11. Describe the purpose of the system.	The National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) Adolescent Brain Cognitive Development (ABCD) Study (ABCD Study) collects feedback from parents/caregivers and adolescents who are peers of the ABCD Study 7th Year Follow Up Study (Study) cohort (similar age, from the racial and ethnic groups represented in the Study). Participants will provide feedback on how the questions, themselves, are written (whether questions are missing potential answer choices or are offensive to specific populations). Insights from these discussions will then be used to refine the questions in the Study protocol.
Accept / Reject Status	Undefined
Question 11 Comment
12. Describe the type of information the system will collect, maintain (store), or share. (Subsequent questions will identify if this information is PII and ask about the specific data elements.)	ABCD Study participants submit the following personally identifiable information (PII): name, email address, and phone number in order to schedule discussions and send/receive consent forms. The collection of this personally identifiable information (PII) is covered under the unique NIH Information Security (INFOSEC) Program general support system (GSS) Contact Info privacy impact assessment (PIA). Actual contact information is managed by the respective Institute or Center (IC), or the NIH Center for Information Technology (CIT), and follows security procedures to secure the platform, and all PII retained, using administrative, technical, and physical controls. Contact information will never be stored with any study records or study data, including eligibility screener data.
