

taxation would impede Tribal economic growth).

Similar to BIA's surface leasing regulations, Tribal regulations under the HEARTH Act pervasively cover all aspects of leasing. See 25 U.S.C. 415(h)(3)(B)(i) (requiring Tribal regulations be consistent with BIA surface leasing regulations). Furthermore, the Federal government remains involved in the Tribal land leasing process by approving the Tribal leasing regulations in the first instance and providing technical assistance, upon request by a Tribe, for the development of an environmental review process. The Secretary also retains authority to take any necessary actions to remedy violations of a lease or of the Tribal regulations, including terminating the lease or rescinding approval of the Tribal regulations and reassuming lease approval responsibilities. Moreover, the Secretary continues to review, approve, and monitor individual Indian land leases and other types of leases not covered under the Tribal regulations according to 25 CFR part 162.

Accordingly, the Federal and Tribal interests weigh heavily in favor of preemption of State and local taxes on lease-related activities and interests, regardless of whether the lease is governed by Tribal leasing regulations or 25 CFR part 162. Improvements, activities, and leasehold or possessory interests may be subject to taxation by the Yocha Dehe Wintun Nation, California.

Bryan Newland,

Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs.

Abstract: Various laws, statutes, and regulations, to include the Volunteers in the Parks Act of 1969 (54 U.S.C. 102301), Public Lands Corps Act (16 U.S.C. 1721 et seq.), the Outdoor Recreation Authority (16 U.S.C. 4601), Volunteers in the National Forests Program (16 U.S.C. 558 a-d), and the Forest Foundation Volunteers Act (16 U.S.C. 583j), authorize Federal land management agencies to work with volunteers, youth, and partner organizations to plan, develop, maintain, and manage projects and service activities on public lands and adjacent projects throughout the nation. We use volunteers, youth programs, and partnerships to aid in disaster response, interpretive functions, visitor services, conservation measures and development, research and development, recreation, and or other activities as allowed by an agency's policy and regulations. Providing, collecting, and exchanging written and electronic information is required from potential and selected program participants of all ages so they can access opportunities and benefits provided by agencies guidelines. Those under the age of 18 years must have written consent from a parent or guardian to participate in volunteer activities.

These forms, available for prospective volunteers to complete electronically or as paper forms, serve two functions:

Recruiting potential volunteers, and Formalizing agreements between current volunteers and the agencies with which they are volunteering.

The customer relationship management web-based portal, Volunteer.gov, is the agencies' response to meeting the public's request for improved digital customer services to access and apply for engagement opportunities. Under one security platform parameter, the Volunteer.gov website provides prospective and current program participants the ability to establish an account for electronic submission of program applications and to obtain status of applications and enrollments. Current functionality provides information digitally on benefits and requirements and facilitates improved tracking of volunteer service hours. As field level programs transition to using Volunteer.gov, these data points may be tracked either manually or digitally and are accessible from agency volunteer program coordinators.

This information collection specifically minimizes the burden on the respondents. While electronic records provide a means to streamline data collection and allow participant access to track benefits and control the sharing of their data, the participating agencies will continue to provide accessible paper versions of the volunteer forms upon request and in special circumstances where the digital alternative is not possible.

Participating Agencies

Department of the Interior: All Interior offices and units, including National Park Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Reclamation, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, and U.S. Geological Survey.

Department of Agriculture: U.S. Forest Service and Natural Resources Conservation Service.

Department of Defense: U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Department of Commerce: National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration—Office of National Marine Sanctuaries.

Common Forms

Form OF-301—Volunteer Application: Individuals interested in volunteering may access the Volunteer.gov website to complete an on-line application on the Volunteer.gov website. Alternatively, they may contact any agency listed above to request a Volunteer Application (Form OF-301). We collect the following information from applicants via Form OF-301:

- Name and contact information (address, telephone number, and email address);
- Date of birth;
- Preferred work categories;
- Interests;
- Citizenship status;
- Available dates and preferred location;
- Physical limitations; and
- Lodging preferences.

Information collected using this form or Volunteer.gov assists agency volunteer coordinators and other personnel in matching volunteers with agency opportunities appropriate for an applicant's skills, physical condition, and availability.

Form OF-301A—Volunteer Service Agreement: We use this form to establish agreements for volunteer services between Federal agencies and individual or group volunteers, to include eligible international volunteers. We require the signature of parents or guardians for all applicants under 18 years of age. We collect the following information from volunteers via Form OF-301A:

- Name and contact information (address, telephone number, and email address);
- Date of birth (proposed new data field);
- Citizenship information; and,
- Emergency contact information.

Form OF-301A describes the service a volunteer will perform, and asks a volunteer to confirm their understanding of the purpose of the volunteer program, their fitness and ability to perform the duties as described, and whether they consent to being photographed.

Form OF-301B—Volunteer Group Sign-up: We use this form to document awareness and understanding by adult individuals in groups about the volunteer activities between a Federal agency and a partner organization with group participants, and accompanies the Form OF-301a. We collect the following information from volunteers via Form OF-301b:

- Name and contact information (address, telephone number, and email address);
- Month and year of birth;
- Confirmation of understanding of the purpose of the volunteer program;
- Fitness and ability to perform the duties as described; and
- Whether they consent to being photographed.

Each participating agency must request OMB approval of, and report their own burden associated with, the use of common forms OF-301, OF-301A, and OF-301B in order to be authorized to participate in this information collection. Interior will not assume the burden for any agencies other than its own bureaus and offices that participate in the volunteer program.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

[Investigation No. 731–TA–1189 (Second Review)]

Large Power Transformers From South Korea

Determination

On the basis of the record¹ developed in the subject five-year review, the United States International Trade Commission (“Commission”) determines, pursuant to the Tariff Act of 1930 (“the Act”), that revocation of the antidumping duty order on large power transformers from South Korea would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to an industry in the United States within a reasonably foreseeable time.

Background

The Commission instituted this review on September 1, 2023 (88 FR 60496) and determined on December 5, 2023 that it would conduct a full review (88 FR 87457, December 18, 2023). Notice of the scheduling of the Commission's review and of a public hearing to be held in connection therewith was given by posting copies

¹ The record is defined in § 207.2(f) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (19 CFR 207.2(f)).
