that occurred most recently". Many people, especially those who are most vulnerable within the jail system, may be placed in solitary confinement multiple times within one jail stay. Asking about their experience as a whole, including the most recent and any previous experiences, can help to provide a more holistic picture of solitary confinement and its use. It will also assist in efforts to provide mental health care alternatives to solitary confinement for people with mental health conditions.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this important data collection. Updated data through the SILJ will provide valuable insight that is needed for communities' work to improve resources and reforms for people impacted by the justice system. If you have any questions or would like to discuss our comments further, please contact Shannon Scully, Director of Justice Policy & Initiatives at sscully@nami.org.

Sincerely,

Hannah Wesolowski

Survey of Inmates in Local Jails

Consent to Participate in Research (Standard) – 1st person

Introduction

The Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ) is a research study done by the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) and U.S. Census Bureau. The purpose of this survey is to learn about trends in inmate characteristics, criminal justice practices, and physical and mental health status of jail inmates in the United States. BJS will report findings in statistical reports. Interviews will be conducted at 600 jails for this study, and you are one of 10,000 inmates who have been randomly selected to participate. This means that you represent all the other inmates that were not chosen to take part. Your participation is voluntary, but we would like to know about your experiences. Let me tell you about the study and you can decide if you want to take part.

Description of the Study

This interview will take about 70 minutes. I will ask about your:

- education, work, and family background,
- current and prior offense history,
- physical and mental health and treatment received,
- drug and alcohol use before admission to jail, and
- experiences in jail and use of jail programs.

I will enter your answers into the laptop.

Within the next 5 years, the Bureau of Justice Statistics may combine your answers with information other government agencies already have about you. This might include information about your:

- employment and income,
- criminal records, and
- benefits you might have gotten from government programs.

Adding this information cuts down on the number of questions I ask today. We will only use this information to produce statistics. Your information will be combined with the information from all other inmates in the study.

Confidentiality

There are laws that protect confidentiality of your answers, 34 U.S.C. § 10231 and Title 13. This study is also covered by the privacy certification requirements of 28 C.F.R. § 22.23. This means that your answers and any personally identifiable information we collect will be kept private and confidential. I will not ask you questions if I think someone can overhear your answers. We will not share your answers with anyone at this jail, a supervision officer, employer, or anyone else from the community. Nothing you tell me during the interview can be used in any legal action. All information will be kept secure.

A dataset of all the answers provided by inmates will be created and used for research in the field of criminal justice. The dataset will not include your name or other personal identifiers. It is a federal crime for anyone on the project team to release your confidential information.

Attachment 8. Informed Consent

The only exceptions to our promise of confidentiality include if you tell me that you plan to seriously harm yourself or a specific person, plan to commit a future crime, or have had sexual contact with another inmate or correctional staff. In these cases, I may need to inform officials at this jail or authorities outside the jail who are responsible for protecting jail inmates.

Voluntary Participation

This is a voluntary survey. If you choose not to participate, or if you begin the survey and decide to stop before the end, the terms or length of your confinement will not be affected, and you will not lose any benefits or services that you now receive or might receive in the future. Whether you participate will not affect your legal status, your relationship with this facility, or any decisions regarding your release from this facility in any way.

Possible Risks or Discomforts

Some of the questions are personal or ask about past behaviors that may have been illegal. These questions may make you feel uncomfortable or upset. You can skip any questions you do not want to answer or you can stop the interview at any time. I will not ask you questions if I think someone can overhear your answers.

Benefits

You will not receive any direct benefits for participating in this study, but the results of the study may be used by policymakers to improve how jails across the nation address different issues such mental health conditions among jail inmates across the nation, as well as those who will be released. If you do not take part, you will not lose any benefits or services that you now receive or might receive in the future.

Further Questions

If you have any questions about the project, you may write to the Survey of Inmates in Local Jails at U.S. Census Bureau, <<Address>>. If you have questions about your rights as a project participant, you can write to Census Bureau's XXXXX XXXXXX at the same address.

Refusal Conversion Script

INTERVIEWER:

AFTER READING THE CONSENT FORM:

Do you have any questions about the study at this time? RESPOND IN ACCORDANCE WITH TRAINING.

If you agree to take part, I'll begin the interview.

IF AGREES, CODE CONSENT STATUS IN CASE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM, PROVIDE RESPONDENT WITH STANDARD CONSENT FORM, AND BEGIN INTERVIEW.

