Dear <<Name>>:

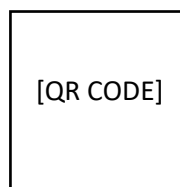

Thank you for completing the National Survey of Drug Use and Health. You were selected to complete the follow-up interview and we hope you will reconsider continuing your participation in this groundbreaking study. A limited number of people were selected to represent the population of the United States, and you are one of them. If you choose not to participate, your experiences and views—as well as the thousands of people you represent—will not be heard.

Completing the follow-up interview will make the information you already provided much more valuable—we cannot replace you with anyone else.

The next interview takes 60 minutes on average. A trained interviewer will ask questions by video teleconference or telephone using a laptop computer. You can be in your home, office, or another private location when you complete the interview. We appreciate that your time is precious and will schedule an interview at a date and time that works best for you.
