TITLE OF INFORMATION COLLECTION: NASA’s Data Steward Community of Practice (CoP) Feedback Survey

PURPOSE:

NASA’s Data Steward Community of Practice (CoP) was established in order to engage members across the NASA community and support the future launch of the Data Stewardship Service Offering across NASA. The Data Stewardship Role & Member Profile Self-Identification Survey has been developed in order to understand our members of the community in order to better engage them and provide them with future engagement opportunities. This optional Microsoft Forms survey for the CoP members will help provide insight into the members of the CoP and across the Agency, and ultimately help support the community at large. All questions are revolved around the roles of the members (i.e. if they identify as a Data Steward, what they do in their respective role) and engagement opportunities (i.e. how they prefer to be engaged, how involved they would like to be, etc.).

DESCRIPTION OF RESPONDENTS:

NASA Data Steward Community of Practice (CoP) participants (civil servants and contractors) who volunteer to take the survey.