IF INITIAL REFUSAL:

IF STANDARD SILJ TECHNIQUES ARE SUCCESSFUL, CODE CONSENT STATUS IN CASE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM AND BEGIN INTERVIEW. PROVIDE RESPONDENT WITH STANDARD CONSENT FORM.

IF STANDARD TECHNIQUES ARE NOT SUCCESSFUL, AS FINAL EFFORT TO ELICIT PARTICIPATION, OFFER OPT-OUT OPTION.

I understand that you don't want to take part in the study as I've described it. Because you represent many other inmates, it's important to learn what we can about your experiences. And if you would be willing to participate in just part of the study, you can still help us identify ways to improve things for inmates in the future and those who return to the community.

If you agree, you can do the interview and allow us to combine your answers with just your current criminal record to save time. And I can promise that we will not review your future criminal records or get information about you from any other government agencies for additional research purposes.

If you agree to that, I can begin the interview.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Todd D. Minton
Statistician, Corrections Statistics Unit
Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS)

FROM: Cheryl Crawford Watson, JD
Chair
Office of Justice Programs (OJP) Institutional Review Board (IRB)

DATE: April 04, 2024

PROTOCOL #: 2024-1

SUBJECT: Determination of Exemption from IRB Review for BJS Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ)

Thank you for submitting your application for exemption for the SILJ to the OJP IRB. We appreciate your work in completing the application, and your efforts in responding to the OJP IRB's follow-up questions. The SILJ application for exemption was evaluated considering the federal regulations that govern the protection of human subjects and confidentiality of information.

BJS has submitted a memorandum dated February 05, 2024 from you to me describing the project and requesting exemption from IRB review. The SILJ survey collects information on individual characteristics of jail inmates, current offenses and detention status, characteristics of victims, criminal histories, family background, gun possession and use, prior drug and alcohol use and treatment, medical and mental health history and treatment, vocational programs and other services provided while in jails, as well as other personal characteristics. Data is collected periodically (last collected in 2002) through personal interviews with a nationally representative sample of 10,000 inmates age 18 and older held in 600 local (county and city) jails. That memorandum proposed that the SILJ merits exemption from IRB review based on 28 C.F.R. § 46.101(b)(3), as reproduced below, in light of the statutory confidentiality protections of both 13 U.S.C. § 9 (Census Bureau) and 34 U.S.C. §10231(a) (OJP).

Specifically, 28 C.F.R. § 46.101(b)(3) identifies the following category of research activities that is exempt from IRB review:

“Research involving the use of educational tests (cognitive, diagnostic, aptitude, achievement), survey procedures, interview procedures, or observation of public behavior that is not exempt under paragraph (b)(2) of this section, if:

- (i) The human subjects are elected or appointed public officials or candidates for public office; or
- (ii) Federal statute(s) require(s) without exception that the confidentiality of the personally identifiable information will be maintained throughout the research and thereafter.”

Under its terms, for a confidentiality statute to trigger the 46.101(b)(3) exemption, it must ensure confidentiality “without exception.” I note that, in respect to the confidentiality statute covering the Department of Commerce, a number of exceptions are expressly stated. Title 13 U.S.C. § 9(a) currently reads:

“Neither the Secretary, nor any other officer or employee of the Department of Commerce or bureau or agency thereof, or local government census liaison, may, except as provided in section 8 or 16 or chapter 10 of this title or section 210 of the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1998 or section 2(f) of the Census of Agriculture Act of 1997.-

- (1) use the information furnished under the provisions of this title for any purpose other than the statistical purposes for which it is supplied; or . . .”

In the view of the OJP’s Office of the General Counsel (OGC), these exceptions disqualify 13 U.S.C. § 9 from meeting the requirement in 46.101(b)(3) that the statute operate to protect confidentiality without exception.

In contrast, the confidentiality statute governing OJP (34 U.S.C. §10231(a)) does not include any express exceptions. It reads, in relevant part:

“No officer or employee of the Federal Government, and no recipient of assistance under the provisions of this chapter shall use or reveal any research or statistical information furnished under this chapter by any person and identifiable to any specific private person for any purpose other than the purpose for which it was obtained in accordance with this chapter.”

OJP’s OGC has concluded that 34 U.S.C. § 10231(a) provides sufficient confidentiality protection to trigger the 46.101(b)(3) exemption.

