Section 26 - Foreign Financial Interests and Foreign Benefits

This section asks for information regarding any foreign financial interests or benefits you or your family members have or had in the past five years. Information requested includes what the foreign financial interests or benefits are, their value, and who controls them, as applicable.

For this section:

- Foreign means non-U.S. -- that is, any geographic location not within the 50 U.S. states, the District of Columbia, and the U.S. territories.
- A person has a foreign financial interest in a foreign account if the person is the owner or co-owner of record or has legal title. This applies whether the account is maintained for the person's own benefit or for the benefit of others. Examples of foreign financial interests include foreign (non-U.S.) stocks, bonds, property, investments, bank accounts, ownership of corporate entities, corporate interests or exchange traded funds (ETFs) held in specific geographical or economic sectors. Foreign financial interests do not include financial interests in companies or diversified mutual funds or diversified ETFs that are publicly traded on a U.S. exchange.
- A dependent child is an unmarried child, stepchild, legally adopted child or foster child, or child of a domestic partner who is: 1) younger than 19 years old, 2) at least 19 but less than age 24 years old and who regularly attends an accredited school or college, or 3) permanently and totally disabled -- and, in all 3 cases is primarily dependent on you for support and maintenance.
- For purposes of this form a committed, spouse-like relationship is defined as a relationship between two people who are not in a legally-recognized marriage, union, or domestic partnership, present themselves as a couple, and live together continuously.

Have you or any of the people listed below owned a foreign financial interest in the past five years?

Section 28 - Psychological and Emotional Health

The U.S. government recognizes the importance of the psychological and emotional health of its workforce and advocates proactive involvement with mental health and related services to support the wellbeing and recovery of federal employees and others. Your truthful responses and any information derived from your responses will not be used as evidence against you in a criminal proceeding.

The following questions ask about behavioral and mental health experiences.

Mental health treatment and counseling, in and of itself, is not a reason to revoke or deny eligibility for access to classified information or for holding a sensitive position, suitability or fitness to obtain or retain Federal or contract employment, or eligibility for physical or logical access to federally controlled facilities or information systems. Seeking, undergoing, or continuing behavioral or mental health care is typically associated with good judgment.

Section 29 - Criminal Convictions Resulting in Sentences Over One Year

This section asks for information regarding any criminal convictions that resulted in a sentence of over one year imprisonment and in which you served at least one year of that sentence. This information is needed to determine whether you may be affected by the Bond Amendment, Public Law 110-181 of January 1, 2008, which establishes restrictions on eligibility for access to some types of information (also cited as 50 U.S.C. § 3343).

- Report information even if your record has been expunged, sealed, or otherwise stricken from the court record.
- Report convictions even if you entered a plea of nolo contendere (no contest).
- Nolle Prossed – this is a Latin phrase occasionally used by the court system which means the case against you will no longer be prosecuted or was dismissed by the prosecution.
- Do not report convictions under the Federal Controlled Substances Act for which the court issued an expungement order under the authority of 21 U.S.C. § 844 or 18 U.S.C. § 3607.
- Omit any violation of law committed before your 18th birthday if finally decided in juvenile court or appealed from juvenile court to a higher court and dismissed.

For this section:

- Domestic violence -- is a crime of violence (such as battery or assault) against your child; dependent; current or former spouse; current or former partner from a civil union, domestic partnership, or common law marriage; person you are in a committed, spouse-like relationship with; or, someone with whom you share a child in common. This includes crimes that meet this definition even if the term “domestic violence” is not specifically used in the criminal charge or conviction.
