supervised institution certain personal securities trading activity. There is no change in the methodology or substance of this information collection. The decrease in total estimated annual burden from 8,583 hours in 2021 to 8,216 hours currently is due to a

General Description of Collection: Section 42 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act mandates that an insured depository institution closing a branch notify its primary Federal regulator not later than 90 days prior to the closing. The statute also provides that a notice be posted on the premises of the branch for the 30-day period immediately prior to the closing and that the customers be notified in a mailing at least 90 days prior to the closing. Each insured depository institution that has one or more branches is required to adopt a written policy for branch closings. There is no change in the methodology or substance of this information collection. The increase in total estimated annual burden from 1,738 hours in 2021 to 1,795 hours currently is due to an increase in estimated number or respondents.

3. Title: Notice of Branch Closure.

OMB Number: 3064-0124.

Form Number: None.

Affected Public: Insured depository institutions.

SUMMARY OF ESTIMATED ANNUAL BURDEN (OMB No. 3064-0124)

Source: FDIC.

General Description of Collection: This information collection consists of two parts: (1) a certification that insured depository institutions provide the FDIC when all deposit liabilities from one insured depository institution are assumed from another insured depository institution, with the latter institution responsible for providing the certification; and (2) a notification that an insured depository institution provides to its depositors when it seeks to voluntarily terminate its insured status. The certification is necessary to implement the provisions of section 8(q) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1818(q), regarding termination of the insured status of the transferring institution and termination of the separate deposit insurance coverage provided on deposit accounts assumed by the assuming institution. The depositor notification is required by section 8(a)(6) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1818(a)(6). This provision ensures that the institution's depositors receive appropriate information regarding the institution's intent to terminate its insured status and that, prior to the termination of the institution's insured status, depositors receive appropriate information concerning Federal deposit insurance coverage of their accounts once the institution's insured status is terminated. There is no change in the methodology or substance of this information collection. The decrease in total estimated annual burden from 256 in 2021 to 186 currently is due to a change in the estimated number or respondents.

General Description of Collection:
Upon the failure of an FDIC-insured depository institution, the FDIC is required to pay insured deposits as soon as possible. To do so, the FDIC must be able to quickly determine the total insured amount for each depositor. To make this determination, the FDIC must ascertain the balances of all deposit accounts owned by the same depositor in the same ownership capacity at a failed institution as of the day of failure. The FDIC issued a regulation (12 CFR 360.9) to modernize the process of determining the insurance status of each depositor in the event of failure of a covered institution. The regulations enable operations of a large insured depository institution to continue functioning on the day following failure, support the FDIC’s efforts to fulfill its legal mandates regarding the resolution of failed insured deposit institutions, and apply to the largest institutions only ($2 billion in domestic deposits or more). More specifically, the regulations require the largest insured depository institutions to adopt mechanisms that would, in the event of the institution’s failure (1) provide the FDIC with standard deposit account and customer information, and (2) allow the FDIC to place and release holds on liability accounts, including deposits. There is no change in the methodology or substance of this information collection. The decrease in total estimated annual burden from 6,464 hours in 2021 to 5,948 hours currently is due to a decrease in estimated number of respondents.

Source: FDIC.

General Description of Collection: The FDIC’s deposit insurance assessment authority is set forth in section 7 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1817(b) and (c), and promulgated in regulations under 12 CFR part 327. These regulations also set out the process for making adjustments to the total score of these institutions used by the FDIC in making deposit insurance assessments. Depository institutions are permitted to make a written request to the FDIC for an assessment adjustment. An institution is able to request review of, or appeal, an upward adjustment, the magnitude of an upward adjustment, removal of a previously implemented downward adjustment, or an increase in a previously implemented upward adjustment through the FDIC’s internal review process set forth at 12 CFR 327.4(c). An institution can similarly request review of, or appeal, a decision not to apply an adjustment following a request by the institution for an adjustment. An institution can submit its written request for an adjustment to the FDIC’s Director of the Division of Insurance and Research in Washington, DC. In making such a request, the institution will provide support by including evidence of a material risk or risk mitigating factor that it believes was not adequately considered. There is no change in the methodology or substance of this information collection. The decrease in total estimated annual burden from 160 hours in 2021 to 80 hours currently is due to a decrease in estimated number or respondents.