The OJP IRB has determined that:

- 1. The SILJ meets the definition of “research” as presented in 28 C.F.R. § 46.102(d),
- 2. The SILJ involves “human subjects” as that term is defined in 28 C.F.R. § 46.102(f),
- 3. The SILJ involves “interview procedures” as referenced in 28 C.F.R. § 46.101(b)(3), and
- 4. The Federal statute, 34 U.S.C. § 10231(a), requires without exception that the confidentiality of the personally identifiable information will be maintained throughout the research and thereafter.

Based on these determinations, the OJP IRB concludes that the SILJ is exempt from further IRB review. If the text of 34 U.S.C. § 10231(a) should be amended in the future, please contact the OJP IRB to determine the appropriate next steps.

A goal of the IRB is to protect human subjects in the conduct of research and prevent negative outcomes from occurring during any research study. However, despite best intent, unforeseen circumstances or events may occur during the process of data collection. If an unexpected circumstance arises or an adverse event occurs, please notify the OJP IRB as soon as possible so that we may work with you toward a successful resolution.

The IRB also had the suggestion to clarify the age ranges on the SILJ form and you have done that.

Please refer to the protocol number 2024-1 in all communication or correspondence related to this application and determination of exemption.

Should you have any additional questions, please contact me at by phone at 202-305-5907 or via email at ojpirb@usdoj.gov

Dear <<Title>> <<Last Name>>,

I am writing to ask for your assistance with the 2024 Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ). The SILJ is the only national source of detailed information on the characteristics of jail inmates. The enclosed brochure provides a general overview of the SILJ, why we are conducting the survey, who participates, when the study will begin, and how the data will be used.

Your facility, <<Facility>>, has been randomly selected for inclusion. BJS has partnered with the U.S. Census Bureau to collect the data for SILJ.

The U.S. Census Bureau will contact you shortly through email to request access to a liaison from your office for the survey. The Census Bureau will work with the liaison to coordinate logistics for the data collection. We will work diligently with your facility to ensure the survey has the smallest practicable impact on operations.

The interviews will occur over several days and you will be asked to provide a roster of inmates housed in your facility at the time of the data collection to support inmate selection. Each interview will take approximately 70 minutes and will include questions about the inmate's individual characteristics, current offense, criminal history, family background, medical and mental health history and treatment, inmate misconduct, and participation in jail programs.

All data collected under BJS's authority are protected under the confidentiality provisions of 34 U.S.C. § 10132, and any person who violates these provisions may be punished by a fine up to $10,000, in addition to any other penalties imposed by law. For more information, see the BJS Data Protection Guidelines at https://bjs.ojp.gov/document/bjs_data_protection_guidelines.pdf.

BJS and the Census Bureau would like to thank you and your staff for your effort in support of the SILJ survey. If you have any questions, please contact Todd Minton, the BJS Project Manager, at Todd.Minton@usdoj.gov or 202-598-7226.

APRIL 2024

For the seventh time since 1972, the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) is planning to conduct the Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ) in November 2024. The survey is administered by the U.S. Census Bureau for BJS. The SILJ is the only national source of detailed information on the characteristics of jail inmates, including special populations such as drug and alcohol users, mentally ill inmates, and inmates at different stages of the criminal justice process.

What information will the SILJ collect?

The SILJ consists of in-person interviews of inmates in the custody of local (county and city) jails. BJS uses the self-report data collected through the SILJ to examine jail populations over a variety of domains, including information on the inmates':

- education, work experience, military service, family background, and citizenship status
- current charges and prior criminal history
- physical and mental health conditions and treatment received
- drug and alcohol use before admission to jail
- experiences in jail and use of jail programs.

Who participates and when will the 2024 SILJ begin?

BJS randomly selected 600 jails varying in size and demographic makeup to participate in the study. Over several days in each facility, the 70-minute survey will be administered to a nationally representative sample of 10,000 inmates across the 600 jails, using Computer Assisted Personal Interviewing (CAPI). The CAPI instrument was pretested successfully in 2023 with a sample of 169 inmates in five local jails. Data collection will likely occur in your jail between November 2024 and February 2025. BJS and the U.S. Census Bureau will work with you to schedule a timeframe that works best for their facility.

Why should jails participate?

The SILJ collects data that cannot be obtained in any other way, and the success and accuracy of the survey depend on your participation. No other source of data provides detailed national information on who is held in local jails—their offenses, their sentences, their prior criminal involvement, and their prior use of drugs and alcohol. The survey allows practitioners to compare their facilities, their inmates, and their special circumstances with those from jails across the United States. It provides representative data to federal, state, and local policymakers. Data from past surveys have been used by Congress to monitor trends, develop legislation, and assess the legislative impact of law enforcement initiatives.

How will the data be used?

BJS may only use the data for statistical and research purposes [34 U.S.C. § 10134]. BJS will use these data to publish national-level information in a series of special reports, statistical briefs, statistical tables, and other products on issues relevant to jail inmates, such as:

- substance use and treatment
- mental health problems and treatment
- co-occurring mental health and substance use issues
- medical problems
- firearms use during crime
- veterans in jail
- access to legal representation
- inmate misconduct
- monetary sanctions (court costs, fees, fines, restitution, and other financial liabilities related to contact with the justice system)
- characteristics of inmates' victims.

Consistent with its statistical mission, BJS will make SILJ microdata available to researchers, professionals, and other users for secondary analysis purposes, subject to strong confidentiality protections and applicable federal law. BJS archives its published data at its official criminal justice data archive, currently the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data, to facilitate and encourage criminal justice research. Prior SILJ studies are widely cited in external publications. (See <https://www.icpsr.umich.edu/web/ICPSR/series/69>.)

All data submitted for archiving undergo a comprehensive disclosure risk assessment to determine the appropriate level of access and protection needed to protect confidentiality. BJS and its archive operate strict controls and apply robust safeguards to mitigate potential privacy risks. BJS adheres to the Standard Application Process to accept and review applications for its restricted data [OMB Memorandum M-23-04, available at <https://www.whitehouse.gov/wp-content/uploads/2022/12/M-23-04.pdf>]. More information about NACJD and its archiving practices can be found at <https://www.icpsr.umich.edu/web/pages/NACJD/index.html>.

How will the data be protected?

BJS will protect the privacy and confidentiality of inmate data to the fullest extent under federal law [34 U.S.C. § 10231]. Any person who violates these provisions may be punished by a fine of up to $10,000, plus other penalties. Per the Federal Cybersecurity Enhancement Act of 2015, data are further protected from cybersecurity risks through screening of the systems that transmit BJS data. More information about the various authorities that govern BJS data is available in the BJS Data Protection Guidelines at https://bjs.ojp.gov/sites/g/files/xyckuh236/files/media/document/bjs_data_protection_guidelines.pdf.

How can I find out more about the SILJ?

Dear <<Salutation>> <<ContactLastName>>:

Last week you should have received a letter (Survey of Inmates in Local Jails \(SILJ\), 2024-2025 | Bureau of Justice Statistics \(ojp.gov\)) from Kevin M. Scott, Acting Director of the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) regarding the Bureau's research effort to conduct the 2024 Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ) at the <<Facility>>. I know that you have many responsibilities and priorities and truly appreciate your time and effort to allow BJS and Census Bureau (BJS data collection agent) to conduct this study in your facility.

This data collection is key to the success of BJS's effort to disseminate comprehensive national data on jail inmates, and vital to understanding the changing correctional populations and policy relevant subjects. SILJ is the only national source of detailed information on the characteristics of jail inmates.

Our current point of contact for data collection in your facility is <<Facility POC>>. Is this correct, or should we reach out to a different individual to coordinate logistic planning?

BJS and Census Bureau thank you in advance for your participation and look forward to working together. If you have questions, please reach out to the Census Bureau <<Phone>> or <<Email>>. If you have any general comments, please contact the BJS Program Manager, <<BJS Contact>> at <<Phone>> or <<Email>>.

Sincerely,

[IF CALL RINGS TO A GATEKEEPER]

Hello, this is <<Census Bureau Contact>> calling on behalf of the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) in the U.S. Department of Justice regarding the 2024 Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ). I am following up on the data collection invitation that was sent addressed to <<Annual Survey of Jails/Census of Jails Contact>>. May I speak with <<Annual Survey of Jails/Census of Jails Contact>>?

[IF CALL REACHES POC]

Hello, this is <<Census Bureau Contact>> calling on behalf of the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) in the U.S. Department of Justice regarding the 2024 Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ). I wanted to follow up with you to confirm that you received the invitation to participate in the 2024 Survey of Inmates in Local Jails.

[IF RESPONDENT RECEIVED THE INVITATION]

Does your facility agree to participate in the 2024 Survey of Inmates in Local Jails?

[IF AGENCY SAYS THEY INTEND TO PARTICIPATE]

Thank you for agreeing to participate. As a next step, we would like to schedule a time to speak with you, so we can answer any questions you may have, and to collect some preliminary information that will help us prepare for the study. After this call, I will email you with information regarding logistic planning.

[IF QUESTIONS ABOUT THE SURVEY]

- The purpose of the SILJ is to conduct inmate interviews and collect information on their individual characteristics, current offense, detention status, criminal history, family background, prior drug and alcohol use and treatment, medical and mental health history and treatment, inmate misconduct, and participation in jail programs.
- BJS randomly selected 600 jails varying in size and demographic makeup to participate in the study. Over several days in each facility, we expect to administer the # minute survey to a nationally representative sample of 10,000 inmates across the 600 selected jails, using a computer assisted personal interview (CAPI) instrument.
- The information will be used only to publish national-level information in a series of special reports, statistical briefs, and statistical tables by BJS.

[IF RESPONDENT DID NOT RECEIVE THE INVITATION]

Let me review the contact information we have on file for your agency and re-send the information. [REVIEW E-MAIL ADDRESS AND MAILING ADDRESS.]

[IF AGENCY SAYS THEY DO NOT INTEND TO PARTICIPATE]

- Because the survey is intended to be nationally representative and unbiased, we need each of the selected jails to participate. We cannot substitute sites and still have a representative sample. The accuracy of the survey depends on 100% participation by all of the selected sites.
- The survey collects data that simply cannot be obtained in any other way. There is no other source of data that provides detailed national information on who is held in local jails-- their offenses, their sentences, their prior criminal involvement, their prior use of drugs and alcohol.

- The survey allows practitioners to compare their facilities, their inmates, and their special circumstances with those from jails all across the U.S. It provides representative data to federal, state, and local policymakers.
- In developing the survey, we worked closely with representatives of the American Jail Association, as well as other jail practitioners, to accurately address a wide range of issues. Should you wish, I can ask some of them to call you and discuss their views on the importance of this survey.

[IF REFUSAL REVERSAL AND AGENCY SAYS THEY INTEND TO PARTICIPATE]

Thank you for agreeing to participate. As a next step, we would like to schedule a time to speak with you, so we can answer any questions you may have, and to collect some preliminary information that will help us prepare for the study. After this call, I will email you with information regarding logistic planning.

Attachment 16. Refusal Reversal

Subject: 2024 Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ) – Survey Participation: Refusal Reversal

Dear <<Salutation>> <<ContactLastName>>:

I am writing to you to request that you reconsider participating in our national Survey of Inmates in Local Jails, scheduled to begin November 2024. The survey collects data that simply cannot be obtained in any other way. There is no other source of data that provides detailed national information on who is held in local jails-- their offenses, their sentences, their prior criminal involvement, their prior use of drugs and alcohol. In developing the survey, we worked closely with representatives of the American Jail Association, as well as other jail practitioners, to accurately address a wide range of issues. Should you wish, I can ask some of them to call you and discuss their views on the importance of this survey.

The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) is strongly committed to the success of this survey effort. Since 1983, when BJS first began tracking the U.S. jail population, the number of inmates in local jails has tripled from 223,500 to 663,100 at midyear 2022. Other than what administrators learn from the day-to-day operation of their facilities, the inmate surveys have provided invaluable information on the potential causes of this dramatic growth and the impact such growth has had nationwide.

The survey allows practitioners to compare their facilities, their inmates, and their special circumstances with those from jails all across the U.S. It provides representative data to federal, state, and local policymakers. Data from past surveys have been used by Congress to monitor trends, develop legislation, and assess the legislative impact of law enforcement initiatives. As a measure of the usefulness of our collections, the BJS website received over 500,000 hits in 2023, about quarter searching for jail related data. Additionally, BJS received more than a thousand emails and telephone requests for information, and requests for corrections data comprised over one-third of the total.

In prior years, the self-report data collected through SILJ have been used by BJS to examine the jail population over a variety of domains and issues and assess trends in the population over time. BJS has reported (<https://bjs.ojp.gov/data-collection/survey-inmates-local-jails-silj>) SILJ results in numerous statistical products on a range of topics, such as:

- Profile of Jail Inmates, 2002 (NCJ 201932)
- Substance Dependence, Abuse, and Treatment of Jail Inmates, 2002 (NCJ 209588)
- Mental Health Problems of Prison and Jail Inmates (NCJ 213600)
- Medical Problems of Jail Inmates (NCJ 210696)
- DWI Offenders Under Correctional Supervision (NCJ 172212)
- Veterans in Prison or Jail (NCJ 178888)

Attachment 16. Refusal Reversal

Because the survey is intended to be nationally representative and unbiased, we need each of the selected jails to participate. We cannot substitute sites and still have a representative sample. The accuracy of the survey depends on 100% participation by all of the selected sites. Based on preliminary estimates, about <<Number of inmates>> in the <<Facility>> would be selected for an interview. The # minute interviews, conducted by a professional Census field representative, would take about <<Number of Days>> days to complete. Our interviewers have conducted interviews through cell doors and in hallways, recreation areas, staff offices, areas reserved for visitors or attorneys, and other areas. The Census Bureau staff are instructed to follow all facility rules and will not disrupt jail operations.

The information gathered in this survey is very important, and we need your participation for a successful collection. If you have any questions about the survey, please feel free to call me at <<Unit Chief Phone Number>>. If you will permit us to conduct the survey in your jail, please email me at <<Unit Chief Email>>.

Sincerely,

<<Unit Chief Name>>, Chief
Jails and Community Corrections Statistics Unit

Attachment 17. Welcome Email and Logistic Planning

<<Facility POC>>,

Thank you for agreeing to participate in the 2024 Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ). Your participation will be extremely valuable to the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) effort to disseminate comprehensive national data on jail inmates. I'm << Census Bureau Contact >> from the U.S. Census Bureau. We are contracted from BJS to be their data collection agent.

As a next step, we would like to schedule a time to speak with you, so we can answer any questions you may have, and to collect some preliminary information that will help us prepare for the field visit to conduct the national study. Some of the items we would like to discuss with you include:

1. What is the clearance process for conducting interviews in your jail?
 - a. How soon should we start the process?
 - b. Are there restrictions for interviewers/staff from out-of-state?
 - c. How long does the clearance process usually take?
2. Are there COVID-19 protocols we should be aware of?
3. Are there gender restrictions for interviews? (Can a male interviewer conduct interviews with females and vice versa?)
4. Is there a need for bilingual interviewers (Spanish)?
5. Where would the interviews take place? (We need private space to conduct interviews.)
6. How would laptop/tablet use and technology to transfer data be governed? Is there an outlet available that we could use to charge our laptops?
7. Identifying the number of days and hours interviews are conducted. Would we be able to stay an extra day to conduct interviews (if necessary)?
8. We have show cards that are used during the survey that include a list of available responses. Will we be permitted to give inmates show cards that they can access during the survey?
9. Will we be permitted to give inmates copies of consent forms prior to doing the survey?
10. Can we access a list of inmates that will be incarcerated at the time of the field visit ahead of time?
11. Are there any facility rules we should be aware of?

We intend to start inmate interviews in November 2024. Once we are able to collect information about the questions listed above, we can begin the process of preparing for the study in your facility. We want to ensure that we are able to collect the information we need with minimal disruption to you and the facility in which we are conducting the interviews.

Please let us know a good date and time to connect. We appreciate your time and support. If you have any questions, please contact me at <<Phone>> or <<Email>>.

Sincerely,

<<Census Bureau Contact>>

Dear <<Title>> <<Last Name>>,

Thank you for your recent participation in the Bureau of Justice Statistics' 2024 Survey of Inmates in Local Jails (SILJ). The commitment of Sheriff's and Jail Administrators and staff across the nation in supporting this data collection to measure and better understand the changes in the nation's jail population has been remarkable.

The Bureau of Justice Statistics worked with many practitioners and researchers in developing the instrument and protocols for the survey. We hope your staff found the process to be well organized and efficient. Data collection will be followed by a period of data cleaning, weighting, and analysis. We anticipate beginning to release findings from the study starting in late 2025.

Thank you again for your assistance. We welcome any feedback you might have about the experience. Please feel free to contact <<BJS Contact>>, BJS's SILJ Project Manager, at <<Email>> or <<Phone>>. <<S/he>> can also be contacted for more information about future 2024 SILJ reports.
